Conviction Reversed on Appeal.

Telephone Company President Granted New Trial by Decision.

Found Guilty of Bribery, His Five-Year Sentence Was Suspended.

Lower Court Erred in Admitting Testimony and Its Instructions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—By a decision of the District Court of Appeals, handed down today, the conviction of Louis Glass, former vice-president and general manager of the Pacific States Telephone Company, found guilty of having offered a bribe to Supervisor Thomas F. Lonergan, to influence his vote in the matter of granting a franchise to the Home Telephone Company, is reversed and a new trial ordered.

The reversal is based upon two points:

First—The admission into evidence of matters pertaining to certain transactions in relation to the Home Telephone Company franchise in Oakland, held by the Circuit judges to be irrelevant, and Second—That Trial Judge William P. Lawlor refused to instruct the jury, as requested by the defense, not to allow the refusal of E. J. Zimmer, an official of the Pacific States Telephone Company, to testify, to influence their minds, nor to view his refusal as an indication that he was withholding evidence which might incriminate the defendant.

The Appellate justices sustain the indictment under which Glass was tried, though in an exhaustive discussion of its text they declare it to be "not a model," while sufficient for its purpose.

The verdict against Glass was brought in August, 1907, and on September 5, 1907, he was sentenced by Judge Lawlor to serve five years in the State penitentiary. The health of the prisoner was very poor and he was liberated on bail on that account, pending the result of his appeal.

The first case against Glass resulted in a mistrial and his conviction followed the second trial.

Since the inception of the bribery-graft investigation in this city, two and a half years ago, four convictions have been obtained, those of Eugene E. Schmitz, former Mayor of the city; M. W. Coffey, a former Supervisor; Abraham Ruef, former political boss, and that of Glass, the only one of the several corporation officials indicted to be found guilty.

With the reversal of the Glass conviction there remain but those of Ruef and Coffey to be acted upon by the Appellate Court, the Schmitz case having been thrown out by that body many months ago on the ground that the indictment was invalid.

Since the conviction of Glass, Lonergan, the man he was charged with having bribed, has died, broken in health and crushed in spirit by the disgrace attached to his name.

EVIDENCE NOT FIGURED.

The decision does not go into the evidence in the case. In commenting upon this the document says:

"Inasmuch as the judgment and order must be reversed for the errors above noted, and the case remanded for another trial, we do not deem it necessary to pass upon this question."

Concerning two of the instructions to the jury asked for by the defendant relative to Zimmer's refusal to testify—one that the jury had no right to form any presumption unfavorable to the defendant on this account, and the other that the jurors should not suppose that any evidence he might have given would be against the defendant, the Appellate Court says:

"Both of these instructions state a correct rule of law."

Following this, the decision quotes a portion of the prosecutor's address to the jury, wherein he alluded to Zimmer, then says:

"This language was well calculated to impress upon the jury that the testimony Zimmer refused to give would have tended to prove the defendant guilty; that his refusal to tell what he knew was 'to protect crime.' No objection appears to have been made to these remarks of the District Attorney, and we only advert to them because they emphasize the necessity that the requested instructions should have been given."

Young Man Marries Dashing Widow of His Dead Father.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ITHACA (N. Y.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Having become infatuated with his stepmother during his college days, Harry G. Beckwith, aged 26, formerly of this city, but now of Chicago, finally won her love, and last Saturday they were married in Chicago.

The news of the marriage leaked out today in this city, despite the strenuous efforts of friends of both parties to keep the affair secret.

Beckwith's bride, who is 38 years of age, and a striking beauty, has been his stepmother for twelve years. She was originally Miss Eleanor Torguson of Albert Lea, Minn.

Soon after Miss Torguson married Dr. George M. Beckwith, they moved to this city, where they lived until the doctor died. Meanwhile young Beckwith, who first became acquainted with his dashing young stepmother when he was 13 years of age, became fascinated by her charms. His father died, and the family broke up. He kept up a correspondence with her.

MARRIAGE OF MILLIONAIRES.

MISS BROWN AND T. SUFFERIN TAILER WEDDED.

Baltimore Nuptials Celebrated in Beautiful Ballrood With Exactness of Church Ceremony—Couple Leave on Honeymoon in Handsome Touring Car Presented to Bride.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the presence of about 150 persons, all prominent in social circles in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore, Miss Harriet Stewart Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brown, was married at 3 o'clock this afternoon to T. Sufferin Tailer of New York.

The ceremony was celebrated in the beautiful ballroom in the town residence of the Browns, and the affair was in the nature of a family party, but the church procedure was followed with great exactness and the guests refrained from extending their congratulations to the couple until the latter, after leaving the improvised chapel, had proceeded to the great drawing-rooms of the Brown home, where they held a reception immediately following the ceremony. Here the company increased to about four hundred and fifty invited guests, who offered their congratulations.

The bride's gown was a simple but handsome creation of soft white satin, made princess with a court train. It was draped with the rare old point lace left the bride by her paternal grandmother to be worn at her wedding. Her lace veil, also an heirloom left by her grandmother, was fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms and caught with a diamond sunburst, the gift of the matron of honor. In her hair the bride wore the exquisite comb and barrette of amber shell studded with diamonds given her by the groom. Instead of a bouquet she carried a prayerbook bound in white and gold, within which was a white ribbon with orange blossom pendants.

The handsome touring car presented to the bride by President Oscar G. Murray of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, drew up in front of the Brown residence soon after 3 o'clock prepared for the trip to Hot Springs, Va., the objective point of the newly-wedded pair.

Notwithstanding the storm the bridal couple adhered to the original plan for an automobile honeymoon trip and the big car was prepared for even the stormiest weather. At about 4:30 o'clock the couple made a dash from the mansion to the auto and a moment later the big car, disregarding the speed law, was sent flying down Madison street.

The first stage of the trip will be to Washington, where the couple will stop tonight and from where they will start tomorrow morning on the second stage of the trip to Hot Springs.

VICTIM OF BOSTON BEANS.

Tetrazzini, Boasting of Digestion, Succumbs to Sunday Morning Breakfast at Hub.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini is a victim of Boston baked beans and Boston brown bread and is ill in her apartments in the Knickerbocker Hotel. Her digestion, which she is proud to say has assimilated every European dish, fell down before Boston beans and brown bread on Sunday morning and as a result she had to delay her trip to Europe.

She was booked to sail this morning on the Mauretania to open the opera season at Covent Garden in London in "La Traviata," April 20, but at the last moment Signor Bazelli, her manager, canceled the passage. Tetrazzini had often told her friends she could eat anything, and some of them told her to beware of Boston. She laughed. After a breakfast of beans and brown bread, she ate a box of sardines later in the day.

BIG COPPER DEAL.

J. P. Morgan and Guggenheims Buy Bonanza Mines of Havemeyer and Schultz.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An important copper deal was concluded late this afternoon when the Alaska Syndicate, composed of J. P. Morgan & Co. and the Guggenheims, acquired all the interests of the Havemeyer estate and Norman Schultz in the enormous copper acreage in Alaska owned by the Bonanza mines. Copper authorities say that the mines have $20,000,000 of ore in sight.

The importance of the sale at this time, when there is great competition between the Guggenheim interests and the Standard Oil syndicate, which controls the Amalgamated Copper Company, lies in the fact that the Bonanza mines are said to be the richest of any in copper. The assertion is made that the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate will be able to produce copper for less than 8 cents a pound. The Bonanza mines are located 180 miles northeast of Valdez, Alaska. A railroad and five steamships are building to enable the syndicate to get out its product.

HER THIRD.

NORDICA TO WED TRUST PRESIDENT, IS REPORT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mme. Lillian Nordica has announced her engagement to George W. Young, president of the Windsor Trust Company, according to a widespread report today.

Inquiry at the country home of Mme. Nordica at Ardsley-on-the-Hudson developed that she is now at Brantford, Canada, and no one at the home would deny or affirm the report.

At the Windsor Trust Company a man who said he was Mr. Young's secretary said he thought there was no truth in the report. Mr. Young was not at his office during the day.

It is known that Mr. Young has been very attentive to the singer, and society has been awaiting the announcement of their engagement for a long time.

Nordica has been twice married. Her first husband, Frederick Gower, was drowned in the English Channel in 1887. She was divorced from Zeltan Dohme, her second husband, in 1904. Mr. Young's wife secured a divorce from him in 1908.

GIRL IN DISTRESS.

PATHETIC PLEA FOR HELP FROM OCEAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, April 14.—After drifting for weeks in the Pacific Ocean, the plaything of the winds and tides, a message purporting to tell of the plight of Rosaline Rockayn, a Denver girl, who came to this city last month, strange to its people and its ways, only to be drugged and carried out to sea by a man who had offered her his services as guide to a boarding-house, washed up on the water front today.

The paper was contained in a bottle which the girl threw from the cabin porthole of her prison ship, trusting that her appeal would reach someone who could inform her relatives and bring about her release.

The message is headed "Pacific Ocean, March 13, 1909."

It begins: "I cast this bottle overboard with the hopes that it will be found. I arrived from the East Thursday, and being a stranger to San Francisco did not know where to find the main part of the city. A gentleman, as I supposed at the time, met me on the water front and asked me if I was looking for some one."

Continuing, the message tells of the kind offer of this man to see the girl safely housed, of his success in persuading her to come aboard a ship to wait until he should be at liberty to go with her, of drugged wine and a deep sleep from which she awoke to find herself a prisoner aboard the vessel far out at sea. The last paragraph reads:

"If you can read this please notify my brother and tell him that Rosaline wants him to try and find her. I don't know the name of the ship. He is coming back. I wish I could jump overboard and it would be all over. Please write to Ned Rockayn, Denver, Colo. This ship is rolling and I am so sick.

"ROSALINE ROCKAYN."

The writing of the message is that of a woman and it was evidently written by a person laboring under great excitement.

There is no mark on the bottle or paper that would serve to identify the ship, but every effort to determine the name of the ship is being made, as the police are convinced the pathetic cry from the ocean is not a hoax. An effort to locate the family in Denver is being made, but without result up to a late hour tonight.

FRENCH STRIKERS MARCH.

MERU (France) April 14.—A general strike of twenty-four hours' duration was inaugurated here today as a protest against the repressive measures taken by the troops during the recent strike of button makers. Workmen are marching throughout the city in column formation, with women and children in the lead.

PROUD FATHER AT THIRTEEN.

WINSTON SALEM (N. C.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An 11-year-old negro girl of Dillard, Stokes county, yesterday gave birth to an eight-pound well-developed girl baby. The father is said to be only 13 years old.

HOUNDS AFTER NIGHT RIDERS.

TRACKING MEN WHO BURNED REBUILT CHURCH.

Members of Congregation Who Have Lost Two Houses of Worship in Six Months Bent on Arrest of Guilty Parties—Indiana Community Is Being Terrorized.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOPKINSVILLE (Ky.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bloodhounds were taken from Hopkinsville to Caldwell county today to be used in tracking persons who last night burned the Goodspring Cumberland Presbyterian Church, three miles from Fredonia. The good work of the dogs and clews obtained will, it is believed, lead to the arrest of the man who is suspected of being a ringleader among the night riders in the Flat Rock vicinity. Exactly six months ago the Goodspring church was burned to the ground. Incendiarism was suspected, but no evidence was secured against any guilty party.

The members of the congregation sawed timber, hauled logs and rebuilt their house of worship on the site. It had been entirely constructed and was ready for the last coat of paint when the torch was applied last night. The church was a frame structure valued at $1000. The Rev. R. A. Moore, the pastor, died only a few days ago.

The fire occurred about 9 o'clock last night, and caused intense indignation in the community. The people here have been outspoken against night rider lawlessness, and their stand, they claim, caused the deed of the incendiaries.

Their evidence will be submitted to the Caldwell county grand jury. Offi- [illegible] Jones and Denton say that a [illegible] number of plant beds have recently been sown with grass seed or scraped in the Goodsprings neighborhood.

"Night riders" are terrorizing land owners and tenants in the vicinity of Harrimans' Ferry, south of Washington, Ind.

William Schrotucke, a large owner in that neighborhood, reported that twenty men on horseback visited all his tenants and informed them that if they paid greater rent than one-third the crop raised their crops would be mowed down before they became ripe.

Thomas Taylor, a wealthy land owner, received by mail a package containing powder and matches, with a warning note of what he might expect if he insisted on one-half crop rental.

A few days ago a stranger entered a store at Ivy and asked the merchant for a reduced price on all the carriage whips in stock. This is taken to mean that the riders intend to administer floggings.

DIAMOND MAKER ARRESTED.

Man Who Secured Money on Pretense Caught in Paris, Fleeing Sentence.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, April 14.—Henry Le Moyne, who gained considerable notoriety last year by trying to prove that he could manufacture diamonds, was arrested here today.

Le Moyne was arrested on charges of securing money from an English diamond mine owner on false pretenses by asserting he could manufacture diamonds. He was placed on trial but fled just before the final hearing. He was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. This was in January, and since then he has been missing.

SUBLIME PORTE.

CRISIS IS PASSED.

New Turkish Cabinet Installed.

Military Situation Will Require Energy for Successful Handling.

Troops Return to Barrack and Stamboul Crowds Retire to Homes.

Revolution of Soldiers and Religious Party Complete Triumph.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—After the stirring events of yesterday and the early part of today in Constantinople, the successful formation of the Cabinet and the issuance of an imperial proclamation ordaining the observance of the Sheri laws and the preservation of the Constitution served to bring about a comparatively peaceful situation here tonight.

The new Cabinet, of which Tewfik Pasha is Grand Vizier, has been installed.

The formation of the Cabinet has greatly relieved the tension. Most of the people passed a sleepless night, owing to the continuous discharge of musketry. Tonight the city is quiet; the troops have returned to their barracks, and the crowds in the Stamboul quarter have retired to their homes.

CONFIDENCE RETURNING.

Confidence is gradually returning, although the military situation will require all the energies of the new government for its successful handling and the promulgation of wise measures so that the army may be placed on a more satisfactory basis.

Fortunately, the new Minister of War, Edhim Pasha, is generally respected and trusted, and it is believed he will restore order.

It is noteworthy that while the revolution of last July was the work of officers, the present movement was carried forward by the soldiers, aided by the religious party. The rising has resulted in the complete obliteration of the Committee of Union and Progress, while many deputies representing the committee group have resigned or remain in their homes.

LOYAL TO SULTAN.

During the whole thrilling episode the salient feature of the revolution was the loyalty of the troops and the people to the Sultan, whose name was frequently acclaimed, and the absence of attacks on the lives and property of citizens.

The new Cabinet discussed the situation tonight. The Grand Vizier and the Sheik Ul Islam arrived at the Porte in state and were cheered by an immense crowd.

The precincts of the Porte were crowded in every part and the hall where the ministry was installed was packed to overflowing.

An imperial order was issued appointing Tewfik Pasha Grand Vizier and confirming Zia Eddin Effendi as Sheik Ul Islam.

It also ordained the strict observance of the Sheri laws and the preservation of the Constitution, "for the maintenance of the security and progress of the government and country and the welfare of all my people."

ASKS DIVINE ASSISTANCE.

The Sultan adds that the observance of the instructions laid down in the order is of the utmost importance and concludes by invoking divine assistance on the efforts of the Grand Vizier and Cabinet, which is composed of elements outside of Parliamentary parties and which generally is considered as transitory and likely to lead eventually to the return of the former Grand Vizier, Kiamil Pasha, and Husband Brings Suit After Long Separation from His Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (O.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a lapse of more than forty years, Paris W. Burnham brought suit for divorce from Abigail Burnham.

The action is based on an alleged occurrence in 1868, three years after their marriage, when the petitioner alleges he saw his wife sitting on the lap of a man named Duffy with her arms entwined about his neck at their home in Syracuse, N. Y.

Duffy was ordered out of the house by Burnham, but his wife refused to let him go, and commanded her spouse to leave. He did at once, and never returned. However, he had never taken steps to secure a legal separation.

Illinois Legislators Are Under Siege.

Jane Addams of Hull House as Leader.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unmasking a battery of smiles and arguments on members of the General Assembly, 1600 members of the Illinois Equal Suffrage lobby invaded the floor of the Illinois Hall of Representatives and the Senate chamber, and sought to enlist legislators in favor of the woman's suffrage bills now pending before the Assembly.

Scarcely a member of either house escaped a feminine request that he add his vote to those pledged to support the cause. Almost every member of the suffrage lobby wore a yellow flower, and a pitcher of yellow tulips adorned the Speaker's table.

Twenty-five members of the equal suffrage lobby addressed the joint meeting of the Street and House committees this afternoon.

Among these were two men, T. C. McMillen, president of the Men's Equal Suffrage League, and Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago. They discussed the men's views of equal suffrage.

Among the women on the programme were Miss Agnes Nester of the International Glove Makers' Union and Mrs. Raymond Robbins, president of the Women's Trade Union League. Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, introduced the speakers.

The women, bringing many children with them, arrived on special trains from all directions last night.

The special from Chicago carried 200 of the brainest and many of the most charming of the sex. Every one of them took along a heavy speech and a light luncheon. Oliver W. Stewart, the State prohibition leader, was the only man on the train except its crew. On both sides of each car was stretched a long canvas placard:

"Women Vote for President and All Other Offices In All Elections On the Same Terms As Men in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho, Why Not in Illinois?"

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MOMBASA, April 14.—A cablegram received here today from Theodore Roosevelt, declining an invitation to attend a public reception and a dinner, makes it evident that he has decided not to stop in Mombasa. There is much disappointment.

Mr. Roosevelt asks in this message that he be met at the pier by his special train and conveyed direct to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Anthi River, where he will be Sir Alfred's guest for the first fortnight of his stay in the protectorate.

The steamer Admiral is expected here, April 21.

At present the monsoon is blowing vigorously. There has been a sudden outbreak of smallpox at Nairobi. Forty deaths have occurred in the quarantine camp, and three cases are reported from Juja ranch, the property of George McMillan, who will be Mr. Roosevelt's host during a portion of his stay in this section.

Maj. J. L. Seaman returned from a hunting trip up-country. He says game is excellent and prospects good. Maj. Seaman is about to leave Uganda on an elephant hunting expedition.

Three lions have been interfering with the night work at the Makindu station on the railroad.

It is believed the plans of the Roosevelt party contemplate Kermit Roosevelt spending a night at this station.

The local authorities have taken measures to strengthen some of the out-stations on the northern boundary of Kenya province, where the inhabitants of the wilderness country north of the protectorate have been showing signs of unrest.

A number of continental business firms have forwarded various presents, including champagne, ammunition, books, etc., to Mr. Roosevelt here. It is not believed Mr. Roosevelt will accept any of them.

JAPAN NOT HOSTILE.

German Insinuation of Dissatisfaction With English Treaty Is Discredited at Tokio.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Japanese publicists do not take seriously German insinuations that Japan is dissatisfied with the Anglo-Japanese alliance and wishes to abrogate it. They believe it does not reflect official views, and that it is pure newspaper invention, intended to alienate English sympathy because of existing Anglo-German differences as to Chinese questions, including the Canton-Hankow Railroad difficulty.

They say visitors to open ports of China doubtless get the idea that Englishmen in the Far East have ceased to regard the alliance with friendly eyes. Japan and everything Japanese are in bad odor there at present, and if the alliance depended upon the votes of the British subjects in these settlements its existence would be brief.

Englishmen in China, it is declared, may feel momentary umbrage in the face of Japanese competition, yet it is merely a transitory phenomenon.

WHEAT CORNER.

PATTEN DENIES HE MANIPULATED MARKET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I never had more than 10,000,000 bushels of May wheat and I have had very little July," said James A. Patten tonight. "There were a great many friends who bought wheat on my advice, who, like myself, have made handsome profits, and they have been advised to take them.

"Our house has sold 10,000,000 bushels of May wheat in the last ten days, and it has been necessary for me to tell my friends that as they were advised to buy the wheat at much lower prices, they must sell now to prevent the market from becoming congested. Even though I have sold wheat and tried to prevent its advance of late, I am abused because the price has gone up.

"I am not manipulating the wheat market; in fact, I have been trying for ten days to keep the price of May wheat from advancing. It is unfortunate that the price of bread has advanced, but it useless to blame me for it any more than it would be to attribute to me the advance in potatoes, which are now the highest in five years. Never in the history of the wheat market has there been similar condition as prevail the world over.

"Consumption has overtaken production and high prices will rule until there is an increase in the acreage and an accumulation of supplies. It is an economic story of supply and demand."

The appeal of Pittsburgh bankers to Secretary of State Knox to take steps to end manipulation of wheat and other markets excited comments today by Mr. Patten, who denied that he controlled the market.

"I'm a grain trader and I don't intend to quit," said Mr. Patten. "I bought when the market looked cheap as did others who accepted my view, and I'm going to sell it at a profit if I can. For three or four years this has been coming. With increasing population here and abroad, it was obvious that sooner or later the crop of one year would be exhausted before a new crop was at hand. Last fall, if not earlier, I saw it coming. I bought wheat and my friends did likewise. The great, unthinking public here and in Europe would not or could not see what was coming.

"If we had not bought wheat—I mean myself and others—the price would have been higher here than it is. Europe would have taken it. I regard it as fortunate that it was an American who first diagnosed crop conditions and took advantage of it.

"This was not philanthropy. I trade to make profits, but this talk of manipulation is all rot."

San Jose Youth Takes Y.W.C.A. Physical Directress for His Bride.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Beulah Main, physical directress of the Young Women's Christian Association of this city and a graduate of a Philadelphia school of physical training, was quietly married last Saturday to Albert Costa, son of a local banker. The wedding was kept quiet and the news did not become known until today, when it created considerable surprise among the many friends of the young couple. They will make their home in this city.

MEMORIAL TO CLEVELAND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—Either a monument on the lake front, or an endowed chair in the University of Chicago may be the tribute of the Cleveland Memorial Association to the memory of Grover Cleveland. Both questions will come up Monday at the directors' meeting.

RIDICULES "BLACK HAND."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—"The Black Hand Society is a myth. No such organization ever existed." So declares Bernard Berasa, a prominent Italian lawyer, and formerly attorney of the Italian Consul here, commenting on the recent alleged "black hand" outrages in this city. He is at the head of a formal movement designed to abolish what he calls a "hoax" on the public. "The thing has gone too far," he says. "It is hurting the Italian people. Matters have got to such a point that when I go into court to try a case before a jury, I have to ask the veniremen whether they are prejudiced against Italians. I find that hundreds of men are. A little questioning brings out the fact that this prejudice is founded on the black hand stories and Italian business men are troubled the same way."

CHRISTIANITY GROWING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement, is here to attend a meeting of the local union. He will lecture tonight at Evansville, Ind. "It affords me great happiness to say that there seems to be a steady gain for Christianity throughout Europe," says Dr. Clark. "I attended a number of conventions of this organization, both in Great Britain and on the continent. Everywhere I was struck with the zeal of its members. This is true in Norway, in Germany and in Spain, no less than in the British Islands."

ASK LIBRARIAN TO QUIT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—A formal request by the Public Library Board has been made upon Frederick H. Hild to resign from the position of librarian of the Chicago public library. The action was taken following the annual executive session. Members of the board said a change of administration was sought because the conclusion had been reached that conditions at the library are not up to standard, and that, with respect to this public institution, Chicago suffered when compared with other cities. Librarian Hild declares the position of the Library Board astounded him. He said that relations between him and various members were cordial, and he had not the slightest notion that his services were not in every way acceptable until he received the sudden request to quit. It is not known what action he will take. Mr. Hild has been librarian since 1887, having succeeded Dr. William F. Poole in that position.

MISSOURI WILL VOTE ON RUM.

Prohibition Amendment Will Be Resubmitted.

Lower House of Legislature Passes Resolution.

Measure Now Up to Senate, Which Is Friendly.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 14.—The lower branch of the Missouri Legislature passed today by a vote of 88 to 51, a resolution to re-submit a prohibition constitutional amendment to the vote of the people at a regular election in November, 1910. The measure is yet to be acted on by the Senate.

As a rule, the Republicans opposed the resolution, while the Democrats, except those from the cities, favored it.

The anti-saloon forces were led by Mrs. Carrie Lee Stokes of Kansas City and Mrs. F. H. Ingalls of St. Louis.

If the amendment is adopted by the voters it will stop the sale of intoxicating liquors in Missouri and will close all saloons, breweries and distilleries in the State.

It is said the Senate is friendly to the resolution. If the Senate votes favorably upon it and the people adopt the amendment it will become effective January 1, 1913.

OHIO RIVER WRECK.

Steamer Virginia Strikes Rock on Stormy Trip and Passengers Are Rescued.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, April 14.—Following a remarkable series of accidents and a tempestuous voyage, the steamer Virginia, from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, was finally wrecked late last night in the Ohio River at Wellsville, O.

The boat, the largest plying the upper Ohio, went down after striking a rock and tearing a large hole in her hull. The passengers, numbering fifty, in a highly nervous condition as a result of minor accidents earlier in the evening, became panic-stricken when the vessel met with the last accident, and it was with difficulty that a crew of seventy-five men restrained them. Although handicapped by darkness, a high wind and drenching rain, the crew managed to place the passengers safely in boats and put them ashore. From here they were taken, scantily clad, to a fire engine house in Wellsville, O., and later to a hotel.

The passengers were brought to this city today by railroad. All came in here, none the worse for their experience, but all of them greatly excited and fatigued.

The Virginia's trip from Cincinnati was without mishap until Wheeling was reached, early last evening. At this point a severe windstorm was encountered, and the big packet was tossed about like a small boat. It was impossible to effect a landing at Wheeling, and the Virginia came towards this city. In a short time the storm abatd and the passengers became quiet in the belief that all danger was past. A majority of them sought their berths.

About 11 o'clock the steamer, which is said to have been leaking badly from an earlier accident, entered the channel here. While yet some distance from shore the steamer struck an obstruction with terrific force. The boat jarred mightily, and the passengers were thrown from their berths. In a moment all were rushing panic-stricken to the saloon of the boat. Baggage and valuables were forgotten. After the excited passengers had reached the saloon they were quickly surrounded by the crew and restrained. Boats were brought into service and before the steamer settled all were safely ashore. Most of the passengers were from southern points.

Mrs. C. H. McCracken of Dodson, Kan., Beats Fifteenth Attempt Within Five Years to Sell Liquor in Her Village—Court Refuses to Issue License After Hearing Evidence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A woman has defeated fifteen attempts in the last five years to place a saloon in the village of Dodson, this county. The woman is Mrs. C. H. McCracken. Her latest victory over the saloon men was achieved yesterday, when the County Court, acting on evidence obtained by her, refused to issue a saloon license to George L. Fox and William Broomfield.

The two men filed with the court recently a petition, signed by 214 taxpayers of the township, for a saloon in Dodson. As soon as Mrs. McCracken heard of it she mounted her horse and rode through the township, procuring signers to a remonstrance against the saloon, and gathering evidence that many of the names signed to the saloon petition were forgeries.

As Mrs. McCracken left the court victorious she said: "As long as I live and am able to travel they will never get a saloon in Dodson."

Two Naval Officers Sentenced to Death in Japanese War Are Set Free.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—Rear-Admiral Gregorieff and Lieut. Symrnoff, subordinate officers under Vice-Admiral Nebogatoff in the Russo-Japanese War, have been pardoned and released from confinement. These officers were sentenced to death for having surrendered their commands, but later their sentences were commuted to ten years' imprisonment in a fortress.

They began serving their sentences in 1907. It is reported that Gen. Stoessel and Vice-Admiral Nebogatoff also will be pardoned shortly.

HOLIDAY TRIP.

PRESIDENT HAS DAY OFF, GOES TO SHOW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—President Taft, on the way to New Haven, to attend a meeting of the Yale Corporation, tomorrow, stopped over in New York tonight as the guest of his brother, Henry W. Taft.

With Mrs. Taft and a number of relatives he attended a performance of "If I Were King" by E. H. Sothern, at Daly's Theater.

Mr. Taft has been putting in many long hours of work since his inauguration and today's brief respite from official duties was decidedly agreeable to him. He usually passes from eight to nine hours a day in the executive offices of the White House and rarely eats luncheon. There are many Federal offices to be filled and much of his time is occupied in listening to recommendations from Senators, Representatives and party leaders as to the fitness of candidates who are being urged for the various places.

President Taft was especially pleased that the problem of choosing a "Summer White House" at last had been solved. As announced from Washington, the new summer capital will be at Woodbury Point, Beverly, Mass.

The President is looking forward with pleasure to playing a great deal of golf on the magnificent links at the Miopa Hunt Club at Hamilton.

He hopes to reach his summer home soon after the first of June. A number of Senate leaders have expressed the opinion that the new tariff bill will be ready for his signature by June 1.

The President still is being strongly urged by western Senators and Representatives to make an extensive trip through the West this summer. Estimates as to the cost of the trip are being made.

WAGNER LOSES LICENSE.

Master of Bark Star of Bengal, Wreck- ed and Many Lives Lost, Blamed by Inspectors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Capt. Nicholas Wagner, master of the bark Star of Bengal, which was wrecked on the Alaskan coast last September, more than a hundred lives being lost, has received word from the Alaskan Board of Inspectors that following a further hearing of his case, his license as master and pilot has been revoked.

Wagner filed an appeal from this judgment with Supervising Inspector Bermingham today.

Capt. Wagner maintains he was not responsible for the loss of his vessel, but the blame should fall on the mas- ters of the tugs Kayak and Hattie Gage, which, he declares, abandoned the Star of Bengal on a lee shore during a heavy blow.

The tugs had towed the ship out to sea and Capt. Wagner filed charges of cowardice against the masters, al- leging they had deserted him at a critical time. These charges were dis- missed by the southern inspectors.

REFUSES TO BE RECALLED.

Mayor Voted Out Brings Suit to Restrain Successor from Coming In.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] C. P. Houston, Mayor of Junction City, refuses to be recalled. He will not allow himself to be smoked out, although the people of his city have officially moved the Mayor's chair out from under him. At a special election just held at Junction City, the recall was invoked, and he was formally fired.

Now Mayor Houston has brought suit in the Circuit Court to restrain Frank Saylor, the proposed new Mayor, and six Councilmen from usurping the prerogatives of the mayoralty of Junction City. He maintains that the recall election was illegal and void. He declares he will fight his removal to the bitter end.

In an interview today, upon filing his suit at Eugene, Mayor Houston said the recall election was started for pure spite work. He says certain people at Junction City wanted to fence city property, and that his refusal to permit it caused the recall petitions to be started.

FOREIGN COAL FOR SOUND.

French Bark Buffon After Roving Seas for Months Gets Australian Cargo.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time in more than a year foreign coal is bound to the Sound by sailing ship. Yesterday the French bark Buffon sailed from Newcastle, Australia, with a full cargo for this port. The Frenchman is due here early in July. The Buffon is under charter to J. and A. Brown. It is understood her cargo is consigned to the Pacific Coast Company.

For six months the Buffon sailed the seas in ballast before she secured a charter. Early last year the vessel carried grain from this Coast to the United Kingdom. No outward cargo offering, her owners sent her to sea in ballast. Leaving Liverpool, July 31, the Buffon made a smart run of ninety-two days to Hobart. She received orders to proceed to Honolulu, where she arrived January 20.

He was removed to the Harbor Hospital, where he now lies.

CHERRY BLOSSOM DREAM.

WHITE BRIDE QUITS JAPANESE HUSBAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dreams of an idyllic incursion into the realms of matrimony in company with S. Shimo, Japanese serving man of this city, with all the enticing allurements of a trip to the balmy Orient and a long summer vacation beneath cloudless skies amid sweet cherry blossoms, were shattered for Mamie Marr, a Seattle girl, in the brief space of thirty days. Mamie Marr became Mrs. S. Shimo, an Oriental's wife, four months ago and she is now an applicant for an absolute decree of divorce.

According to her complaint the girl, who is barely 23 years old, refined, and pretty, wedded the Oriental in this city, December 15, last. Within thirty days, S. Shimo, according to the complaint, sought to drive her into a life of slavery. She defied the kinsman of the Samurai as Shimo claimed to be, and, disgusted with the shattering of her fond dreams, she sought shelter with friends, who had known her in the days of her girlhood.

The complaint filed in the King county Superior Court by Mrs. Shimo's lawyer is brief and to the point. The charges against the Oriental made by his wife is plainly stated. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Mamie Marr.

ALL KINDS OF TROUBLE.

CHURCH WANTS NO SOCIALISM.

MINISTER RESIGNS UNDER A HEAVY FIRE.

Says Gossips Have Caused Trouble by Misunderstanding His Platonic Friendship for Choir Members—Accused of Stealing Valuable Bird Dog—Denies He Is Flirt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELLINGHAM, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because his parishioners did not approve of his socialistic views and objected to his addressing a gathering of the followers of Karl Marx, the Rev. Walter C. Jones has resigned, under pressure, from the pastorate of the Knox Presbyterian Church of this city. Incidentally he declares that gossips have been the cause of the row between himself and his congregation, because they discredited his work by declaring that he was an opium fiend and an inveterate and incorrigible flirt.

The pastor is young and good-looking and he says that several of the women of his church took exception to the purely platonic relations existing between himself and members of the choir, which they misconstrued into affairs of the heart.

The latest episode in the affair is the accusation of a church member that the pastor stole a valuable bird dog. He has written a letter to the unfortunate divine filled with burning criticism and expressing surprise that a minister of the gospel should be guilty of "swiping a pup" and incidentally he has reclaimed the dog which the unfortunate minister protests he found camping out in his wood shed and adopted as an act of good Samaritanism.

HOTEL NOT LIABLE.

BAGGAGE LOST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE, April 14.—Any hotel patron, ceasing to be a guest at a hotel and leaving behind baggage, duly checked or otherwise, cannot expect the hotel proprietor to exercise any unusual precautions in caring for baggage gratuitously stored, and if the baggage is lost, the owner cannot recover.

This is the decision of Judge R. E. Albertson in the appealed case of Thomas L. Lillis, a traveling man, against a local hotel. Lillis, in January, 1906, left a grip at the hotel. He received therefor a brass check. When he returned to the hotel some months later the grip could not be found. He obtained a verdict against the hotel in a justice court.

DROPS DEAD ON STREET.

LEAVES HOSPITAL WELL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Within three minutes after leaving the City Hospital apparently in normal health, John H. Harry, a young carpenter, dropped dead on Yesler Way at Fourth avenue, as he was walking toward Third avenue to board a street car this morning.

DRANK BAY RUM.

BARBER SURVIVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After drinking nearly a quart of pure bay rum in one afternoon, C. C. Fuller, a peripatetic barber, suffered no more inconvenience than a series of fits and convulsions and a night of disturbed slumbers in the City Jail at Vancouver, Wash. That he did not die is a mystery to the doctors.

Fuller came to Vancouver Saturday and went to work in a local shop. Business for a time was dull. Fuller discovered a quart bottle of bay rum, which had never been opened. He broke the seal and drank all the contents. In a short time he was seized with convulsions. He ran out of the shop and fell on the pavement. He recovered in jail.

HOGUE AND MAGEE FIGHT.

LIBEL CASE POSTPONED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The case of S. Fred Hogue, manager of the Evening Globe, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Thomas Magee, was called in Police Judge Deasy's court today, and was continued one week. Magee and Hogue met in the corridor, and after an exchange of a few words, resorted to blows, and were engaged in a lively scrimmage when they were separated. Both were charged with disturbing the peace.

The men, after being booked, were released on $50 bail each. Referring to the affair, Mr. Hogue says that he had no acquaintance with Magee, and did not even know him by sight when he approached and assaulted him without warning. He claims that his arms were held by McGee's brother, while the attack was being made.

WAGONMAKERS SUSPEND.

FORTY YEARS' RECORD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

STOCKTON, April 14.—After forty years' continuous business in this city, the firm of M. P. Henderson & Son, coach and carriage makers, has temporarily suspended for the benefit of the creditors. The liabilities are estimated at $7500, and the assets at $10,000. Orrin S. Henderson, former railroad commissioner, who became sole proprietor on the death of his father last year, stated today that the firm would probably resume after an adjustment of its affairs. Inability to make collections is given as the reason.

IRISHMAN WANTS SHARE.

Heir to Quarter of Million Estate in Seattle to Protect His Interests.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward Corcoran, heir to one-quarter of the John Sullivan estate, is in Seattle from Ireland, accompanied by Charles P. O'Neil, a solicitor of Dublin, in an effort to save something for himself from the estate.

Corcoran and O'Neil reached Seattle last Sunday. Their identity was not revealed, and every effort has been made to keep secret their mission here.

Corcoran has come to Seattle with his solicitor to prevent, if possible, his elimination from sharing in the spoils of the $1,000,000 Sullivan estate. Because of his experience with Seattle lawyers in the past, he was accompanied by his Dublin solicitor. Unless satisfactory arrangements are made, it is more than likely that legal action will be brought by Corcoran.

Not only has Corcoran a quarter interest in the estate through the award of the court, but he is also the heir of Hannah Callaghan, deceased, whose estate owns another quarter interest, the remaining half interest having gone to United States Senator Samuel H. Piles.

TEN WOMEN ON STRIKE.

AT INSANE HOSPITAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

UKIAH, April 14.—Ten women attendants at the Mendocino State Hospital for the Insane, have resigned because Dr. E. W. King, the superintendent, did not investigate to their liking, charges of incompetency and unfairness made against Miss Jeanette Honn, the matron.

Dr. King said: "The trouble was caused by attendants who filed a petition with the board, without my knowledge, charging Miss Honn with incompetency. The board instructed me to investigate. I did and reported back that the accusations were not substantiated."

The women held another meeting after deciding to strike and discussed the situation. In a statement issued by them, they claimed they were docked without warrant and were coolly treated by the matron.

SOLITUDE DRIVES TO SUICIDE.

Herder on Big Oregon Range Kills Himself—Unattended Sheep Pile Up and Smother.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After Edward Link, a sheep herder, had committed suicide in Eagle Valley, blowing out his brains with a rifle, his flock, untended, piled up in a ravine and when found sixty-two sheep were dead from smothering.

Link was employed by Orsen Moody, a wealthy rancher. He had worked through the winter, seldom seeing any person, and it is thought the solitude led to despondency, as is frequently the case on the big Oregon ranges. When Moody visited his camp yesterday he found the herder lying in his tent, where he had fallen forward on the gun, with the whole side of his head blown off.

The President Wants Sherman Act Stronger.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Atty.-Gen. Wickersham has issued an order to his subordinates that in no circumstances may they give out information concerning proposed legal proceedings of the department. In the vernacular, Mr. Wickersham does not intend to give away his hand. It is regarded as a sane regulation, and one which does not arouse resentment from the seekers after news. It is possible to find out at the proper time what suits against individuals or corporations are to be brought, but the method of procedure and the basis of prosecution are to be kept secret.

The Sherman act is said to be weak, and there is a belief that Mr. Taft knows its weak points, and will seek to have them amended if necessary.

The idea of a closer relationship between the various departments represented in the Cabinet was discussed today at a conference of Atty.-Gen. Wickersham, Solicitor-General Bowers, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Prouty of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Representative Townsend of Michigan.

Ten days ago, Atty.-Gen. Wickersham indicated to those who were present at the conference that he desired to consult with them concerning President Taft's plan of bringing the departments closer together, especially with respect to cases involving violations of the anti-trust law.

It can be said authoritatively that rumors of friction between the Department of Justice and the Interstate Commerce Commission are unfounded. Chairman Knapp of the commission, and Mr. Lane, in charge of the prosecutions by the commission, united in declaring that the relations between the commission and the Department of Justice were friendly, and that not the least disappointment was felt by the commission at any action taken by the Department of Justice.

RECLAMATION.

TOUR OF WEST ON IRRIGATION.

SENATOR FLINT AND COMMITTEE COMING IN FALL.

Officials Will Inspect All Projects Under Way by Government and Hold Hearings to Determine Needs of Farmers and Contractors, Up and Down the Coast.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Flint intends to accompany the Irrigation Committee in what will be an extensive tour of all reclamation projects under way or contemplated in the United States, covering the months of September and October. He has impressed on the committee the importance of the projects in California, as a consequence of which more time will be spent in California than in any other State, considering the amount of work being done there.

The committee has consented to spend three days at Yuma and in Imperial Valley, whence it will go to Los Angeles, Redlands, Riverside; will inspect Sacramento Valley, will enjoy the hospitality of San Francisco commercial bodies and will make a trip through the San Joaquin Valley. It will also visit the Carson-Truckee project and will see everything to be seen in the way of reclamation.

Hearings will be held to find out what are grievances of contractors and farmers, so that some comprehensive legislation may be enacted to meet requirements of the service everywhere. Nine Senators will be in the party, the Secretary of the Interior, director of Reclamation Service and the Chief Engineer, with clerks and others.

NEW BENSON TRIAL.

OLD LAND FRAUDS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Charged with attempting to bribe Woodford Harlan and William E. Valk, both officials of the general land office several years ago, John A. Benson of San Francisco, who was acquitted on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the so-called land fraud cases, will be placed on trial here Monday.

Upon the plea of the defendant, Justice Gould today fixed an allowance of funds for the bringing to this city of three witnesses for the defense, Clara E. Glover, J. H. Lavenson, formerly employed in Benson's San Francisco office, and Isabel McGilian, an employé of the recorder's office in which the land claims said to have been fraudulent were filed.

UNITARIANS TURNED DOWN.

METHODIST FOR NAVY CHAPLAIN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A vacancy as chaplain in the navy will be filled by the appointment of a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Secretary Myer will ask the Board of Bishops, soon to meet in Richmond, to nominate a candidate.

There being no Unitarian chaplain in the navy, representatives of that denomination recently applied to the President in behalf of such an appointment, but without success.

PAYNE TARIFF BILL.

DEMOCRATS IN DISAGREEMENT.

FAIL TO UNITE ON POLICY TO BE FOLLOWED.

Support Income Tax and Reduction on Necessities—Bill Is Expected to Raise More Money Than Appears. Senate Leaders Put Ban on Extravagance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—For more than four hours the Democratic members of the Senate conferred today in an effort to agree upon a tariff policy.

After the session, Senator Culberson, the minority leader, announced that the Democrats had agreed to support an income tax amendment, to stand for substantial reductions in schedules, and to fight for a decrease in the rates on the necessities of life.

The decision is not binding and the meeting was not entirely harmonious. Some Senators admitted frankly that they would seek protection for the industries of their States.

Senator Stone spoke in favor of his programme for independence for the Filipinos after fifteen years, and absolutely free trade with the islands during that period.

Senator Foster was opposed to free trade with any of the colonies. Neither of these Senators, it was apparent, could have obtained a majority of the Democrats for his proposition had a vote been taken.

Only on one question was the conference agreed, and that was the income tax.

The Senate Finance Committee has had the benefit of the advice of the best experts in the government service, who declare the bill amended by the Senate will raise much more money than appears, and Senator Aldrich still insists that no additional internal taxes will be needed.

Great dependence is placed by the Senate lawyers on the work done by former Senator Hemenway on behalf of the new Senate Committee on public expenditures. Information is being collected by him which will be used in paring down annual appropriations.

Senate leaders have taken the position that governmental extravagance must cease and it is reported that Mr. Hemenway will recommend a reduction of about $25,000,000 from the $150,000,000 of permanent funds, and that a like sum may be pruned from the regular annual appropriations for the various executive departments.

NEWLAND'S AMENDMENTS.

REDUCE DUTIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Explaining his proposed amendments to the tariff bill, Senator Newlands said today:

"I have introduced these amendments with a view to correcting the excessive rates of the Dingley bill, most of which remain in the Payne bill. The average rate of duty under the Payne bill upon dutiable articles, is about 45 per cent., and yet many of the duties are largely in excess of such percentage. A 45 per cent. duty ought to cover the differences between the wages of this and other countries, particularly when the efficiency of the American workman is considered.

"My amendments propose to reduce these excessive duties gradually and progressively, so as not to create any violent readjustments."

KLEIN HELD AS PARANOIAC.

Man Who Took Girls from Tacoma to Join Cult in Switzerland Under Arrest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joshua Klein, an Austrian subject, and former resident of St. Louis, where his wife and several children reside, is under arest for striking Dora Culbertson, aunt of Dora Sauvageout. For two years the latter girl and Rose Karasek were members of Klein's new "radio-active" spiritual religious cult and lived at Klein's religious colony at Amden, Switzerland, despite the objections of their families.

Miss Karasek has just returned home and repudiated Klein. The Superior Court has sentenced Klein to remain in jail until Miss Sauvageout is induced by him to return from Switzerland. He has sent her several cablegrams and she is believed to be en route home. Federal immigration officials will deport Klein as soon as he is released, medical examiners pronouncing him a paranoiac. He has many women visitors, some of whom believe him the Messiah. In former years he taught his peculiar religious ideas at St. Louis and elsewhere in the Southwest.

NEEDS WATCHING.

SICILIAN LEMON LOBBY BUSY IN WASHINGTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is a lemon lobby in town. It is maintained here by New York importers, who are claiming that the proposed duty of 1½ cents pound will add $1.50 to the price of each box of lemons.

This has aroused the California delegation in Congress and they will not stand tamely for any reduction. They show that freight rates are against the California products. The distance is almost as great as from Sicily, and the Sicilian has ocean freights, which are always much cheaper. Therefore, if the Californian is to compete for the eastern market, he must be protected against the cheap labor plus the cheap freights of Sicily.

This brings into it another consideration: If lemons are to be hauled 3000 or 4000 miles, is it not worth while that the hauling should be done by an American railroad, rather than by a European freight steamship. The railroads want the business, and protection is as important to them as it is to the grower in California.

In short, the advocates of the increase in duty say that it is a question of whether the lemons shall be both raised and hauled by Americans, or whether they shall be both raised and hauled by foreigners. They deny that in the end it will make lemons dearer, and point out that, in fact, lemons have become cheaper and cheaper in this country as the tariff on them has increased.

RAILWAY RECORD.

WELLS-FARGO CASE DECIDED.

State Commission Held to Lack Jurisdiction.

Company Has No Right to Buy and Sell in Market.

May Collect for Producers and Take Toll.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The State board of railroad commissioners at their meeting today considered a protest received from G. J. Bradley of the Sacramento Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association against the practice of the Wells, Fargo Express Company acting as agents for farmers and others in the disposal of their produce. No action was taken in view of an opinion received from Atty.-Gen. Webb in regard to the matter. The opinion is to the effect that the commission has no jurisdiction over the matter complained of. The same question, it is declared, has been decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission which upheld the position of the Express Company, affirming its right to transact business for producers and send them the amount received for their products, less the express charges. The company, however, has not the right to buy and sell produce on its own account.

In the complaint filed by Mr. Bradley it is charged that all over the northern part of California and Nevada, Wells, Fargo & Company is now and has been for years, selling vegetables, fruit, eggs, etc., through local agents to the retail merchants, being satisfied with their tariff rates as profit and this is in violation of the Wright act.

To this charge the Attorney General replies that the only profit derived from the transportation is such profit as that which accrues to Wells, Fargo & Company by an increase in the money earned by them as a percentage upon the tariff charges by the express company. This the Attorney General describes as lawful just as long as the agents do not engage in any business of their own.

Another meeting has been arranged for Tuesday morning, April 20, when Mr. Bradley and representatives from the different roads and Wells, Fargo & Company will be present and the various angles of the question will be reviewed.

NINE-HOUR LAW.

SANTA FE SUIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The cases which the government began some time ago against the Santa Fé Railroad for violations of the nine-hour law with respect to telegraphers will come before Judge Landis in the United States Court tomorrow. Both the government and the railroad are ready for trial, which will be before a jury.

The attorneys for the railroad expect to have their interpretation of the law approved by the court, whereas the government attorneys expect to be able to assess severe fines against the railroad company, the maximum for each violation being $500. If the railroad is right in its contention the government claims the spirit of the nine-hour law can be broken with impunity.

It appears that the Santa Fé splits the day into two "tricks" at the Corwith Station, just outside of Chicago, and in doing so the government claims that the following provision of the law is violated: "Telegraph operators shall not be permitted to remain on duty for a longer period than nine hours in any twenty-four in towers, stations, etc., operated continuously night and day."

The contention of the railroad company is that Corwith is not a train dispatching station but in reality comes under the head of stations which might be kept open by one man's working thirteen hours continuously.

COAL RATE HEARING.

TESTIMONY BEGUN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HELENA (Mont.) April 14.—At the hearing today by the State Board of Railroad Commissioners on the question of coal rates, counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads gave formal notice that they did not concede the right of the commission so to act, and with this understanding the taking of testimony was begun. A large number of witnesses were examined and their testimony had wholly to do with the rates, not only on the Montana coal, but shipments from Wyoming, Utah and Canada.

HARRIMAN ALWAYS BUSY.

On Pleasure Trip in Mexico Magnate Secures Contract for Wells Fargo.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It has developed that E. H. Harriman did not devote all of his time to health seeking and to an inspection of his own railway property during his recent visit to Mexico. He brought to a conclusion a business transaction which had been pending for many months and which, but for his personal attention, might have been lost to his interests.

Mr. Harriman invited President E. N. Brown of the National Railroads of Mexico to accompany him on his trip down the new Pacific Coast line. It was ostensibly a social commingling of the two high railroad officials.

Before Mr. Harriman left Mexico, however, he had the contract for the Wells-Fargo to take over the express business of the National Railroads of Mexico's lines as good as signed. It has since been formally signed. This contract practically gives Wells, Fargo & Co. a monopoly of the express business in Mexico.

PUBLICITY POLICY.

IN RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—A new era in the attitude of railroads in investigating accidents was inaugurated here yesterday when the Southern Pacific put into effect the policy of giving full publicity to such investigations.

Under the new rule, adopted by order of Julius Kruttschnitt, a board of inquiry to investigate all accidents is to be composed of three employés or officials of the road and one who is not in any way connected with the company.

Newspaper men will not only be permitted to attend the investigations but will be notified of the sittings of the board.

WAR OF MAGNATES.

HARRIMAN TRIES TO CONDEMN HILL LANDS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 14.—The Great Northern Railroad and the Seattle and Montana Railroad have filed with the County Auditor eighty-three deeds showing the ownership by these transportation companies of a large section of land in the northern part of this city, which the Harriman interests have asked to have condemned for the benefit of the Oregon and Washington Railroad.

Much of the property that now stands recorded as belonging to the Hill lines and is desired by the Harriman interests was obtained by the Great Northern as early as 1906. The last deed was obtained in February of this year.

In the petitions for condemnation filed by the Oregon and Washington Company the owners of record are made the defendants, although many of these owners have not possessed the lands for three years.

The Times says today:

"Within the last thirty days the clash of railroad interests in the Pacific Northwest has been started anew in a score or more of places in a genuine competitive railroad war which not even the astute Mr. Harriman, the uncommunicative Mr. Earling or the diplomatic Mr. Hill can hide, disguise or conceal.

"The fight is not three-cornered, but four-squared, with the Hill interests—the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Spokane, Northern and Seattle—involved in a bitter controversy in condemnation suits and otherwise with the North Coast Railway Company, the Oregon and Washington (Harriman) and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"Here are a few points on the map of the Pacific Northwest where the controversy is either at the present moment being fought out in the courts or where rival railroad engineering parties are struggling for vantage points and strategic locations in undeveloped country:

"In the Clearwater country east of Lewiston, Idaho; Northern Pacific and Harriman surveyors are both working over the old ground covered by the one-time rejected Missoula cut-off, which was abandoned years ago, when Charles S. Mellen, president of the Northern Pacific, entered into the famous 'gentlemen's agreement' with Harriman jointly to build and operate the Riparia-Lewiston line and quit quarreling over the rich grange country to the east.

"In the Flathead country, 100 miles square, in Montana, where Hill surveyors are up against a hard fight with a small army of Milwaukee engineers in opening up a vast virgin region of immense resources, probably larger in area than any single undeveloped part of the Pacific Northwest, Harriman already is within striking distance of this rich country and can quickly protect his interests there.

"In Spokane, the bitterest fight of all is in progress in condemnation suits in the Federal Court. The North Coast Railway, known variously as a Harriman or a Canadian Pacific corporation, has attacked Hill in his stronghold, seeking to acquire by condemnation seventeen acres of land in the heart of the city, formerly owned by the Great Northern, but privately conveyed last November by Hill officials, acting under orders, to the Spokane, Portland & Seattle road.

"On both sides of Salmon Bay, in Seattle, where the Oregon & Washington (Harriman) has begun condemnation suits to obtain railroad right of way over land owned by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and where Hill has retaliated by starting condemnation suits on his own account to protect his interests.

"In Vancouver, B. C., where Hill projects immense deep-sea terminals to handle grain and oriental exports and where the Canadian Pacific, as officially announced yesterday, is preparing to duplicate Hill's projected $1,000,000 terminals by building costly grain elevators, etc.

"In these various points where the fight is waged a small army of lawyers—costly ones—railroad surveyors, right-of-way men and secret agents are employed. Expense cuts but little figure in most instances, as is admitted by the men who are on the skirmish line themselves."

CRISIS PASSED.

the former War Minister, Nazim Pasha, two of the most popular men in Turkey.

The attitude of small detachments of Turkish marines caused growing apprehension early in the day. The men appeared to be in an ugly mood and they fired their rifles every few yards. Several casualties from stray shots were recorded.

MERCHANTS AFRAID.

Following the usual custom in Constantinople when possible disturbances are feared, the owners of shops began closing their places this afternoon and business came to a standstill.

At four o'clock this afternoon the situation was worse. Other detachments of sailors had come ashore to join the mutineers. Bands of soldiers accompanied by religious students and the dregs of the population paraded the streets of Pera and Stamboul, the two principal quarters of the city, with fixed bayonets. Rapid fire guns were mounted on the Stamboul bridge, but later developments brought about a semblance of order and apprehension was quited.

Much anxiety is felt concerning the attitude of the Second and Third army corps at Adrianople and Saloniki. Should they remain faithful to the Committee of Union and Progress, the result must be civil war.

Inquiry at official quarters elicited the statement that news had been received that the Second army corps had declared in favor of the new movement and the Committee of Union and Progress at Adrianople had dissolved.

SULTAN HAS GAINED CONTROL OF STATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 14.—The news from Constantinople today brings into clearer perspective the latest turn in Turkey's difficult path toward constitutionalism.

The counter revolution, involving at least the temporary overthrow of the reform party and the partial triumph of the reaction spirit, has been carried out with the same swift, sudden dexterity, though not the same absence of bloodshed, as characterized the revolution which gave to "Young Turkey" the reins of power.

The Sultan virtually has gained control of the helm of state, and although he still affirms his loyalty to the constitution, all Europe looks anxiously for the next move.

Already alarmist reports are current concerning the possible reopening of the Balkan problem; that Bulgaria may seek to take advantage of the state of anarchy in Turkey.

ORIENTAL WOMEN ARE SUFFRAGETTES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 14. — What oriental women are doing in politics, a subject of particular interest at this time, in view of the revolutionary disturbance in Turkey, is told by Col. Mesrope Nevton Kahn, a member of the imperial Persian Legation.

In an address before the Women's Republican Club at the Waldorf-Astoria, he declared the suffrage movement in England was nothing compared with the activity of the women in the Orient.

"Practically all the arms and ammunition and dynamite carried across the frontiers of Turkey, Persia and Russia, at the present time, are smuggled over by women who carried them under their skirts," said Nevton. "When politics touch the home and bread and butter, that is when the women begin to be interested. Turkey and Persia are about 300 years behind America. Politics are in a disruptive condition, about as they were here at the time of the Boston tea party. All is riot and murder, and that is what the women there are doing now. When they want anything done in the East they are very apt to put the women forward. I have seen a woman attack a man in the street and when he would not have stood it from a man, he would submit to a woman."

After hearing Col. Nevton's address, the club women voted to send sympathy to the women of the East.

PEACE PLANS DEADLOCKED.

Negotiations for Settlement of Turkish-Bulgarian Dispute Are Blocked.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—Negotiations looking to the settlement of the Turkish-Bulgarian dispute caused by the Bulgarian declaration of independence last year, are taking an unsatisfactory course. Both here and in Constantinople they have come practically to a deadlock.

M. Poprikoff, the Bulgarian Minister of Foreign Affairs, who has been here since March 3, is preparing to return to Sofia tomorrow or the next day unless the negotiations take a turn for the better. The mobilization of the Bulgarian army is regarded as a possibility unless Turkey speedily comes to terms.

CHUNG GETS THE BOOT.

Chief of Police Quick to Dispose of Chinaman With a Graft Proposition.

Charlie Chung came up from Chinatown yesterday afternoon to "do business" with the new administration. Early in the afternoon he visited Chief Dishman, at police headquarters. The Chief threw him bodily out of the office with a noise like a man crashing through a roof.

Next Chung appeared at the Mayor's office with a choice assortment of American epithets to mangle in denouncing the head of the police department and demanded to see the chief executive. When he was admitted he said:

"I likee talk to you alone, Uncle Giorge."

"You talk to me right here in the presence of my secretary," said the Mayor.

Chung declared he knew all about graft in Chinatown, and had seen money "passed" to policemen. The Mayor asked what policemen.

"Oh, I know all light," said Chung, but he wouldn't tell.

So the Mayor firmly sent him out of the office, atfer telling him to go before the grand jury.

Chung has been intensely interested for two weeks in learning who was to be Chief of Police. Yesterday he learned when Dishman, who has known him for years, gave him the official boot.

While Chung did not exhibit money, he intimated that others are getting it, and that the new officials might as well get in the game. He was formerly a gambler.

"Chung is a worthless Chinatown vagabond," said the Chief. "He may have been sent by others to find out what the situation is going to be. If he was he found out quicker than he expected."

POLICE STILL PUZZLED.

Former Real Estate Man With Fractured Skull Removed to Good Samaritan Hospital.

Police and Receiving Hospital surgeons continue puzzled over the case of William Robbins, who was picked up in an unconscious condition Tuesday night at Fifth and Spring streets, by Patrolmen Crow and Wolf. Late last night the injured man was removed to the Hospital of the Good Samaritan. He was still in a semi-unconscious condition. Though his symptoms were puzzling, police surgeons believe he is suffering from basal fracture.

The police have been unable to determine how he sustained his injury, unless it was in one of the two falls which he took on the street just before he was picked up by the police. Yesterday afternoon, during a lucid moment, Robbins stated that during the evening he patronized a moving picture show and became dizzy at watching the panorama. That is the last he remembers.

His wife, who is a music teacher at the University of Southern California, was located yesterday afternoon at her home on Lomita avenue, Glendale. She believes her husband was taken with a fainting spell to which he is subject, fell in the street and sustained his injury. From her it was learned that Robbins, though formerly engaged in the real estate business, has recently been employed by the Western Hardware and Arms Company of No. 520 South Spring street.

SALOONIST SENTENCED.

T. Dutton Given Five Months' Imprisonment and $300 Fine for Keeping Dive.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YUMA (Ariz.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. T. Dutton, Yuma Tenderloin saloonkeeper, convicted yesterday in the District Court of maintaining a disorderly house and renting apartments to women for immoral purposes, was today sentenced by Judge John H. Campbell to five months' imprisonment, one month short of the maximum penalty, and fined 300, the maximum amount.

A second offender, a woman, pleaded guilty and will be sentenced tomorrow. Other cases will be called up before the end of the week.

The conviction of Dutton is a decisive blow in the cleansing of the Rincon district of Yuma, for forty-five years a resort of the criminal and immoral of both sexes. The business district of Yuma has been encroaching on the borders of the Rincon and will soon absorb it. Its transient inmates have all fled to escape legal penalty.

INCREDIBLE INJUSTICE.

Two Men Who Have Served Thirty-four Years Now Declared Innocent.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MINNEAPOLIS, April 14.—Two men, now declared innocent of any crime, who already have served thirty-four years each of life terms for murder in the Minnesota Penitentiary, may secure tardy justice as a result of the newly awakened conscience of a man who aided in tricking them into accepting the grave penalty.

R. L. Underhill and George Washington, negroes, are the victims who have spent the best years of their lives in the awful monotony of prison, and who may now gain liberty and reenter a world strangely changed since the gates closed on them in 1875.

It is said that the man who admits his guilt in railroading these men to the penitentiary has already appeared before the State Pardon Board with a plea for their release, declaring that he has worried for thirty-four years over the unjust sentence.

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they will cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and maybe despondent; it makes any one so.

But thousands of irritable, nervous, tired and broken-down women have restored their health and strength by the use of Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

Swamp-Root brings new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of such troubles.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, may address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and receive sample bottle free by mail. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

and on duty when Heney was shot last November.

The announcement created considerable comment and surprise. It was unofficially explained that a reduction in the force was made because of the completion of the Calhoun jury, but there was no authoritative statement to this effect. A number of special agents have been engaged in preliminary investigation of jury material since the opening of the trial early in January, but Detective Foley has never been assigned to this work.

Burns, who directs the operation of the force of special agents, departed today for Washington, D.C. It was stated that he has been summoned as a witness in a Federal case pending in Washington.

When asked regarding the dismissal of a number of his special agents, District Attorney Wm. H. Langdon stated that it was done in the interest of economy.

"With the jury investigation completed in the Calhoun trial," he said, "we no longer had occasion to keep so many men on our force. I ordered Mr. Burns to let a bunch of them go."

While admitting that Foley was among the number, Langdon said he did not know why Burns displaced him as bodyguard for Heney.

NO THIRTEENTH JUROR YET.

SURPRISE IN CALHOUN CASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Very much to the surprise of all persons concerned, today's session of the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, ended without selection of the thirteenth juror provided for yesterday, when Judge William P. Lawlor granted the application of the prosecution for an alternate or substitute juror. The attorneys interrogated twenty-five talesmen during the day, which approaches the record for a single session. The examination was confined to routine questions, but the talesmen summoned as members of the thirty-fifth special panel appeared possessed of opinions that disqualified them in rapid succession.

Heney of the prosecution, and A. A. Moore and Earl Rogers of the defense, were engaged today in the preparation of the evidence to be submitted to the jury.

NEWBURGH CASE NEAR END.

WILL GO TO JURY TODAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The closing argument of the prosecution in the case of A. S. Newburgh, of counsel for Abraham Ruef during the recent trial of the ex-political boss, charged with attempted bribery of a prospective Ruef juror, will be made tomorrow morning and the case be given to the jury some time in the afternoon.

Dist.-Atty. Langdon opened the argument today. Bert Schlessinger, followed for Newburgh, and his argument was mainly directed toward the impeachment of E. A. S. Blake, convicted of actually offering the bribe in question.

Blake was the star witness for the State.

Great Assortment

Aisle 8 and Men's Annex

It's no easy matter to get a lot of hosiery samples like this together. Every live store in the country is on the lookout for such bargain plums as this. Some one from our live-wire buying organization tries to be on hand when such favors are passed out. In the campaign which brought about the purchase of these 2700 pairs, we made lightning connections with Marshall Field & Co., and other importing firms of equal strength. The result is we'll be ready today with a sample sale that will crowd aisle 8 to overflowing with women, and the furnishing corner in the Men's Annex with men. Every store that advertises knows that it takes values to bring crowds; that's why we're preparing for the crowds today. You'll have a chance to buy hosiery at from 25 to 50 per cent. under value, and you'll get the cream of the factory, too. Samples, you know, are the best that the mills turn out.

Great Assortment for Women

It's really discouraging to try to tell the story in an ad.; there are scarcely two pairs alike. There are black stockings in mercerized and gauze lisle, in lace drop stitch and embroidered patterns. You'll find plenty of plain colors, gauze lisle, mercerized lisle. You'll find white stockings, plain and lace designs. You'll be charmed with the assortment of fancies. You'll like them all; the only trouble will be in deciding which suits your fancy best. The greatest collection you ever saw at 25c. This display aisle 8.

Choice Patterns for Men

Besides the plain blacks and tans, of which there is an abundance, you'll find hosts of fancy patterns, as well as some of the popular guaranteed lines. Every pair is full fashioned and bears the name of some maker of prominence. While imported sox predominate, there are several domestic factories represented. Another point—every pair is in perfect condition. In order to accommodate the crowds which are sure to come, we've arranged to have the men's sox on display in the Men's Annex.

Children's Stockings 10c

It took us some time to get just what we wanted in a stocking to sell at 10c, but now we have absolutely the best stocking in Los Angeles for the price. They have triple knees, and are seamless.

Children's Stockings 17c

The "Don't Worry" brand offered in competition to the 25c stocking at other stores. There's a soft lisle finish, light weight for girls and heavy weight for boys, both in black or tan.

Children's Stockings 25c

There's a guarantee with every pair. The color is absolutely fast and the foot fashioned; choose either light, medium or heavy weight. A really great stocking at 25c a pair.

SHERLOCK HOLMES'S CHANCE.

DETECTIVE BUREAU OF SPOOKS FOR KIDNAPERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The establishment of a detective bureau in which the spirits of renowned detectives shall be invoked to clear up mysteries of mortals, may be one result of the activities of the Illinois State Spiritualist Association, which is holding its annual convention in Handel Hall. The bureau would concern itself with tracking kidnapers and other criminals.

The hopes of historians that the Spiritualists might be able to summon the wraiths of famous persons of long ago, such as Signor Guglielmo Ferrero recently held up to ridicule, were rudely shattered by a statement of Dr. C. A. Cross, vice-president of the organization. He declared there was almost no possibility of getting into communication with those so long buried and that the historians would have to fight out their problems among themselves.

"It would be nice to have the assistance of spirits in some difficulties that we often meet," added Dr. Cross. "This came to my mind particularly when I heard of the kidnaping of Willie Whitla. If the little boy's mother could only have got into communication with some member of the family who had passed out of this existence, she could have learned all the details of the kidnaping and known just where to go to find her son.

"It would be very nice indeed to have an organization of mediums who could place themselves at the disposal of parents who find themselves in such woeful trouble. Of course, it would be difficult work to do, for every medium cannot communicate with every member of a patron's departed family, but still the scheme is attractive.

"We cannot go much further than communication with the spirits of relatives and friends, and therefore it is hardly possible to hope for historical information through psychics.

"Psychis of ancient times might have had more success. There have been plenty of these peculiarly endowed people in all ages. The prophet Samuel, to mention one, spoke to King Saul in the words of departed Jews; so did the so-called witch of Endor, whom Saul engaged after Samuel's death. This witch was a true medium."

ASHEVILLE INN BURNS.

Guests Escape from Fashionable Resort Scantily Clad—Hotel Completely Destroyed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ASHVILLE (N. C.) April 14.—Aroused from their slumbers about 2 o'clock this morning by an alarm of fire, seventy-five guests of the fashionable Kenilworth Inn, three miles from this city, barely had time to don some scanty articles of clothing and make their escape from the burning building.

The hotel was completely destroyed, the total loss being estimated at $300,000; insurance $75,000.

The fire started in the north end of the building over the boiler room. A strong wind was blowing from the southwest and the flames were quickly fanned to the other frame structure where the majority of the guests were asleep.

The scantily-clad guests were taken in at the Battery Park Hotel and nearby residences and cared for during the remainder of the night.

Former State Senator Gazzam of Philadelphia jumped from the third story of the Inn and was seriously injured.

All the guests have been accounted for.

The Kenilworth Inn was owned by M. Gazzam of Philadelphia, and was built fourteen years ago by the Kenilworth Inn Company, at a cost of $140,000. George W. Vanderbilt is believed to have been the heaviest stockholder in the company.

HACIENDAS BURNED.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 14.—A great forest fire is raging in the Zitscuaro Mountains, in the State of Michoacan. Thousands have been rendered homeless by the fire, and a great quantity of the dye wood, in which the region abounds, has been destroyed. Owing to the isolation of the region, the fire will have to burn itself out. Already a number of valuable haciendas have been swept by the flames, and scores of villages destroyed. No details as to the loss of life are available.

NEW PATENT TREATY.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations today ordered a favorable report on a new patent treaty between the United States and Germany. Under the existing arrangement, an American who patents an article in Germany, or a German who patents an article in the United States, is required to manufacture the article in the country where the patent is taken out within three years. The new treaty eliminates the requirement that the manufacturer of the article must be in the country issuing the patent.

SERIOUS.

THIRTY KILLED IN POLICE-MOB FIGHT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CITY OF MEXICO, April 14.—The rioting at Velardena, the big coal mining camp in the State of Coahuila last Saturday, according to a dispatch received tonight, was more serious than at first reported, thirty men being killed and many injured.

The trouble was instigated by Father Ramon Velenzuela, the parish priest, it is asserted, who lies near death in a hospital. Fourteen of the rioters have been summarily executed by the government troops and many imprisoned.

Many Americans reside in Velardena, the company being controlled by American capital.

The mob avoided attacking Americans or American property.

The fighting occurred when the Jefe de Politico of the town, an officer corresponding to a mayor, attempted to stop a religious procession headed by the village priest, Mexican laws forbidding such parades. A thousand parishioners followed the priest, wishing to witness the annual burning of Judas, and the mob, becoming enraged, stoned and later burned the house of the Jefe. That official and his wife escaped by climbing a rear wall and seeking protection in the American colony.

The rioters then stormed a Chinese hotel, looting it of all liquors and foods and terrorizing the neighborhood during the night orgy. The police, in an effort to restore order, fired on the mob, many of the members of which were well armed. The officers, however, were forced to retreat, leaving six of their number dead in the street.

Later troops which had been telegraphed for arrived on a special train and a fierce fight with the rioters ensued.

Father Velenzuela was arrested. One of his followers succeeded in smuggling a knife into his cell and the priest stabbed himself six times in a vain attempt to commit suicide. He was discovered by guards just in time to save his life.

A Tonic or a Stimulant?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic. It does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. GOTCH WINS OVER TURK.

Shows He Can Work Without Famous Toe Hold.

Giant Foreigner Has Little Chance for Victory.

Seventeen Minutes Required for Both Bouts.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—Frank Gotch of Humboldt, Iowa, succeeded in retaining his title to the world's championship tonight by defeating Yussiff Mahmout of Bulgaria in a fast and furious wrestling match.

The Bulgarian was as a child in the hands of his opponent. Gotch won both falls with crotch and half-Nelson holds, in 8 min. and 9 min. 10 sec.

The champion's victory is all the more notable as he did not use his famous toe hold in bringing about the downfall of the powerful foreigner. Gotch was able to secure most any hold he desired, so limited was the Turk's knowledge of the game.

The match was fast and exciting. It was so short that there was not a single idle moment during the two bouts.

FEW SPORTS AT ARCADIA TRACK.

CROWD WAKES UP FINALLY TO BOOKMAKERS' GAME.

Same Old Nags Run Around for the Suckers, Who Spend All Their Money Gambling on the Get-Away "Good Things"—Gang Expects to Leave Town Next Week.

A small crowd of gamblers formed the only feature at the Arcadia merry-go-round races yesterday, and this bunch had it handed to them the other way, for almost all of the nags picked out by the official price maker won their races. The suckers are naturally looking for overlooked nags to win in the final week of the game in the state, but that kind did not do anything yesterday.

The events were all made up for cheap skates to win get-away money, and there was nothing worthy of special mention. The gang will be out of town in three days to catch the Salt Lake suckers. Results:

GERMAN VEGTARIAN SHOWING HEELS TO THE REST.

Walking Contest at Southern California Exposition Thinning Out, Three More Men Quitting Yesterday—Others, However, Are Game to the Core and Hustling.

The third day of the six-day walking match closed last night with the German vegetarian, Curt Brunich, in the lead with the total for the day of thirty-two miles in 7h. 45m. Welfare came next with twenty-six miles and eight laps in 8h. 30m. Third place was hotly contested for by Staggs and Mitchell, Staggs winning by the close margin of one lap.

Team scores for the week:

	Miles.	Laps.	Time on Floor.
Morgan and Welfare	196	4	47h. 50m.
Mitchell and Sparks	171	5	39h. 25m.
Hewitt and Staggs	151	5	45h. 50m.
Brunich	139	2	26h. 25m.
Cline and Blinks	135	9	21h. 40m.

Team scores for yesterday:

	Miles.	Laps.	Time on Floor.
Morgan and Welfare	53	2	15h. 55m.
Mitchell and Sparks	46	7	13h. 45m.
Hewitt and Staggs	42	4	14h. 15m.
Brunich	32	0	7h. 45m.
Cline	16	4	6h. 30m.

Sparks has since the start of the race been lame, but now that he has limbered up, it is thought that with young Mitchell for a mate the pair are reasonably sure of second place, and in case of Welfare or Morgan going stale, he is in line for first place.

The German, Brunich, shows remarkable grit and endurance in sticking the way he does, and has been picked to capture the first prize for individual scores. He is always on the path at the start at 10 o'clock in the morning, leaving only when ordered by the doctor to lay off and eat.

Blinks and the Tatatoo brothers joined the ranks of the quitters yesterday morning, Blinks sending word that he was sick and the Tatatoos not showing up at all. Blink's partner, Cline, put in nearly seven hours on the track without stopping yesterday, but seemed unable to show any speed.

The individual scores for the week are:

	Miles.	Laps.	Time on Floor.
Brunich	107	6	24h. 45m.
Morgan	102	7	22h. 30m.
Welfare	95	8	24h. 10m.
Mitchell	90	9	20h. 45m.

Staggs	79	4	24h. 15m.
Hewitt	72	1	21h. 35m.

OVER AND UNDER.

TWO HOMERS THE FEATURE.

Perhaps Awake Sixth Inning With Hard Swats.

New Player Caffyn Shines as a Batsman.

Oakland Bothers Shafer in But One Period.

Vernon, 9; Oakland, 4.

If Hap Hogan can grab a few more bushers from the outlaws before they go to seed, he had best lay off a couple of days and pick 'em, for an outlaw busher won the game for him yesterday when there was probably no other chance to get it. He helped along two runs for Oakland by errors, but he batted in five runs himself and was by long odds the great feature of the first appearance here of the Oakland team.

Van Haltren and Bernie McCay have herded together a very sweet looking lot of ball slingers and they will be heard from this season from the number of games they should win, unless something drops. It did yesterday and on looking around the fans saw it was Christian who blew up with a bang in the sixth inning after two home runs had been hit from the best he had. Maire started out to heave but he lasted only a part of the first inning, and Van Haltren got tired of looking at him and tossed him out of the game. Van got more tired of Christian and put W. Hogan in to finish the last two innings.

Hogan's busher Caffyn from the Fresno outlaws, did not alarm any one by his work in the two games he played Sunday, but this was doubtless due to the fact that he had just stepped off the train and could not see a baseball. The principal thing he brought along with him from the sand belt was a rep for smashing the ball, but he did not find anything that suited him until yesterday, when he took a look at the Oakland heavers.

Managers generally put the fast, infield hitters at the top of the batting order so they can be sent around by the hard rappers, but if Caffyn is a bunt hitter the others should take something for the thing that "ails" them, for he made almost half of the swats secured by the Perhaps. In four times at bat he had a home run and three singles and while two bungles are charged against him, he made a beautiful running catch in right center that partly made up for these. His home run was the kind that rolls under the fence, but it came with three men on bases and made the fans yell with joy that a bush could blossom so. As Truck Eagan had started this Caffyn inning with a home run over the left fence, it might be stated that it was doubtless one of the most peevish trials Mr. Christian has ever had.

GOOD UMPIRE.

Leaving out such things as two home runs in one inning, the big scream of the game was the appearance of Umpire McGreevy, and he makes a noise like the best minor league umpire ever seen here. He is even better than Bull Perrine and yesterday was a most welcome change from the kind the local fans have seen for the last year. He gives his decisions quickly without any symptoms of St. Vitus two-steps of the brain, that seem to attack some of the umps. There were but two or three occasions when he might have been wrong, but these were not worth howling over and on the whole he made a fine showing. If he does as well in the future he will always be welcome here, for the fans care little which team wins if the umpire is not a scarecrow.

Mac did not have many close ones, however, for the swats were hard and the bungles sharp enough to stick out plainly. It was to the fence with almost everything that was poked out and when the ball was bungled, seven hands could not have stopped it, much less two.

Van Haltren had all kinds of hard luck with his heavers and he had to try three before he could get one to suit. Maire started out but "lasted quick," for after he had given two passes and had been soaked for two singles in the first inning, Van threw him out. Christian then took a chance but he had enough after eight runs and five swats had been made off him.

The Perhaps started off with a rush in the first, with a run from a fielder's choice, a single and two passes, but Oakland came back strongly in the fourth, with the only four runs they could get off Shafer. Truesdale shot a grounder to Graham, who booted it. Then D. Lewis hit to right and Caffyn juggled this on a hard chance, Truesdale going to third and Lewis to second. Cameron hit to left, scoring Truesdale, and McCay slammed the ball to right. Caffyn got this and attempted to throw out Cameron at third, but the heave was a wild one that went past Mott, and Cameron scored. Carroll beat out a bunt to first, which put McCay on third. Breyette followed with a foul toward first base, which Hogan got after a run, and McCay saw his chance and stole to the plate while it was unguarded. Even after all this there was a pass and a sacrifice. It was the last spasm, however, for Shafer came to after that fourth, and Oakland could do nothing more.

HANDY CHANGE.

Things looked black for the Perhaps after this, but there was a big change in the fourth, which Christian opened by walking both Eagan and Mott. These two advanced on Haley's neat sacrifice, and both scored on Hogan's lucky hit back of the pitcher, which Breyette tried to scoop, but failed, and in failing booted the ball over toward first base. Then Shafer forced Hogan at second, and in trying to make a double play Breyette threw the ball past first base and Shafer ran to second, scoring a moment later on Caffyn's single to right.

With the score a tie, Truck Eagan opened for the Perhaps in the sixth by hitting the first ball pitched for a home run over the left fence. Mott was an easy out, but Haley singled to left and stole second. Hap Hogan walked, and then Shafer hit a scratch bounce in front of the plate, on which La Longe tried to catch Haley at third, but failed. The bases were full and Caffyn went to bat and hit a hot grounder past first base that rolled into the extreme right-hand corner of the park and went under the fence for a home run, and thus five easy runs came in.

This was too much for Van Haltren, and he took Christian out and stuck in W. Hogan to pitch, and he stopped any more runs.

The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Christian gave Caffyn the first chance to shine in the third inning, when he hit a short fly that Caffyn got on a fast run, almost falling as he caught the ball.

Cameron, the big first baseman of the Oaklands, is one of the giants of the league, but he covers the bag like a live one, and handles himself without any sign of clumsiness. He reminds one of Heaver Nelson.

Truesdale's assist on Martinke's grounder in the third was one of the best seen here in months. He dashed in at top speed toward the pitcher's box, grabbed the bouncer and threw Martinke out at first by throwing while running and without turning toward the base.

After yesterday there will be few ball players trying to run bases when Right Fielder Carroll has a chance at the ball. With Stovall on second in the third inning, Brashear hit to right field and Stovall tried to reach third, but, as fast as he is, he was easily thrown out by Carroll, the ball landing in McCay's hands.

Hap Hogan missed an easy chance for a double play in the fourth by going to sleep. With Carroll running off first base on a foul fly, which Hogan caught, Hap stood with the ball in his hand and watched Carroll run back thirty feet to the base. It was while he held the ball that McCay stole to the plate from third base.

The fans very seldom see a center fielder having one assist, a right fielder two, and a first baseman three in the same game, but this was the good luck of Murphy, Carroll and Brashear. When a first baseman has three assists in a game he is going some.

Truck Eagan's homer over the left fence pleased the fans immensely, for it shows that the old boy can clout 'em on the nose when they come right. Truck says he intends this year to beat all of his previous stunts in the home run line.

Eagan got an error he did not deserve in the fifth, and it was due to a collision at second base in which Truesdale was trying to keep from being forced out. The jar knocked the ball from Eagan's hands.

Caffyn is not so much of a bush, after all. Cleveland discovered him in the Western Association, but while the youngster was a good fielder he hit lightly, and went to the Eastern League.

ANNUAL PASSES TO LEGISLATORS.

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It has been practically determined by Missouri Legislature leaders that the bill to prohibit Sunday baseball in this State will not be passed by the General Assembly. It will die from lack of support.

Simultaneously with the opening of the baseball season about $20,000 worth of annual baseball passes have been received from the St. Louis magnates by members of the Legislature and their private secretaries. The favors were sent by Col. R. Lee Hedges, president of the Browns, and G. Stanley Robinson, executive head of the Cardinals.

Each Representative and Senator has received an annual pass, and many secretaries have received game passes, nearly every one getting at least a ticket of admission to the opening game in St. Louis today.

A season ticket to either of the league parks in St. Louis is estimated to be worth $52.50. Tickets to the games of both leagues are worth, therefore, $105. There are 176 members of the Legislature.

Sunday baseball games in St. Louis—about thirty such games being played during the season—is said to net $130,000 or $150,000 more than the value of the free tickets sent to legislators.

ELEVEN INNINGS.

DILLON TURNS TRICK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the first extra inning game played at Recreation Park this year Los Angeles beat out the Seals in the eleventh this afternoon, by 3 to 1.

Godwin started the trouble with a single and Dillon practically broke it up with a two bagger, Godwin scoring from third on Howard's out. It had been a nip and tuck game all the way, with a hard fight for the honors.

Hosp, for the Angels, pitched steady ball, allowing but three hits, and save for some of Zeider's daring base running, coupled with two throwing errors, the locals would have been completely blanked.

Berger started for the Seals, but in the two innings and a piece of one that he pitched he showed such a tendency to wildness that he was removed in favor of Browning.

At that time it was a remarkably good game with plenty of speed, spectacular fielding, and just enough hitting to make the crowd stick from start to finish.

Berger walked two of the Angels in the second, but they were caught off the bags. In the third, after he had walked one man and given another a hit, Berger was so wild that Browning went in to save the day. He started with three balls on Hosp, but the Angel pitcher forced a man at second and the next two were easy outs.

The only San Francisco run came to Zeider in the first inning. It was in the fourth that Los Angeles tied the score, Dillon started with a crack on the right field fence. Howard followed with another to the fence that took Dillon to third, and after Smith fanned, Delmas tried the squeeze play, beating his bunt and scoring Dillon. Delmas was caught trying to steal second, and Thompson was out to Melchoir in right.

There were innings after that in which both teams almost scored.

The wind-up came in the first of the eleventh. Daley retired on an infield out. Godwin hit a grounder that Mohler couldn't handle and was advanced to third by Dillon's two bagger that struck the dirt just inside the third base line. When Howard hit one down to Mohler the runner from third scored. Then Dillon and Howard worked the double steal and the Los Angeles leader tallied the second run of the inning.

WISE TALKS

By The "Office Boy"

When the thermometer dropped below zero, Mrs. Rogers was much disturbed by the thought that Huldah, the new kitchen maid, slept in an unheated room. "Huldah," she said, remembering the good old custom of her girlhood, "it's going to be pretty cold tonight. I think you had better take a flatiron to bed with you." "Yes, ma'am," assented Huldah, without enthusiasm. Mrs. Rogers, happy in the belief that her maid was comfortable, slept soundly. In the morning she visited the kitchen. "Well, Huldah, how did you get along with the flatiron?" Huldah breathed a deep sigh of recollection. "Vell, ma'am, I got it most warm before morning."

The man or the firm who gets cold feet on any proposition nowadays, have to stand aside. You have to either take the pace of the company you are in or make way for the man behind. You can't settle down on the ladder of success and block the way of men with new ideas and better systems. Change means progress, progress means advancement and advancement means movement. The Silverwood Stores are run along original lines. Last night the men from all the stores had their monthly meeting. They were given a nice dinner first, then they put in several hours discussing new ideas, ways to improve our business and make the Silverwood Stores still better stores. Gee if you only knew how hard and conscientiously every man, from the Old Man down to the delivery boy, is working to deserve your patronage, you wouldn't think of wearing a hat, shirt, suit or necktie without the name "Silverwood" printed or woven in the label. Can't we have your patronage? Either store.

KS LIFE IN THE RING.

Kehel Signs to Box Jack Johnson in Fall.

Gi 'Away Lots of Weight to the Champion.

Ming Pictures of Fight Assure Distance.

[SOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchel were matched today to box twenty rounds for the heavyweight championship of the world at the Colma Athletic Club on October 12. The fighters are to receive per cent. of the gross receipts, divided 65 per cent. to the winner and 35 per cent. to the loser. Both Ketchel and Johnson signed the articles.

The articles provide that soft surgical bandages or fingerless gloves of kid are to be permitted, and are to be put on to the satisfaction of the referee. It was further provided that each party to the agreement deposit $5000 to be paid to the winner of the contest, and that this sum was to go as forfeit for the compliance by both men with the articles of agreement.

Both contestants are to submit to physical examinations before the official physician, Dr. W. M. Beattie of Colma, Cal., at reasonable times, and both men are to be in San Francisco thirty days before the contest. The referee is to be announced not later than fifteen days before the contest.

Moving pictures of the fight will be taken, and the proceeds divided by a private agreement. The articles are signed by Willis Britt, Johnson, Ketchel and James Coffroth for the Colma club. Ketchel was anxious to fight forty-five rounds, but Johnson demurred, saying twenty rounds would show which was the better man. Coffroth argued for nearly four hours trying to get Johnson to agree to a longer contest, but the champion was obdurate. Ketchel said he weighed 175 pounds, and would enter the ring at 180 pounds.

The contest probably will take place in the early afternoon of October 12.

Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian promoter, sailed today for Liverpool. He expects to return in a month.

"I am confident Johnson and Jeffries will face each other in the ring," said McIntosh.

"Johnson has been eager for the fight for a long time, and won't back out. Jeffries has promised to give me an answer within thirty days as to whether he will accept a proposition to fight Johnson."

PUGS IN SHAPE.

LONG FIGHT CARD.

Manager McCarey has decided to have thirty-two rounds of boxing at the pavilion Friday evening, or at least that number of sessions is scheduled for the Wolgast-Memsic attraction. The full card as arranged is as follows:

Wolgast and George Memsic, ten rounds, 133 at 6 o'clock.

Ralph Calloway and Jim Cameron, six rounds.

Jimmy Austin and Young Miller, six rounds.

Young Solomon and Young Kaufman, six rounds.

Kid Brady and Kid Monte, four rounds.

Wolgast went on the road yesterday and later he appeared at the Venice amphitheater and did his usual stunts with the apparatus and ended up with three rounds of boxing with Clarence English and two with Young Miller. Ad is working harder for this fight than for any previous scrap of his career, and Manager Jones is satisfied with the condition of the boy at the present time.

Memsic has made the weight so easily that he only did a little road work in the morning yesterday, and refrained from doing anything in the gymnasium at Eastside, but made up for it by going through an hour's work, taking on the Turk for a long boxing session.

Calloway is hitting the pace rapidly in his preparation for his go with Jim Cameron, and is showing splendid form in his work at the pavilion. Calloway hopes to show the fans that there is real merit in his claim of being the best of the local middleweights and he expects to go after the big game in that division if he succeeds in putting away Cameron. The local lad is trying his best to get in shape, and he declared yesterday after his workout at the pavilion that Calloway would have to go some to even keep on his feet during the time the bout lasts.

Austin and Miller are pegging away getting in shape. Yesterday Miller surprised himself by showing only 112 pounds, when it was expected that he would enter the ring at about 115. Solomon and Kaufman put in a busy day also, and will be ready for their scrap when the gong sounds.

Burke Is Disqualified.

BOSTON (Mass.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sailor Burke, the hard hitting middleweight from New York, lost to Bill McKinnon of Roxbury, in the eleventh round of what was to have been a twelve-round affair, on a foul, at the Armory Athletic Association tonight. Burke swung a right low and no sooner had it landed than Referee Sheehan sent the men to their corners and gave the bout to McKinnon.

Doherty and Cote Draw.

WEBSTER (Mass.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five hundred members of the Lakeside Athletic Club saw Jeff Doherty of New Haven and Arthur Cote of Biddeford fight twelve rounds to a draw. Kid Rodman of Webster knocked out Arthur Carr of Biddeford in the first round and Kid Wright of Boston won from Kid Wright of Webster in the fourth round.

THOMAS PATHFINDER.

DENVER, April 14.—The Thomas Seattle pathfinder car left Denver at 11 o'clock this morning for Cheyenne, its next destination. The members of the party expected to leave this city at 6 o'clock this morning, but were delayed by repairs. It is hoped to reach Cheyenne tonight.

GAMES FOR PASADENA.

Pasadena will be given a chance to show what the fans there care for Pacific Coast League baseball some time this month. A number of sports have been after President Berry of the Los Angeles team for several weeks, trying to induce him to have at least one ball game a week transferred to Pasadena. Berry intends to try this when the Champions return from the North in two weeks. It is proposed to play at Pasadena every Thursday.

GREAT MOTORCYCLE HERE.

Twenty-Horse-Power Anzani Pacing Machine for Use on the Coliseum Track.

George Kreamer unpacked his great twenty-horse-power Anzani pacing machine, that arrived from Paris, yesterday. On the continent these freak machines are used to pace the long-distance bicycle riders and are therefore made to last through an hour or more of fast work, which means carrying a big supply of oil and gasoline and adoption of big heavy tires.

This Anzani weighs about 600 pounds because of the heavy construction and, compared to the light American racing machines, seems more like a freight truck.

The big 100-mile event at the Sunday meet on the Coliseum track will take up so much time that the management has decided to run but the one professional race. Before this event is called there will be the usual list of amateur events. The regular four-horse-power machine race is always a pleasing event, as it means a neck-and-neck contest between "Fearless" Balke and Huyck, the Chicago lad.

Preparations are being completed for the big event, as this is the most ambitious motorcycle event run in this country for a year or more. Each contestant expects to use three or more machines to get through the 100 miles and each will go into the contest like a prize fighter, with special clothes and paraphernalia.

It looks as though Paul Derkum was sure of the records above twenty-five miles, and all the fans are banking on the California lad for this part of the race. De Rosier will go after the records below twenty-five miles and will try to go at least fifty miles and more if his strength lasts, for the strain at the high speed is terrific. Derkum will not attempt to set a fast pace, but will depend on an even gait to last out the long grind. He hopes to average around fifty-five miles an hour and do the last ten miles as fast as fifty seconds to the mile, which would be wonderful. All the four professionals will start on seven-horse-power machines and then drop down on to single-cylinder machines to finish.

The races will begin, as usual, at 2:30 o'clock and the 100-mile race will be last.

WHITTIER, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the first game of the Lamor and Hamilton cup series, the college and High School played an eleven-inning tie game, the score being 7 to 7. Blount started the slab work for the college, but was replaced by Short in the seventh inning and he held the High School down to one hit. Donaghue started for the High School, but Haskell took his place and finished the game. The features were two running catches of long flies by Stamps. The line-up was as follows:

ARIZONANS PLAN BIG AUTO RACES.

LONG-DISTANCE EVENTS TO BE HELD NEXT FALL.

Los Angeles, El Paso and Tucson Will be the Destinations of Desert Racers—Many Summer Trips to Be Made to the Coast Over the Racing Course.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 14.—President George Purdy Bullard is making plans for several automobile competitions this fall, under the auspices of the Maricopa County Automobile Club.

It is proposed that a prize of $1000 shall be offered for another desert run from Los Angeles to Phoenix and other prizes for runs from El Paso and Tucson. The Arizona Gazette has offered a silver cup for the El Paso race and other valuable prizes are in prospect.

A half dozen Phoenix men expect to take their machines across country in June to Los Angeles, following out the same course, by way of Buckeye and Ehrenburg, as taken in last fall's race. They will make no attempt at high speed, but expect to get their machines through to Los Angeles in good shape for use along the coast during the summer.

P. H. Greer, of the Greer-Robbins Company of Los Angeles, agent for the Mitchell cars, lately visited the cities of Southern Arizona on a business trip, taking with him several cars for demonstration. S. W. Higley has taken the agency in Phoenix and has been reinforced by George C. Duesler of Los Angeles, former mechanician of Roy Knabenshue's air ships. About fifteen Mitchell cars have been sold already in Southern Arizona.

Hugh Hughes, who came to Phoenix with the Christy freak car last fair time, has returned and is now connected with a local garage. He lately made a trip to Globe by way of Roosevelt in an Oldsmobile car, which made the entire journey on the high speed. The car returned without a single break, though the road was rough for much of the way and the weather bad. The return trip from Globe to Tempe, a distance of 110 miles, was made in about eight hours, including several stops.

The automobile record from Roosevelt to Tempe was taken last week by Dr. Stone of Phoenix in 3 hr., 50 min., for the sixty-eight miles. The eighteen miles to Fish Creek were made in forty-five minutes and the tremendous climb up Fish Creek hill was done in six and a half minutes.

H. H. Maybury, of the National Bridge Company, and H. L. Smith, of the Union Iron Works, both Los Angeles residents, are in the valley trying to sell bridges to span Salt River. The latter part of last week was used by them in a trip to Roosevelt, to inspect the great dam. The trip was full of vicissitudes, their automobile breaking down repeatedly in almost every manner in which an automobile may fail. They were due at a meeting at Mesa Saturday evening and managed to keep the engagement by walking the last eight miles of the journey.

F. J. McCarty of Maricopa last week invested in Los Angeles in a Stoddard-Dayton car and started home with it with a couple of frineds. He made the trip over the desert with little trouble, taking it easy and camping out at nights.

BERT LATHAM MOVES.

Bert Latham has taken a position as salesman with the Los Angeles Motor Car Company. Hereafter Bert will be seen on a Locomobile. It is possible that Leavitt may use Latham to drive "Casey Jones" or other fast Locos in coming race meets. Latham severed his connection with Huntley L. Gordon of the Stearns agency last night and will be on hand at Locomobile headquarters this morning.

FLOUR GOES UP.

Portland Millers Announce Sharp Advance in Price with Supply Very Low.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The sharpest advance recorded in flour values in a long time was announced by Portland millers tonight to take effect tomorrow. The advance on patents is forty cents a barrel and brings the wholesale price up to $6.05, the highest flour price in years. Puget Sound millers will lift quotations the same amount. Exports have advanced 20 cents, making the price $4.70 a barrel.

Supplies of wheat in the Pacific Northwest have run very low and there will be none to carry over into the new crop. What surplus of flour there is of the cheaper grades will probably be shipped East, the high prices closing the Asiatic market. The advance is the fourth this year.

NIAGARA ICE MOVING.

LEWISTON (N. Y.) April 14.—The ice in the Niagara Gorge has settled considerably and shows that several of the docks have been wrenched from their moorings and that the damage will be more serious than had been suspected. Damage to the Niagara gorge railroad, however, is not so serious as was believed. There is a steady flow of ice from the Upper Niagara River over the falls.

CROSS SNOW BLOCKADE.

DENVER, April 14.—Passengers on the Denver, Northwestern and Pacific train, which has been snowbound for two days, near Earl at the top of the Continental Divide, were this morning transferred across the huge snow drifts and resumed their westward journey. Two derailed rotary plows still block the tracks. The Colorado and Southern late yesterday succeeded in breaking the snow blockade between Como and Breckenridge.

Health Regained by System of Stomach Treatment.

The remarkable success which has attended L. T. Cooper in the introduction in Los Angeles of his preparations for the regulation of the stomach and the general upbuilding of systems worn out by improper diet and long neglect, continues uninterruptedly. Scores of persons suffering from ailments easily traceable to stomach disorders of some sort, call on him every day at the Owl Drug Store, No. 625 South Broadway, to hear an explanation of the treatment or submit testimonials to its efficacy in cases where it has been used. Among his callers yesterday was A. T. Van Sickle of Westgate, Cal., who is in the oil and mining business, with offices in this city. He said:

"My wife had stomach trouble in a very aggravated form nearly all her life. It was of the catarrhal kind, with every symptom present. She suffered acutely after eating because of continual belching, and her head ached so much she rarely got a good night's sleep. She tried numerous remedies and I called doctors to see her, but nothing satisfactory resulted until I obtained the Cooper treatment for her. She took it with careful regard for directions, and it was only a short time before I noticed she was rapidly improving. A little later she began to eat regularly and relished her food. I have no hesitancy in saying that she is now, in point of health, a new woman. She takes an astonishingly keen interest in all the affairs of her life and is never troubled by insomnia, nausea nor any of the other ills that once made her life miserable. We are both convinced that this surprising restoration of health was due entirely to the Cooper treatment, and we haven't words enough at our command to say how highly we regard it."

In an interview Cooper said: "Ever since people in Los Angeles and surrounding towns began taking my preparation I have had thousands of letters and verbal testimonials to its value in cases of stomach trouble. It is my firm belief that the condition of the blood is regulated absolutely by the stomach. Give man or woman a sound, properly-working digestive apparatus, and all other things will care for themselves. Perfect health is secured and maintained solely by getting every particle of vitality out of all food, and transferring it to the bowels in a perfectly digested form. Do this much and you have an active, healthy liver, blood rich and free from impurities, bowels in proper condition, the nervous system normal and the whole body sound, vigorous and in complete harmony with nature.—[Adv.

LAND $125 PER ACRE.

I have twenty-eight acres, right near Garden Grove, fine land with cheap water, now planted in berries and rented at $7 per acre. Best land for the money that I know of near Los Angeles. The rent pays a fair interest and you can get the increase in value; surrounding lands are priced at $250 to $300 per acre. Better come in and see me about this bargain.

FOUR FOR ONE WITHIN 12 MONTHS IS a conservative estimate of the probabilities in Clark Copper. The Mexican property just acquired will justify employment of 200 men. The report of Engineer E. M. Clark shows a great quantity of ore, containing from $5 silver and $4 copper to $250 silver and $60 copper to the ton. The property has yielded over $16,000,000 and history of two adjoining properties proves there are many millions more back of and below ore now in sight. Don't listen to "bear" talk of interested brokers. Get facts from company or BLAGGE, Member Los Angeles Stock Exchange, 322 Security Bldg. F3000. 15

WISE TRADERS WILL INSIST UPON EXchange floor transactions and pay brokers regular commission. Others looking for "bargains" at "net" or "office" prices invariably get "skinned." Further valuable information upon request. BLAGGE, Member Los Angeles Stock Exchange, 322 Security Bldg. F3000. 15

WILL AID IN CLEANING WASHINGTON STREETS.

Mrs. Robert M. La Follette wife of Wisconsin Senator, who has promised to co-operate in scrubbing streets of capital.

THEY KNOW HOW.

WASHINGTON WOMEN TO CLEAN UP CITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The women of Washington, who announced that if the streets were not cleaned by April 15 they would clean them, have decided that the commissioners are not doing anything in that line and have completed their preparations to scrub up.

Mrs. Robert M. La Follette and others in official circles have written to Mrs. F. V. Colville, chairman of the committee, promising coöperation.

Mrs. Colville had sent invitations to women of the closer suburbs of the capital to join the movement and the response is enthusiastic.

The women have decided that they will go beyond the moral reproof to be contained in their street cleaning. One of the greatest complaints is that after the contracting wagons have picked up rubbish it is scattered again over the streets as the wagons are not covered. The women have engaged an attorney and will try, through the courts, to compel the commissioners to cover the wagons.

ROWING.

NEW EVENT FOR BIG REGATTA.

FOUR-OARED 'VARSITY RACE MAY BE ROWED.

California Wants the Event, But Stanford Demurs—State 'Varsity Crew Is Selected and no Changes Are Expected Before the Race Saturday.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 12.—If the present plans of the California athletic authorities do not miscarry, a four-oared 'varsity race will be added to the list of races at the Stanford-California regatta on April 17. Coach Witter and the rowing men are strongly in favor of such a race for a distance of two miles, and many of the Stanford men have expressed themselves as of the same opinion. Capt. Reynolds of Stanford is said to favor the plan, but Dan Murphy is somewhat opposed to it. Chances are bright for the race being rowed and if it is, the regatta then will include every event held in the big regattas of the East.

The Department of Commerce and Labor has promised that revenue cutters will be provided to police the course on the Oakland estuary the morning of the race, while negotiations are under way with the Southern Pacific for several observation trains, which will be able to follow the entire course except for a few yards at the start. The freshman and 'varsity eight-oared races will be for a distance of three miles, and the finish will be off the end of the Alameda mole.

The 'varsity crew will row as follows unless Coach Witter changes his mind at the last moment: No. 1, Markwart; No. 2, Davis; No. 3, Hardy; No. 4, Dignan; No. 5, Ashley; No. 6, Capt. Ball; No. 7, Davidson; No. 8, Robertson; coxswain, McSpadden. Capt. Ball has rowed in two races against Stanford and once against Washington, while Robertson, Ashley, Dignan and Davidson are veterans of last season. McSpadden steered the 'varsity in its victory over Stanford in 1908.

Of the new men, Hardy rowed on the 1911 freshman intercollegiate crew last spring, while Davis and Markwart have rowed on their class eights in the interclass regattas. The 'varsity substitutes are Cope of Santa Ana, Langstroth, E. V. Ball and Blake. With the exception of Ball, all rowed in the freshman eight last spring.

MAKE-UP OF TEAM.

The 'varsity will average over 170 pounds, and the lightest man in the boat is Davis, who does not weigh 160. His remarkable strength and fine oarsmanship make up for his lack of weight. Witter is teaching Courtney's Cornell stroke and has laid especial emphasis on the slide work. As a result there is no rushing and the boat runs smoothly, gaining with each stroke.

The 'varsity race will be over a course of three miles, while the freshman race will be but for two. Nearly a month ago Murphy and Turner of Stanford agreed to a two-mile freshman race. At present they are working for a three-mile race. Coach Witter and Manager Merritt say that Stanford will be held to her agreement and that the freshman race will be for two miles or not at all. The California babies are capable of rowing three miles, but the apparent reason for the shortened distance is that it is felt to be unwise to subject the men to the strain of the longer race.

The freshman crew has not been announced, but the men who will probably row are Capt. Bell, Cox, Small, Maynard, Maletesta, Doud, Ingram and Taafe, with Duff as coxswain. Quitzow may displace Taafe.

Treasurer Lathrop of Stanford University has given a trophy cup for the 'varsity race valued at $100. The cup is to become the permanent property of the eight winning it on April 17.

Unless some satisfactory agreement can be arrived at with Washington, it seems quite probable that no matter whether Stanford or California wins the regatta here, neither crew will go north. Washington is holding out for a four-mile course on the lake water, while Coach Witter and Coach Murphy say they will row not more than three. While moved somewhat by the current [illegible] in college rowing circles to eliminate the four-mile race, their chief reason, is, the fact that neither Stanford nor California can get a four-mile straightaway course on which to train. If Washingthon will agree to a three-mile race, the winning crew here will go north.

The proposed regatta at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific fair between California, Stanford, Washington and Wisconsin probably will not take place. The fair officials were profuse in their invitations, but when it came to supplying money for transportation there was nothing doing. Wisconsin has sent word that it would be impossible for it to consider the western trip owing to the Poughkeepsie regatta.

"FLEA BITES!" SAYS LUMMIS.

Public Librarian, Back at His Post, Makes Light of the "Library Fuss."

Brown from sun and wind in the "high and dry" of New Mexico and Arizona—his first outing in two years—and considerably relieved of the inflammatory rheumatism which has tortured him for five months, Charles F. Lummis is back at his post. During his absence, he states he has worked out the details of his "poison-label" plan for unreliable text-books. "Within ten years," says Lummis, "every important library in America will realize this responsibility to its patrons, and will meet it in this way or some other. The Los Angeles Public Library is the pioneer.

"Library fuss? Oh, flea bites! They are periodic. I haven't heard anything about it except a few hints during my absence. Every so often some well-meaning persons, who don't use the library themselves, and who know little of what it was, and is, and should be—what the library profession is doing—but who take irresponsible gossip too solemnly, have to make a spectacle of the city. It never comes to anything—for the gossip falls flat when tested. Our record is in black and white. We have the powder; if there should come a chance to use it there wouldn't be another flea bite in ten years."

HIS "SWAGGER" DECEIVED.

Russian Poses as Agent of His Government and Gets Checks Cashed—Arrested.

Local police are looking for Zach T. Rovensky, a self-styled special agent of the Russian government, who obtained a considerable sum of money recently, from Avalon business men, through the medium of bogus checks. According to Avalon dispatches Rovensky appeared in the Catalina port several weeks ago and announced that he had been sent to Southern California by the Russian government to study the conditions of Russian immigrants on the Pacific Coast.

He was quite swagger, after the foreign manner, and cut a wide swath. At first he spent his money freely and then began to issue checks. He made the checks payable to himself and signed them with a rubber stamp reading "Imperial Russian Consulate," then a signature "Prince N. Pataschnikof," and again a stamp "Vice-Consul." All the checks were drawn on the Securities Savings Bank of this city.

Because of Rovensky's style and the manner in which he spent money when he first arrived at the island, his checks were freely cashed, but before the bogus paper was returned he had disappeared. Rovensky is about 23 years of age, and dressed in the height of fashion.

INSURANCE WORLD.

A thousand agents are to be dropped by the New York Life Insurance Company because of the decision of the Supreme Court of New York that the State law is constitutional which limits the amount of new business any company may do in a calendar year to $150,000,000. The company had to stop receiving business before the end of last year, because of having reached the legal limit.

The insurance companies doing business in Ohio did not make as much last year as in 1907. The total amount of insurance written was $2,600,000 less than in 1907, while the amount of losses paid increased $19,000,000.

A company has been organized in Denmark to insure and reassure young women who dread becoming old maids. A girl who takes out a policy pays a fixed sum every year. If she finds a husband before she reaches forty, she is presumed to have received her money's worth and the policy lapses, the sum she has paid in going to a general fund for the benefit of her less fortunate sisters. If she is unmarried when she is forty she begins to receive an annual pension, which continues through the rest of her life or until she marries.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition has taken out a million dollars insurance on the paintings to be exhibited at the exposition. Now that the policy has been negotiated the collection of paintings will be at once entered upon.

Representative Frisbie of the New York Legislature says the insurance laws enacted by the last Legislature caused losses by insurance companies of that State as follows: Equitable, $13,647,814; Mutual, $14,352,605; New York Life, $11,781,583. During the same time companies in other States showed these gains: Massachusetts Mutual, $10,011,357; Mutual Benefit, Newark, N. J., $78,504,437; National Life, Montpelier, Vt., $2,368,562; Northwestern Mutual, Milwaukee, $68,013,026; Penn Mutual of Philadelphia, $20,731,966; Travelers of Hartford, $13,432,035; Union Central of Cincinnati, $12,652,734.

The recent failure of one of the brokerage firms in the syndicate of Lloyds, London, has raised the question of the financial strength of the syndicate. The underwriters are not now obliged to make statements showing assets and liabilities.

WOULD START STEAMER LINE.

Colored Men Have Option on Tramp Vessel.

If Money Is Raised in Time Ship Will Sail.

May Ply Between San Pedro and Liberia.

The mystery of the call of the English tramp steamer Georgia at San Pedro was cleared yesterday when a score of negroes from Los Angeles, reputed stockholders in the Ethiopian-American Steamship Company, inspected the vessel in the outer harbor, where she anchored upon her arrival Tuesday. The company has an option for the purchase of the steamer.

The promoters have not been free in divulging their plans, but it is understood they have paid $100 cash for the option, and the price placed on the steamer by her owner, the Canadian-Mexican Steamship Company, is $30,000. How much of this has been raised the promoters will not say, but so far as can be learned the exchequer of the company is not bulging with gold.

J. E. Lewis of Los Angeles is the president and chief promoter of the Ethiopian-American Steamship Company, and his plans are laid on a scale that has caused some of his brethren to gasp. He would capitalize it at $1,000,000. Rosy pictures of the possibilities of a steamship line from San Pedro to Monrovia, the capital of the negro republic of Liberia in Africa, have been painted in efforts to interest members of the race. The scheme has been the talk of the colored population of this city for several months, and many of them are open in declaring it impracticable.

"Where is the money to come from?" said one last night. "Thirty thousand dollars is a big sum to raise among the colored people of this or any other city. But if they raised the money to buy a ship, how would they equip and operate it? It takes three months to make the trip to Monrovia, and it would cost a lot of money for such a voyage. For one I don't take any stock in it and I don't think many other colored people do."

The Georgia is not the first boat on which an option has been sought by the Ethiopian-American Steamship Company. A local steamship agent negotiated with the owners of several vessels for the promoters, but there was not sufficient money in sight to enable him to close any deal.

The Georgia is under charter for the round trip, Victoria to Salina Cruz, and the prospective buyers will take possession at the end of the voyage—providing the $30,000 is raised.

Harry Gillig Falls Victim to Heart Trouble.

Was Last Male of the Noted Pioneer Family.

His Mother Is Prostrated by Death of Her Son.

Harry Gillig, bon vivant, clubman, and last surviving male member of the famous California pioneer family of that name, died Tuesday night at 10:20 o'clock at the Hotel Fremont in this city, from heart trouble. Gillig returned only two months ago from the Nauheim Baths in Germany, and though the direct illness which caused his death was only of two weeks' duration, he had been ill for several years.

His mother, Mrs. Rebecca Gillig, was at the bedside when the end came, and was prostrated. Yesterday she was confined to her apartments at the Hotel Fremont and was under the care of physicians. Private funeral services will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the undertaking rooms of Peck & Chase, after which the remains will be cremated at Evergreen Cemetery.

MANY CLUBS KNEW HIM.

Gillig was well-known in Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York and Paris club circles. In San Francisco he was one of the best known members of the Bohemian Club, and when news of his death reached that city the flag above the club was lowered to half mast. In this city he was a frequenter of the California Club, when he did not put up at downtown hotels. In New York he was a member of the Lambs Club and of the Larchmont Yacht Club, of which he was a commodore. In Paris he has for years been one of the best-known American summer residents. Several years ago, as a member of the Larchmont club, he floated one of the nattiest yachts which flew the club pennant.

About fifteen years ago Gillig sprung into ultra-prominence through his marriage to the beautiful Amy Crocker, who had just been divorced from R. Porter Ashe. The couple on their honeymoon made a tour of the world, but after three years separated and were divorced twelve years ago. Mrs. Gillig since married a wealthy New York man.

Gillig was born about 50 years ago in Sacramento, the son of John and Rebecca Gillig. His father was at that time storekeeper in Sacramento, but at the time of the famous Comstock strike at Virginia City moved to Nevada and became connected with the Flood O'Brien and other interests. Fortune smiled on the elder Gillig, and he became a millionaire.

FORTUNE SHRINKS.

Following the attainment of immense wealth the family made their home in San Francisco, but through depreciation of stock values the Gillig fortune shrunk considerably. However, when the elder Gillig died about six years ago, he left a comfortable fortune to his wife and only son.

Harry Gillig had most of his money invested in Los Angeles real estate, and property was estimated at $100,000.

Prior to ten years ago the Gilligs made their home in San Francisco, but since that time Harry Gillig has been a wanderer over the globe. His winters were usually spent with his mother in this city, but in the summer he would journey to New York, Atlantic Coast watering places or Paris. Gillig was always fascinated with the East, and after his marriage to Amy Crocker the couple made their home in a palatial residence on Long Island.

BEAUTIFUL VOICE.

He was educated in Harvard University. In his youth he evinced a love for music, and possessed a beautiful voice, which was pronounced by leading masters as one of the best baritones ever heard in the country. He studied under the best masters in Europe. Gillig sang in German, French, Italian and English.

Several months ago Gillig was advised by his physicians that he was suffering from valvular trouble of the heart, and told to go to Nauheim and take the waters. He followed the advice, and visited Germany with his mother. About two months ago he returned to Los Angeles, and has since lived at the Fremont. Friends here have long feared for his health. About two weeks ago he suffered a collapse, and since that time little hope has been held out for his recovery.

Among Gillig's closest friends was Walter S. Maxwell, the well-known Los Angeles broker, who is assisting in making the funeral arrangements. San Francisco advices last night stated also that Willard Barton, an old-time friend of Gillig, would arrive in the city today to assist Mrs. Gillig.

BOY ACKNOWLEDGES HALF.

Royal F. Wooster, a 15-year-old lad, was arrested last evening by Detectives Cowan and Home on a charge of larceny preferred by W. H. Fussell, a grocer at Third street and Grand avenue. Fussell alleges that Wooster has been clerking for him and "knocked down" $120. To police last night young Wooster stated that his thefts amounted to $60. The lad was taken to the Detention Home until his case can be heard in the Juvenile Court.

BREAD WILL BE LUXURY.

Mills of State to Raise Price of Flour to Highest Point in Many Years.

Today every flour mill in California will raise the price of flour. An additional charge of 20 cents a barrel will be made, placing the cost of bread-making material at the highest point in years. This information was given last night by W. H. Joyce, manager of the Globe Grain and Milling Company. There is a shortage of wheat on the Pacific Coast and some of the mills may have to suspend operations in consequence.

GOOD REALTY FINDS SALE.

In the sale yesterday of seventy-five feet frontage on the west side of Hill street, 250 feet south of the southwest corner of Sixth, for $135,000, more substantial evidence that the local real estate market is improving is furnished. The deal was made through Bryan & Bradford, who have figured lately in various important sales.

The property is part of the first lot owned by the Y.M.C.A. It is 155 feet deep to an alley, and unimproved save for one or two frame buildings of nominal value. It was sold for Mrs. Nellie Wiley to the Ontario Investment Company, of which J. B. Chaffey is secretary. The property is only seventy feet from the property now being improved by the Consolidated Realty Company with a ten-story reinforced concrete structure. The buyer will hold for a time, and build when a suitable tenant is found. The price is at the rate of $1800 a front foot.

BROKER BROWN COMING BACK.

Caught After Long Chase Up and Down Coast.

Japs and Hotel Employees in Mourning for Savings.

Frenzied Finance and a Pace Terrific Ended.

After a search far up and down the Coast, detectives yesterday located Harry D. Brown, a Los Angeles broker, in Fruitvale, and caused his arrest.

Information as to Brown's whereabouts was telephoned to the Chief of Police of Oakland at noon.

Brown was hiding, it is stated, in the home of Deputy Constable J. E. Becker of Fruitvale, and was surrendered only on the threat of detectives that they would take the officer into custody.

When the detectives went to Becker's home, the constable informed them that he had seen Brown start for Portland two days ago. While one detective held him in conversation the other went into the house and from the statements of Becker's wife determined that the man they wanted was in the building.

Returning to Becker, he ordered the constable to surrender the hunted man or go to jail himself. Becker led the officers to the basement of the house, where Brown was found lying on a mattress in a room screened from the street, and he was arrested. The prisoner was taken to Oakland and locked up. Detective Boyd will go for him today, and he will be tried here, on a charge of having passed worthless checks.

Brown set a terrific pace in this city and after his disappearance made a clever attempt to keep out of the reach of officers. In this he was hampered by the fact that while under 5 feet 6 inches in height, he weighs more than 325 pounds and could be easily identified.

He went from one city to another and in the course of his wanderings visited Tia Juana. The temperature there was too warm for comfort, so he went North.

While in San Francisco he learned that detectives were after him and he left for Portland. Then he went to Seattle and from there to Tacoma. He doubled back, with a score of officers in pursuit. The chiefs of police of every Coast city were watching for him. Reaching San Francisco again, he stayed there a short time and then went to Oakland and subsequently to Fruitvale.

In that little town Brown felt secure. He walked about the streets whenever he felt like it and this led to his arrest.

The warrants against the broker were sworn out by Joseph Rittigstein, a jeweler in the O. T. Johnson building. The amounts named aggregate $4000.

Brown had offices in a large downtown building. He made friends readily and soon had them gambling on his deals in a way that caused other brokers to hold their breath. A short time before the collapse of the bubble, Brown was complained of by a number of Japanese, who stated that they had been swindled out of their earnings. The broker had a Japanese accomplice who assured his countrymen of marvelous profits.

Hotel clerks, bellboys and other employés of local hotels, lost their savings by taking Brown's advice, it is alleged.

When the broker's checks for $4000 were presented at the bank, payment was refused, as he had no funds there. He is said to have asked for a little time, saying that he expected money from the North and would "make good." He disappeared on the day appointed for payment. An investigation of his affairs showed that he was in debt to the extent of more than $100,000, it is alleged.

It was reported that Brown had committed suicide, and while officers were searching for the body, he was in Mexico.

In addition to the two checks given to Rittigstein, a third, for $80, was passed at the Levy restaurant and is said to be worthless.

RELUCTANT.

TWO BIG ONES DUCK INQUIRY.

Harper and Kern Decline to Talk to Grand Jury.

Capt. Broadhead Shows Up, But He Says Nothing.

Indictments or a Report by End of This Week.

A. C. Harper, former Mayor of Los Angeles, and Edward Kern, late Chief of Police, declined to appear before the special grand jury yesterday and testify as to what they know regarding allegations of graft in the Tenderloin during their administration.

Thomas Broadhead, who succeeded Kern as Chief of Police, and who now is a captain in the department, appeared before the jury, but remained only five minutes, the indication being that he declined to testify.

All three are accused of wrongdoing in the story that Nick Oswald, former King of the Tenderloin, sold for $10,000 to E. T. Earl.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks admitted last night that the accused men could not be compelled to testify.

What may happen to Harper, Kern and Broadhead at the hands of the grand jury cannot even be surmised.

It may be that they will be ordered once more to appear, even though they do so solely for the purpose of declining to testify.

Broadhead took the precaution to appear, though he had the assurance of his attorney, H. H. Appel, that he could not be compelled to testify.

Appel also is the attorney for Harper and Kern, and it was on his advice that they failed to put in an appearance.

SOMETHING DOING SOON.

The grand jury is likely to reach some conclusion before the end of the present week; possibly by tomorrow night, maybe not until Saturday.

There may be no further indictments—though this is only a guess—but at least there will be a report that will make reading of a mighty interesting nature.

Some terrible things have been said of former city officials, but all that has come to light is looked upon as flimsy when considered as convicting evidence and it is hard to foretell how the nineteen members of the grand jury will look upon it.

Two of the surprises among the witnesses of yesterday were Dr. Sumner J. Quint, Police Surgeon, and his assistant, Dr. Charles Bonynge.

Their names have not been mentioned heretofore in connection with the case. No one seems to know why they were summoned.

Dr. Quint was before the jury twice during the afternoon. After being on the stand for a short time he left the juryroom, returning half an hour later with a bundle of books—apparently records of some kind, which he submitted to the inspection of the grand jury.

Dr. Bonynge was on the stand for only a short time.

The puzzling question to the outsiders was as to what connection the office of the police surgeon could have with the graft investigation.

BROADHEAD IN AND OUT.

Captain of Police Broadhead, who succeeded Kern as chief and remained in that position until the appointment of Edward F. Dishman as his successor, was the first witness called by the grand jury in the afternoon. He walked into the room, said a few words, and walked right out again.

Even the feeblest guesser among those stationed on the outside reached the conclusion that he gave his name, age and occupation, then refused to give any testimony.

It is the privilege of persons who have been accused to decline to testify.

Oswald was one of the witnesses who appeared in the morning. He was in the grand juryroom, or in the offices of the District Attorney, all day.

His chief henchman, William Lawrence Fetter, also was before the jury during the day. He appeared to be giving testimony as to the books he kept in connection with the records of the red-light district. He and Oswald were closeted for hours with Paul McCormick and Joseph Ford, deputies of the District Attorney, who, with Deputy Horton, have been assisting Capt. Fredericks in presenting the case to the grand jury.

Other witnesses of the morning were G. Kaeuffer, a druggist of No. 607 North Alameda street, and Pierre Lamberes, one of the French contingent that has been associated with Oswald.

Stringing Three Hundred Thousand Tags, a Large Undertaking.

Scene yesterday in one of the rooms in the Chamber of Commerce building, where preparations are going on for the Associated Charities' "Tag Day."

ACORNS AND OAKS.

COIN-WINNING PLANS MATURE.

"TAG DAY" PREPARATIONS ARE ON ELABORATE SCALE.

Associated Charities Has Large Force at Work and Expects to Sell Three Hundred Thousand Bits of Paper on May First—Whole County Interested.

"Tag Day" preparations are being made by the Associated Charities on an elaborate scale. Since it was announced that on May 1 the organization expected to raise $30,000, to relieve the wants of the hundreds of worthy poor, there has been "something doing" every minute.

A visitor to "Tag Day" headquarters, 540 Chamber of Commerce Building, discovers how great a stack 300,000 tags make. There are two rooms practically filled with them. They lie in heaps everywhere and are packed in mail bags and boxes. Twenty-one men and women were industriously tying the strings yesterday and there are enough tags to keep this force busy for the rest of this week.

Two young women from one of the church societies appeared there yesterday and tied 1000 tags, as their contribution to the cause of charity.

When all the strings are attached, the tags, which are printed four on a sheet and perforated, so as to be easily torn apart, will be counted into lots of fifty and placed in envelopes, so as to facilitate giving them out and keeping a record. Those prepared for the mail will be sent to individuals, whose names have been furnished.

On May 1, every man and woman in the county will be expected to pay at least 10 cents for a tag. The fund thus obtained will be used not only to help worthy applicants for charity, but also to establish a wood yard in this city, which will be under the control of the Charities Conference Committee, in which every charitable organization in the county is represented.

The committee was formed to do the greatest good to the greatest number and to discourage imposters.

WIRELESS EXPERIMENTING.

Southern Pacific School of Telegraphy Establishing a Station at San Bernardino.

To give students a practical knowledge of wireless telegraphy and at the same time to experiment with the system, the Southern Pacific School of Telegraphy will install a station in San Bernardino, to be operated in connection with the local plant at No. 542 Central avenue.

It is also the intention to have stations at points on the railroad where wires frequently go down during storms.

The local station has an aërial near the Arcade depot and students have been listening to the sending of the United and Pacific wireless operators, but have not been able to send without interfering with the regular business. When the San Bernardino station is ready, they will be able to both send and receive.

The Southern Pacific's school has an attendance of 130 at the present time, but is not able to supply as many graduates as are needed.

AT SIXTEENTH AND HILL.

Southeast Corner Is Sold for One Hundred Thousand Dollars and Will Be Improved.

The Title Insurance and Trust Company, has sold to Burbank & Baker, through the agency of Black Bros., and Choate & Stumpf, the southeast corner of Hill and Sixteenth streets, fronting 130 feet on Hill by 102 feet on Sixteenth street. The property is improved with a twenty-eight room flat building, an eight-room house and a six-room cottage, yielding a good rental. The consideration was $100,000.

It is the intention of the purchasers to erect in the immediate future a modern pressed brick apartment building, for which plans are now being prepared.

STOMACH-PERIL.

POISONED FRUIT CLAIMS VICTIMS.

STRAWBERRY PLANTS DOCTORED TO KILL WORMS.

Japanese Gardeners at Gardena and Elsewhere Principal Offenders. Chief of Police Asks Horticultural Commission to Prevent Use of Solution That Endangers Lives.

Scores of people in this city have been poisoned during the past few days, by strawberries, shipped from Japanese gardens.

Complaints were so numerous yesterday, that Chief of Police Dishman sent a letter to the Horticultural Commission, asking its members to put a stop to the use of poison to kill insects on strawberry plants.

The Japanese are practically the only offenders, according to the reports. Early in the season, worms made their appearance in great numbers and as a last resort gardeners used some powerful solution to destroy them.

Although the fruit was made unfit for use, it was sold to local dealers, and the many cases of poisoning resulted.

"This matter was called to my attention first by a physician," said Chief Dishman yesterday. "He told me of several cases he had attended. The solution put on the plants was not strong enough to cause fatal results, but the victims have been very ill."

CONSOLIDATION PLANS.

Los Angeles Committee Will Consider Them This Afternoon—All Sides to Be Given Hearing.

President Stoddard Jess of the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee has called a meeting of the committee for this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the offices of the Los Angeles Harbor Commission in the Central building, Sixth and Main streets.

At that time there will be further discussion of the project for the union of San Pedro, Wilmington and Los Angeles, though no definite steps will be taken as to the campaign that is to be instituted within the next few weeks.

The principal work to be undertaken today, according to Mr. Jess, will be the selection of the various subcommittees that will look after the campaign.

"One thing is certain," said Mr. Jess, "we shall hear all sides and endeavor to learn just exactly what is wanted by the people of all the territory concerned. Every side will have a hearing, and no conclusion will be reached until it is found that we can meet on common ground."

NEW WHISKY, OLD BARRELS.

Government to Seize Big Maryland Distillery Under Forfeiture.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Formal instructions were issued today to Collector Goldsborough at Baltimore, directing him to seize the plant of the Carroll Springs Distillery Company, one of the largest registered grain distilleries in Maryland.

The government wil take possession of nearly 8000 barrels of whisky.

An investigation has shown, it is alleged, that the law was being violated sufficiently to cause the forfeiture of the plant. It is said the charges involve the discovery of new whisky in old barrels, the substitution of new whisky for older whisky and its removal without the payment of $1.10 a gallon to the government and the substitution of gin for whisky.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor warns place hunters that they are wasting time in haunting his office.

James A. Pfeifer, serving thirty years at San Quentin for robbing and shooting Frank G. Johannsen, yesterday, refused to implicate T. J. Garwood in the job, during the latter's trial in Judge Wilbur's court.

The will of Merced Abbott, a pioneer of Los Angeles, was admitted to probate without a contest. The property involved amounts to $215,000.

E. Ellsworth Rowell, a former mining promoter was arrested on a civil action and admitted to $10,000 bail.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NO JOBS OPEN SAYS THE MAYOR.

HE WARNS PLACE HUNTERS THEY ARE WASTING TIME.

New Executive Has His First Breathing Spell in Office and Discourses on Things Not in Mind of Candidate—Will Visit Aqueduct Work Next Month.

"This is the first day I have had a breathing spell," said the Mayor yesterday. He was alone in his office, with nothing to do.

"I wish people would understand," he added, "that I cannot give places to people. Half my trouble since I took office has come from persons who demanded offices and positions. There is nothing worth having that is not governed by civil service regulations, and people waste their own time and mine in seeking appointments. There are none to make.

"Then there has been an army of indigent persons, who not only ask, but demand, the privilege of soliciting and peddling without paying license fees. I have no power to suspend the laws, and it takes a whole lot of time to make them understand this. The Council has appropriated $25 monthly to the Associated Charities for this purpose, and deprived the Mayor of any power to grant free licenses. I hate to refuse, but I must."

The Mayor gazed at the three big vases of flowers on his desk and sighed.

"I have been importuned by a dozen influential persons," he said, "to permit a child under age to appear in theatrical performances. I have never had such pressure brought on me. The child is precocious, but his appearance would be in violation of the law. Yet these good people insist that I do something. There are some things about the Mayor's office that the candidate never dreams of."

In addition to the things enumerated by Mr. Alexander, he is receiving all kinds of demands to interest himself in new organizations, to speak at dinners and banquets, to investigate culverts in Garvanza, to inspect cement walks that are objected to by property owners, and a multitude of similar things.

"I'll be 70 in September," said the Mayor, as he brushed off his ink pad, his final act before going home, "and I am a pretty tough piece of timber, but the daily programme that I would have to follow if I did as all asked me would kill me in a week."

The Mayor's new Park Commission met yesterday and decided to hold a special meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and make an auto trip to the parks. All the business before the commission was postponed until that time. It was also decided to hold the regular meetings of the commission Wednesday afternoons at 4 o'clock instead of in the morning, as has been the custom for years.

The Mayor is to meet his new Police Commission in an adjourned session tonight, and Chief Dishman is to be present for a conference. The Chief said yesterday that he had no drastic recommendations to make.

William Mulholland, chief engineer of the aqueduct, yesterday visited the Mayor and asked him to join him and W. M. Humphreys and W. B. Mathews on a six days' trip over the aqueduct work, but the Mayor declined. He said he would arrange to make the trip next month. The official party will leave the City Hall in an auto this morning at 8 o'clock. The trip is largely for the information of Mr. Humphreys, the new member of the Board of Public Works.

REVOKE BAKERY PERMITS.

Bakery Inspector Caldwell called on the Mayor yesterday and requested that the Health Board, of which the Mayor is chairman, revoke all bakery permits that have not been called for at the City Clerk's office. Under the ordinance a permit must be called for within ten days after its issuance, and must be kept on the premises of the holder. Caldwell says these permits are not called for, and he is unable to determine whether the license fees have been paid or not when he inspected the bakeries. There are 285 establishments in his charge, including all plants manufacturing food from flour or meal. The Mayor promised that the permits would be revoked if the ordinance was not complied with literally in the future.

TO DEVELOP ARID LAND.

Three Hundred and Sixty Thousand Acres in Imperial Valley Is Withdrawn from Entry.

Formal notice of the withdrawal from entry of 360,000 acres of land in the Imperial Valley was received yesterday at the local land office. The letter stated the Reclamation Service had in view a project for developing the section of arid land, lying north and east of the settled portion of the valley.

The land thus withdrawn from entry embraces the following:

Township, 9 south, range 12 east, all; 10 south, 12 east, sections 1 to 12, inclusive; 9 south, 13 east, sections 13 to 36, inclusive; sections 10, 11 and 12 south, 13 east, all; 9 south, 14 east, sections 19 to 36, inclusive; 10, 11 and 12 south, 14 east, all; 10, 11 and 12 south, 15 east, all; 13 south, 15 east, sections 1 to 5, 7 to 17, 21 to 29, 32 to 36 inclusive; 14 south, 15 east, sections 1 to 3, 10 to 14, 23 to 26, 35 and 36, inclusive; 15 south, 15 east, sections 1 and 2; 10 south, 16 east, sections 19, 20, 21, 28 and 33; 11 south, 16 east, sections 4 to 9, 16 to 21, 28 to 33; 12 south, 16 east, sections 4 to 9, 16 to 21, 28 to 33, inclusive; 13 south, 16 east, sections 4 to 9, 16 to 21, 28 to 33, inclusive; 14 south, 16 east, sections 4 to 9, 28 to 33, 16 to 21, inclusive; 15 south, 16 east, sections 16, 18, 20, 21, 28, 29, 32 and 33; 16 south, 16 east, sections 4, 5, 21, 28, 29, 31, 32 and 33; 17 south, 16 east, all.

PETITIONS FOR BANKRUPTCY.

Ernest B. Gray of Azusa filed a bankruptcy petition in the United States District Court, yesterday. His stated liabilities are $1250. The assets are claimed to be exempt.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

STATE WITNESS SHIELDS FRIEND.

BANDIT TESTIFIES IN COURT "THE OTHER WAY."

Brought from San Quentin, Where He Is Serving Sentence of Thirty Years, Pfeifer Refuses to Implicate Former Pal in Robbery and Shooting of Temple-street Grocer.

The District Attorney's office picked up a live wire when they brought James A. Pfeifer, who is serving a thirty years' sentence at San Quentin, to testify against his alleged pal, T. J. Garwood, charged with being concerned in the hold-up of Frank G. Johannsen, a grocer at Olive and Temple streets, the night of December 23, last.

Pfeifer and Gavin are in prison, the latter with fifty years ahead of him at Folsom. It was expected that in consideration of a pleasant ride down the coast and a few days off from his stunt in the big prison foundry that Pfeifer would give testimony to convict Garwood, but the unexpected happened.

Pfeifer not only shielded Garwood in his testimony, as far as the case proceeded, but in addition he suffered a lapse of memory as to the connection of Garwood with the job, as testified in the preliminary hearing in Police Court.

Pfeifer did admit that he knew Garwood, and that he had met him several months before the attack upon Johannsen, at the rooms of Garwood on Second street. Asked if Garwood had not induced Gavin and himself to commit the robbery while he stayed outside the place, Pfeifer sullenly replied:

"I did not need anybody to induce me; I am more than 21 years of age."

He acknowledged that he, with Gavin, had done the work, and said, so far as he was concerned, he did it because he was broke.

When pressed for information linking Garwood with the job, he said that he did not care to say anything about it, and at all stages sought to shield Garwood, except to acknowledge that he knew the accused, and esteemed him as a friend.

All of the queries put to Pfeifer were objected to by Attorney Robinson, in behalf of Garwood, and the court and the lawyer came very near having a "run-in" on the pressing of the objections, Judge Wilbur threatening to commit Robinson for contempt if he did not cease being so vigorous and obstreperous.

Mrs. I. E. Bowman, sister of Garwood, was an interested visitor in the courtroom, and during the testimony of Pfeifer the wan little woman looked appealingly into the eyes of the convict on the stand, and her appeals were not unheeded. Garwood himself sat as pale as death, looking intently into the eyes of his former partner, twisting nervously a bit of paper he held in his hands. Mrs. Bowman is said to be the wife of a rich rancher in this State.

Frank G. Johannsen testified as to his wounds, and said the work had been done by Gavin and Pfeifer; he did not see Garwood.

J. R. Callahan saw Garwood standing across the street from the scene of the shooting, just before the alarm was given, and a few days before met Gavin, Pfeifer and Garwood on Grand avenue, where their conduct was so suspicious that he avoided them. He thought they were hold-up men.

The examination of Pfeifer will be resumed this morning.

COMPROMISE REACHED.

NO CONTEST IN ABBOTT WILL.

The will of the late Merced Abbott, widow of William Abbott, well known in the early history of Los Angeles, was admitted to probate in Judge Rives's court yesterday. There had been some talk of a contest in the matter, but an amicable arrangement was reached and there was no objection to the probate. The will disposes of property valued at about $215,000.

The entire holding, consisting largely of real estate in Watts, Santa Monica and on Main street, this city, is bequeathed to the children of the deceased, John, Frank, Katherine Carmelita, Selma, William and Mercy Merced Abbott, with Frank Abbott as executor of his mother's estate without bond. The will was executed November 13, 1908.

PHILLIPS ESTATE.

WILL BE NO GUARDIAN.

It was asserted in Judge Rives's court yesterday, that there will be no further effort to have a guardian appointed for the aged Ira Phillips. It was expected that the guardianship issue would be brought up in the Probate Court, but the statement was made that the trouble had been amicably arranged, with the understanding that no action should be taken involving the appointment of a guardian for Phillips.

The petition for such appointment was filed by Ira Phillips, a son and the only child of the venerable man, who was angered at his father for eloping some months ago in an automobile to Santa Ana and marrying his nurse. While no information could be secured in regard to the terms of the settlement, it is understood that Phillips and his wife are to be allowed to enjoy undisturbed his holdings, while proper allowance has been made for the son. This will further appear when the case comes up for final adjudication tomorrow.

ROWELL AGAIN ARRESTED.

CIVIL COMPLAINT FILED.

E. Ellsworth Rowell, the mining promoter who only got out of jail Tuesday on $11,000 bond, had a narrow escape yesterday from again breaking into the barred inclosure. But, as on the former occasion, Mrs. Mary Mintier, a wealthy woman of Pasadena, who qualified as a "capitalist" in Judge James' court, and Warren Wilson, came to his relief, and they signed a bond for $10,000 for Rowell's appearance when desired.

The action grew out of the filing of a civil action against Rowell by B. Hospers, who was in a measure mixed up with the criminal charges against Rowell, LeBaron and Johnson. Hospers claims in his petition that on December 30, 1907, he entered into a partnership with Rowell to handle mortgages and other investment securities, and that he furnished $19,530 for the enterprise. Under the arrangement there was to be an accounting by Rowell every twenty days, and good returns were guaranteed by Rowell and J. M. Poundstone, who was engaged in exploiting a mine in the State of Chihuahua, Mex.

It is further claimed by Hospers that on March 1, last, he demanded an accounting of Rowell, when he found that the latter was indebted to him more than $70,000. He asked for a final accounting, a judgment for $25,000, and an order for the arrest of Rowell, there being fraud alleged.

The order of arrest was issued out of Judge James' court and Rowell promptly appeared with his friends, who at once qualified and he was released.

The hearing of Rowell, LeBaron and Johnson, on criminal charges in connection with the imaginary Mexican mine, is booked for Justice Stephens' court, this morning.

BACK FROM MEXICO.

FACES CRIMINAL CHARGE.

Charles H. McCarthy, who claims to be a contractor operating in Mexico until recently, was convicted in Judge Willis' court yesterday, of giving a check for $35 on the American National Bank, with no funds there. He will be sentenced Saturday.

McCarthy told a queer story on the stand. He said that he was married in Mexico to a handsome young woman, the date of the ceremony being May 20, last. In the following August she left him and returned to her former home in Kansas City. While they were living together he gave her his money and it was deposited in the bank in question to their joint account, but after the desertion she drew out all of the funds, although he did not discover that fact until he found that his check had been dishonored.

Mrs. McCarthy was brought to Los Angeles to testify against her husband, but objection being made that she was not eligible to testify against her husband under the laws of California, she was not used.

NO LICENSE ISSUED.

CHILDREN WOULD MARRY.

Mrs. George Burzell appeared in Judge Rives's court yesterday and asked that she be appointed guardian of her niece, Gertrude Ogden, aged 17, who desired to marry W. C. Herrick, a barber. The girl being under age and without parents, it was necessary that legal consent be given to allow her to become a wife. Miss Ogden was in the courtroom, and took the greatest interest in the questions the court asked of her aunt.

"If she were your daughter would you consent to her marrying?" asked Judge Rives.

"I certainly would; her intended can make her a good husband, and she is a good girl," said the woman. Whereat the maiden beamed her joy and contentment.

Mrs. Burzell further stated that the mother of Herrick was in the city to give her consent to the wedding of her son, who was but 17 years old, but there must have been a misconnection somewhere, for although Judge Rives appointed the woman the young girl's guardian, and thus removed all legal obstacle on her side to her union with the barber, there was no call at the Clerk's office for the license.

ALLEGED FRAUD.

WOMAN WINS HER CASE.

Judge Conrey yesterday awarded $2900 to Sarah M. Giguere in her action against J. H. G. Stodden to recover the value of real estate in Sawtelle and a chattel mortgage on the St. Paul Hotel, No. 243½ South Spring street. The decision was for the full amount claimed by the plaintiff.

In December, 1906, through a newspaper advertisement, Miss Giguere entered into a series of transactions with the defendant. She owned a house and lot in Sawtelle, and the mortgage referred to, which she turned over to Stodden. The latter was to arrange a deal for the trade of some property on Jefferson street for the real estate and mortgage, but that fell through, and in the meantime Stodden disposed of the deed to the real estate to Rosand Crepeau, and of the mortgage to a third party, A. L. Hammel.

Then the defendant tried to satisfy the woman with stock in the Sunset Hospital Corporation for her money, claiming, it was alleged, that it would rapidly increase in value. It was said that the stock was of no value. She would not have it, and he offered her 1650 shares of stock in the Solar Furnace and Power Company. That failing, he tried to console her with 6000 shares of the capital stock in the Los Angeles Hotel Sanatorium, but that was of no account, according to her complaint. At last Stodden offered to give her what he termed a fine concrete house in Mariposa county, but an examination disclosed that it was merely a small adobe arrangement, and she sued for the recovery of her money.

It did not take the court long to decide the case.

"BUSTED" ROMANCES.

SAD HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

The romance in the love affair of Lionel E. Gullom and Miss Ethel Burris of No. 1248 Valencia street, that culminated in the marriage of the couple in Los Angeles October 7, 1907, had its final review in Judge James' court yesterday, and the husband was granted a decree of divorce on account of desertion, although the court declared that the testimony was not all it should be.

The wedding was a secret to the bride's parents. The honeymoon consisted of a trip to San Francisco, and a girl friend of the bride was instructed to break the news to her parents by telephone. The father and mother resigned themselves to the inevitable.

A few days later, Attorney Frank B. Woodruff went before Deputy Dist.-Atty. McCartney and a complaint was issued and filed before the late Justice E. E. Selph, charging Gullom with perjury in making an affidavit that the age of Miss Burris was 18 years, when she was but 16. Gullom was arrested and after an examination, cleared of the charge.

Gullom testified that they lived together as man and wife only from October 7 to October 22, 1907. Coming home one evening he found her writing a note to some one, when upon demanding to know who the party was, she tore up the missive, and informed him that it was none of his business to whom she wrote. Gullom said he picked up the bits of the note and found that it had been addressed to a well-known professional man of this city. The separation followed, and Gullom declared that he understood his wife was in Seattle, Wash.

It was in testimony that soon after the separation, the father of Miss Burris called upon Gullom and demanded $500 in settlement of the trouble between them. He asked Gullom to see the marriage license, and securing possession of the paper he placed it in his pocket, and refused to return it to Gullom. At that time Burris told Gullom that Ethel was not going to live with him any longer, and he demanded a settlement. In a few days, following the refusal of Gullom or his mother to pay the money the suit for perjury was instituted.

At the time of the wedding it was said that the young wife smoked cigarettes and penciled her eyebrows, and to this Gullom was opposed, but the break did not come until his wife received several letters, and he also found her writing to certain persons. Gullom was formerly a bank clerk, and Miss Burris, before her marriage, was a telephone operator with the Golden Realty Company.

Susie Mead secured a divorce from Gordon Mead, before Judge James. They were married a month, when she discovered that he was addicted to pelled to go to work to support her-the use of drugs, and within four days following the ceremony, she was com- self. They were married in Los Angeles in July, 1907.

M. E. Constable was divorced from Charles W. Constable, on the ground of extreme cruelty. They were married in this city in 1894, and have one daughter. The trouble first arose when Mrs. Constable insisted upon permitting the daughter to go to a picnic one Sunday at Glendale, that was followed that night by an attack upon the wife, while she was in bed, during which she was almost choked to death.

John Hirsch, who is in business on West Fifth street, was an applicant for divorce from Annie Hirsch, who deserted him in New York, but the case was held for further evidence. The couple have a son in Washington, D. C., and his testimony will be taken as to what he knows of the marital troubles of his parents.

Is the fact that a husband spends the first thirteen Sunday nights after his marriage away from home and carries in a locket the picture of a former sweetheart, and a lock of her hair, sufficient grounds for a divorce? This is the question upon which Judge Hutton will hear further evidence this morning. The action was brought by Hattie B. Jones against James H. Jones, and the afternoon was spent taking testimony.

There are other charges against Jones, indicating cruelty, with a general mix-up of the Jones family affairs. The evidence was largely hearsay, but the point was made by Mrs. Jones' attorney that a wife could suffer humiliation by hearing reports of her husband's lapses from the path of virtue, even if second-handed and over a telephone. The contestants are residents of Los Angeles.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

HELD IN JAIL. A. J. Barrett, charged with forging the name of J. L. Vignes to two checks for $10 each, drawn on the First National Bank, was arraigned in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday, and in default of $2500 bail, was committed. His preliminary examination will be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

CHARGE DISMISSED. Arthur E. Keatch was dismissed in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday. He was charged with overdrawing his account in the Los Nietos Valley Bank at Downey, but the cashier of the institution testified that an arrangement had been made allowing him to do so.

MONROVIA SUSPECT. George Yohn, one of the alleged Monrovia bank robbers, was in Justice Summerfield's court for examination yesterday, but on motion of the District Attorney the case went over to be set for some future date.

DESIRE TO MORTGAGE. The Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday, asking permission to place a mortgage for $3000 on the property, consisting of lots 24 and 25 in Baxter Dodds' subdivision of block 2, of the Beaudry tract No. 2, in Los Angeles, for the purpose of erecting a parsonage. The trustees of the church are J. V. Hart, Robert H. Lord, R. R. Goode, J. O. Sidener, F. F. Knapps, I. A. Burroughs and A. Buschemeyer.

DENIES THE WRIT. Judge Wilbur denied the writ of habeas corpus in behalf of A. E. Pearson, a Santa Monica youth, who was sentenced to ninety days in the County Jail by Justice J. J. Carillo, for disturbing the peace. Pearson was placed on probation by the justice and he was rearrested on the charge that he had violated the terms of his release.

MORE CARLSON. In the Carlson hearing yesterday, no progress was made in determining the embezzlement charge against the ex-president of the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles. Deputy Dist.-Atty. Blair was put upon the stand to endeavor to show how the check that is the subject of the present complaint, came into the hands of the District Attorney's office, but no information was gleaned. Carlson will make another attempt today.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday, by the City Market Company of Los Angeles, capital stock $300,000, subscribed $500, directors, Frank Simpson, H. Lee, S. Shibuya, L. G. Zaiser and S. Hillbouits; Elsinore Investment Company, capital stock $10,000, subscribed $10,000; United States Lighting Company, capital stock $10,000, subscribed $3; California Sunset Eucalyptus Company, capital stock $300,000, subscribed $7, directors, Aubrey King, George H. Kern, J. R. Killgore, W. S. Bailey, George F. Tilton and Thomas McCaffery.

HER FRIEND TAKES BLAME.

Declares That He Mailed Objectionable Letter and Woman Doctor Is Granted Another Trial.

Dr. Alice Von Rickert, recently found guilty of mailing a letter containing information about a criminal operation, was granted a new trial by Judge Wellborn, in the United States District Court yesterday. Her attorneys introduced an affidavit to the effect that the letter received from her had been unwittingly mailed by Henry Johns, a friend of the defendant.

Johns swore that he visited her office and found the letter lying on a table. He said he put it in a mail box supposing everything was all right. If Mrs. Von Rickert can prove this claim at her next trial, she has an excellent chance of being acquitted, as the offense charged consists in "depositing in a mail box" a letter containing information prohibited by the postal laws.

REHEARING FOR RAILWAY.

Appellate Court Grants New Trial in Widow's Suit to Recover Damages for Husband's Death.

The Second District Court of Appeals has ordered a new trial in the case of Mrs. Avis Heitman against the Pacific Electric Company. She sued to recover damages for the death of her husband, Theodore Heitman, who was killed in an accident at the railroad crossing over Anaheim road.

A jury in the Superior Court awarded her damages of $4000. In the appeal it was claimed that Heitman had been guilty of contributory carelessness, in that he did not keep a close lookout for the approach of trains. The appellate court takes this view in reversing the judgment of the lower court.

KILLER WITH AUTO HELD.

J. B. Dudley, an automobile salesman, charged with involuntary manslaughter, was held for trial in the Superior Court yesterday, after preliminary examination before Justice Chambers. Dudley offered no defense at the preliminary hearing, and will fight the case in the higher court. He was released on $5000 bond.

BOOM DAYS IN FORCE AGAIN.

Business Is Fairly Steaming at Rawhide Now.

Mills Cannot Handle Half Ore Offered Them.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

RAWHIDE (Nev.) April 12.—Rawhide's present mills cannot handle the tonnage that is offered them by Rawhide leasers. They cannot handle 50 per cent. of it. The mills are pounding and grinding twenty-four hours every day, but their bins are in such a congested condition that the millmen have, figuratively speaking, "thrown up the sponge." It has now come to the point where each leaser must take his turn with his ore.

The mills in course of construction are being rushed forward with feverish energy, the owners realizing the golden harvest that awaits them.

The Knight-Conlon mill people, now operating the old Gates mill on the flat below town, have decided to erect a 200-ton mill in town. It was the intention, up to a few days ago, to double the capacity of the present one, but plans have been set awry by the deluge of ore that is thrown at them. They have decided to get up into town to avoid the five-mile haul that is now necessary.

The Evans mill people are also making the dirt fly to get their share of the big melon, as are also the King-Heisner mill owners. When these three plants are treating ore, it will afford great relief, but the tonnage is increasing so rapidly that by the time they begin operation, the congestion will be as bad as before.

It is safe to say that the most optimistic man in Rawhide never dreamed that conditions would come to such a state as is now witnessed here. Gold-brick after gold-brick comes up for shipment by express. Today, the Grutt Mining Company received two bricks, weighing 432 ounces, the result of a 60-ton run. This shows a recovery of very close to $100 a ton, as the bricks are worth nearly $8000. Since the local mills have proven so satisfactory, very little ore is sent to outside plants. The very rich ore is mixed with lower grades, making a high-grade milling average.

RAILROAD NEEDED.

It was thought, until a week ago, that this camp could well do without a railroad, but it is now seen that a line to Walker Lake, with reduction works at that point, will pay handsome returns.

The camp is rapidly filling up again and business is fairly steaming on all sides. The old sights of boom days are being acted over again and on even larger scales. The saloons are crowded night and day and the gambling tables are reaping a rich harvest from the leasers, who have already [illegible] mill."

Holders of Coalition pooled stock [illegible] today, for the purpose of considering the proposition made them by New York capitalists, who want enough stock to give them control of the property. The result of the meeting was an agrement to accept the New Yorker's offer. It is safe to say that the Coalition property will be taken over by strong people and railroad construction started immediately.

The past week has yielded revelations in the way of high-grade discoveries. The Proskey lease found nine feet of ore, that is being hoisted and dumped into wagons without a pound reaching the dump. This will be continued for a very short time, however, as the larger part of it will have to wait for more mills.

The Bridges-Daniels lease, on the Bethania Mines estate, is now at a depth of twenty-six feet. The bonanza shoot is twenty-eight inches wide and slightly richer than where found a few feet above. Sacking continues and the first shipment will be made as soon as the ore can be handled at the local mills.

HALF GOLD SPECIMENS.

The shaft started a little over a week ago by the Little Four leasers, and which is only ten feet from the Daniels-Bridges shaft, today, at a depth of twenty-one feet, broke into the Daniels-Bridges pay shoot. The ledge proves to be three feet and two inches wide at that point, between two smooth, true walls. No assays could be obtained up to this evening, but pannings indicate that it will run better than $150. The rich two-inch shoot in the vein runs up in the thousands and plenty of specimens that are half gold were taken out this afternoon. The entire break between walls will be sent to the mills as fast as the latter can absorb it. The ore breaks freely and a great tonnage can be figured on from the very start.

F. S. Gordon, general manager of the Gold Reef lease, on the Queen Bethania claim, returned from New York this week. He announced that he will at once erect a machine hoist and begin work on block 1 of the claim, in addition to prosecuting work in the old shaft on block 2. Plenty of good-grade milling ore is being raised from the 80-foot level on this latter block, and the company can figure on a steady production as soon as the mills can receive it.

The Tarantula Fraction, on the north end line of the Bethania claim, is rapidly coming into its own. This week was opened up the big Bethania vein in the east crosscut from the north drift on the 87-foot level. A careful sampling, exclusive of the 2-inch pay streak, gave assays of $58.50, while the high-grade streak shows free gold plentifully distributed throughout the quartz. The company is sacking the product.

The Lucky strike lease on the Lucky Strike claim, which is owned by the Tarantula people, and which is located at the opposite end of the camp from the Tarantula, continues sacking the high-grade mill product.

On the Moy No. 2 claim of the Rawhide Louisiana Mining Company's estate, the management is breaking out a three-compartment shaft. By the time it reaches the 50-foot mark, a power plant will be installed to continue the work down to the 300 level. This outfit has already encountered an 8-foot vein that yields high-grade mill dirt.

VALUES INCREASING.

Otto Steinheimer, the owner of the Indiana group, located on the western edge of the district, started work this week, with three shifts. He will continue sinking the big shaft, with systematic development and [illegible] out. As depth is gained on the vein, the values are increasing and the product is better than $25 a

The St. Ives lease, Superintendent [illegible] has received his little ticket that entitles him to his turn at the Weiss mill on an 80-ton shipment.

E. H. Scott, [illegible], who held a one-third interest in the Marigold lease, has sold it to L. W. Kline for $2000 cash. Mr. Kline represents the Knight-Conlon Pulverized Mill Company here. Since Scott's retirement from the company, three shifts have been put at work sinking the shaft, breaking ore and developing. A 50-ton shipment is on the dump, awaiting its turn at the Knight-Conlon mill. This ore will net $40 a ton, and is being broken from the north drift from the Grutt Mining vein.

The Grutt Mining Company has installed a hoist on its No. 2 shaft north of the working shaft on the developing vein on Grutt Fraction, owned by the Grutt brothers of the Consolidated estate.

The Lillian lease, on the Early Bird claim of the great Consolidated estate, is actually quarrying ore from a new discovery west of the old workings that shows a fissure 8 feet wide. As fast as it is broken, the ore goes to the Murray mill for treatment. Thousands of prospectors have walked over this vein during the past year. While looking over the ground for a site for the Consolidated's big working shaft the other day, Gene Grutt discovered it.

This is the same big ledge that the Murray lease is quarrying and loading on wagons for the Murray mill.

The Revenue group, where a good strike was made some time ago, continues in good ore and promises to be a steady producer.

MINES AND MINING.

SILVER LAKE MINES SOLD.

ANGELENOS FORM COMPANY TO EXPLOIT CLAIMS.

Eaton Group to Be Developed on Extensive Scale — Stamp Mill Planned—Pompeii Mine at Searchlight Is Sold to Eastern Syndicate. Strike at Gold Crater.

The Precious Metals Development Company, formed by Los Angeles people to exploit the Eaton group of gold properties at Seventeen Mile Point, in the Silver Lake district, San Bernardino county, is arranging for extensive development of the mines and surveying for a gravity pipe line to carry water to the millsite, where it plans to erect a 100-stamp mill in the near future.

The workings of the Eaton group consists of several cuts and two shafts. One down eighty feet shows the vein two to three feet thick with an average value of $27. The other, down 100 feet on another vein, with a thirty-four-foot drift on the ledge, shows from three to four feet, with surface stringers of high grade; a conservative estimate places the ore developed at 1714 tons.

As the work progresses the size and value of the ore bodies are increasing.

The company will drift for 100 feet in the 100-foot shaft, and will sink an additional 200 feet in the 80-foot one.

Water rights are deemed sufficient to operate the mill. Easily accessible and working conditions favorable, ore can be mined and milled, according to officials, at a cost not to exceed $5 a ton.

Pompeii Mines Sold.

The Pompeii, one of the old Searchlight mines, has been bought by Matt Hoveck, formerly of the Montgomery-Shoshone and Skidoo mines, associated with eastern people, and will be operated by the Pompeii Mines and Milling Company, of which M. Rulon is president; Matt Hoveck, vice-president and general manager, and A. P. Hutchinson, secretary and treasurer.

According to Mr. Hoveck a fair average of the ore opened is in the neighborhood of $12, with some 300 tons of dump ore that will go to $8 and better. Some improvements are planned at the mill, which will be started within the next thirty days for continous run. The underground workings are to be put in shape; drifts cleaned and sinking resumed, after a long period of idleness.

A vein opened on the second level carries good milling values, stoping possible to the surface, and good results are expected from operation below the water level. A profitable shipment was made from the Pompeii by its original owners at forty feet, but the company encountered water, and was forced to close, remaining idle until taken over by the new company.

The Eldorado Mines Company has been reincorporated as the Eldorado-Occidental Mining Company, and is to be reorganized. Plans are under way for the development of properties controlled by the company.

Goldfield parties have taken an option on the Quo Vadis group, between Nob Hill and Las Vegas, for $50,000, running for nine months.

The tools and machinery of the Blossom Mining Company were sold a few days ago under the hammer to satisfy an execution, bringing $180, and the mine is advertised for sale at Pioche.

Round Mountain Clean-up.

The March clean-up of the Round Mountain Mining Company, near Manhattan, Nev., brought a $40,000 brick, which makes the bullion produced in the past twelve months something like $250,000, causing talk of increased dividends.

The mill capacity was recently increased about 30 per cent., and the heavy output will warrant, it is asserted, more money being paid to stockholders in the near future.

This company has already paid $128,000 in dividends, amounting to 16 per cent. per annum on the capitalization, is building an electric power line into Round Mountain and Manhattan to facilitate handling the output, and will survey the properties.

Good Ore at Gold Crater.

As a result of the find of a three-foot ledge of $75 ore at Gold Crater, Nev., the Polly mine is to be developed on a rather extensive scale by its Goldfield owners. For the past two years this property has been worked in a small way and development of the ledge justifies a larger force, which will be put to work. A sample shipment of fifty tons will be made to Goldfield this week.

Erecting Plant.

The Pittsburgh Gold Flat Mining Company is installing an electric plant, compressor and hoist at the Pittsburgh mine, which is to be reopened and developed. The tunnel is in for a considerable distance, 100 feet being added last month, and the old drain tunnel is being cleaned and repaired.

The Black Bear is also adding to its surface equipment, and is preparing to erect a mill.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

IMPORTANT DEAL SETTLED HERE.

CONSIDERATION MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Oakland Man Buys Two Quarters of Section in Maricopa District and Will Develop at Once—Bakersfield Agency Joins in Movement to Prevent Overproduction.

An important deal in oil land was consummated in this city yesterday when W. A. Bonning, through L. E. Doane, sold to M. J. Laymance of Oakland the southeast and northwest quarters of section 36-12-24, in the Maricopa district, for more than $200,000.

Three months ago the northeast and southwest quarters of this section were sold to G. G. Gillette and W. C. Price, through Mr. Doane, for $150,000.

Mr. Laymance will thoroughly develop the land and will take rigs to the field at once.

The Monte Cristo has four wells across the south line of this section on section 1, that average 250 barrels a day and its No. 3 furnishes 500 barrels.

Mr. Laymance is an old-time operator in McKittrick and was one of the organizers of the Associated Oil Company.

To Hold Up Prices.

In order to prevent an over-production of oil that will lower prices, the Bakersfield Independent Oil Sales Agency yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution pledging the members to curtail as much as possible new development work in the proven fields for the next six months. An appeal to the same effect will be issued to the producers throughout the State. A similar resolution was adopted by the Coalinga agency last week.

The officers of the Bakersfield agency were reëlected as follows: L. P. St. Clair, president; T. Spellacy, F. N. Schofield, M. W. Carmichael, vice-presidents; W. B. Robb, secretary; L. J. Liscomb, treasurer.

A new form of contract, which will enable the producers to contract direct with the marketing company, was adopted. It gives the officers power to make contracts for any length of time up to ten years.

NEW SUNSET WELLS.

The Muscatine on section 1, at Sunset, has brought in, at 1540 feet, a well with 150 to 200 barrels capacity.

The Monte Christo has brought in two wells, on the same section, each of which is of 150-barrel capacity.

The Scott well, on section 31, Midway, is producing 250 barrels of oil and water daily, from which thirty barrels of oil are saved.

Wheat and Wilson, operating on section 25, where they have eight acres, have gone into the first oil sand at 1400 feet.

The development of the Sunset and Midway fields is greatly retarded by lack of water, and oil men say many rigs must be stopped unless something is done to relieve the shortage. Much was expected of the Santa Fé's new pipe line, but so far this has not supplied the demand. The company is drilling other wells.

New Huasna Spudding.

The New Huasna Oil Company, operating at Huasna, in the Arroya Grande field, San Luis Obispo county, after sinking 3350 feet, has abandoned its first well, and is preparing to spud in closer to the outcrop.

Operating With Air.

Many of the Kern River operators are said to be meeting with success in putting in air to exhaust water, and are increasing the flow of oil, but it is asserted by some they will exhaust their oil supply much quicker.

The northern territory, which has been active for the past six months, is holding its own and many new rigs are going up.

Acquires Westlake-Romelis.

The Pacific Crude Oil Company has been formed and will today take over the Westlake-Romelis property in the Sisar Cañon, between the Santa Paula and Ojai, adjoining the Clark and Sherman properties on the west, and within 300 feet of the new 300-barrel well of the latter.

The properties are old ones, formerly owned by the Union. They comprise 120 acres in all, and contain eleven producing wells, drilled many years ago. Some are more than twenty-four years old, and still yielding 22 to 26-gravity oil.

Twelve new wells will be sunk by the Pacific people this year. Work has been begun on a road, and the rigs for two wells will be up within thirty days.

The officers of the company are: M. P. Waite, president; E. George Averill, vice-president, and J. R. Riggins, secretary and treasurer.

Immediately north of the Pacific's center forty, the Hillside will put up two rigs, and the Ojai people are sinking another well on their land, one-half mile west of the Pacific Crude properties.

The Bard Oil and Development Company is sinking a test well, and is down 1700 feet, with fine indications. It has gone through the first stratum and oil is flowing outside the casing, but as it is drilling for light oil, it will go deeper. It is preparing rigs for two other wells.

At Sunset Flats.

The Lady Washing No. 2, on Yellowstone ground at Sunset Flats, broke into tar sand yesterday at 1700 feet, with lots of gas and oil. The hole will be drilled about 150 feet farther, and the company expects to bring in a good well. The drilling into tar sand is of importance, because it proves a large territory.

The Coalinga-Mohawk has gas in the well it is drilling near the proven field, at 1260 feet, and is going through tar sand.

ANGELENOS GO TO SINALOA.

Julius Bak, Homer Thompson, S. C. Smith of Los Angeles, and J. N. Cantwell of San Francisco, left yesterday for the Bajonea colony in Sinaloa, Mex. Mr. Thompson has bought 200 acres, fronting on the sea, and intends to start a nursery in which especial attention is to be paid to citrus fruits and apple trees. The other members of the party will thoroughly investigate conditions in that part of Sinaloa and may invest in land there. The Bajonea colony is situated in the Alcaldia of Zaragosa, in the district of Fuerte, State of Sinaloa, on the delta of the Fuerte River, the largest in Mexico. Accompanying the party is C. M. Jones of this city, an old resident of Sinaloa, who will act as guide.

TRANSATLANTIC AIRSHIPS.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Fantastical as the idea may seem, steps have, nevertheless, been taken to incorporate the Europe-American Navigation Society, which proposes to promote the flights of dirigible balloons across the Atlantic Ocean. Supreme Court Justice Hendrick has approved the certificate of incorporation and the papers were sent to Albany.

"MUM IS THE WORD."

About the prettiest bit of comedy that has come to our notice in recent days was enacted in Los Angeles on Tuesday night when the State Democracy gathered at a banquet in commemoration of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, who, by the way, was the founder of the Republican party. And if Jefferson were alive today he would find his ideals of government much better exemplified and followed out in the policies of the Republican party than by the Democracy, who claim him as their proto-apostle and patron saint. But let that pass.

The comical thing was in the declaration of the principal speaker that his party had made its most numerous, most damaging mistakes in writing platforms that were too long. Senator Cartwright naively remarked that it was unnecessary to express the doctrines and principles of his party in elaborate and extended form. "The party can be relied on doing what is right" without outlining what it intends to do or thinks to be right.

That was about the attitude assumed by this "Jeffersonian" speaker, and strange to say not a lip was puckered nor a smile was cracked by any of the assembled Democracy of the State.

Mr. Cartwright's idea is that the party "talks too much." It is a grave mistake for man or party to make. It is the undoing of many a man, and has been the undoing of the Democracy, as Mr. Cartwright seems to see, on more occasions than a few.

If the party has been ruined by too frank expression of its views, it is because these views have been unacceptable to the American people, and being so, it is fair to assume that they were in essence un-American. If they were soundly American they undoubtedly would appeal to the people, would have won allegiance and votes, and brought the success of the party ticket at the polls. If the utterances of the party have resulted in its defeat, it is right to assume that the party attitude was unpopular, and as this failure to win the assent of the people has lasted now for half a century, it is not unfair to assume that the party's expression of principles was unsound.

Mr. Cartwright spoke particularly of the national platform of last fall, and he condemned its indorsement of woman suffrage. He says such indorsement lost the party votes. But that was not the only paragraph in which the party "talked too much." It "talked too much" on finance, too much on the tariff and too much on nearly every utterance in the platform. It "talked too much" because it gave expression to views unacceptable to the people, and which therefore led to the party defeat.

We can go back step by step from one national campaign to another, at least for twenty years, and quite agree with Senator Cartwright that his party "talked too much." It "talked too much" about free trade, too much about free silver, too much about anti-imperialism, through all the Bryan campaigns and the Cleveland campaigns for twenty years. In one election after another each platform was devoted to dodging what the former one had said.

The party may make its platforms as long as it pleases within reasonable limits, and be as explicit as language can be in stating its principles, provided those principles are sound and their expression sincere. The party that chases after one diaphanous notion today and another tomorrow, whether anti-imperialism, 50-cent dollars or woman suffrage, in a heartless and insincere desire, not to be right, not to stand for what will do the country some good, but simply with an overweening ambition to get votes, need use but few words and write a very short platform to fall into the grave mistake of "talking too much." Any paragraph in any platform which is insincere, is "talking too much." Any paragraph in any platform which stands for anything that is radically wrong, whether in matters fiscal, financial or governmental, is "talking too much." Any phrase in a platform which is un-American would better be left unsaid.

We are afraid that a platform for the Democratic party which would meet with the requirements laid down by Mr. Cartwright, namely, to be short enough not to arouse the antagonism of the American people, would need be couched in the terms of the Irish historian whose history of Ireland contained a chapter on snakes. Under the headline there was this pregnant sentence: "There are no snakes in Ireland." We commend the chapter as a model to Mr. Cartwright and his Democratic friends for their next State or national platform.

TWO DECAYING EMPIRES.

It seems like a forlorn hope to think Turkey can be resuscitated or Russia saved from disintegration.

Although Russia has a history dating back some centuries, yet she presents a case of premature dissolution. Centuries have not been long periods in the birth and development of nations. Of course, the United States is an exception to all national histories. In our country we measure time by years, not epochs, and are getting to measure things by months, not years. But among the older nations a few centuries more or less count for little. In Russia development has scarcely more than begun. She is a gigantic political entity apparently going to pieces from the burden of her own bulk.

With Turkey it is different. This hoary old sinner among the nations has reached a stage of existence which may be characterized as the decrepitude of age. It is not like old Adams, in Shakespeare, a hale old age, "kindly but frosty." It is the decrepitude of a debauchee which has burned the candle at both ends, or emptied the barrel from spigot and bung. It would be a wise master-statesman, in our opinion, who would devise a way to resuscitate the Turkish nation, rehabilitate the government and save it from absolute dissolution.

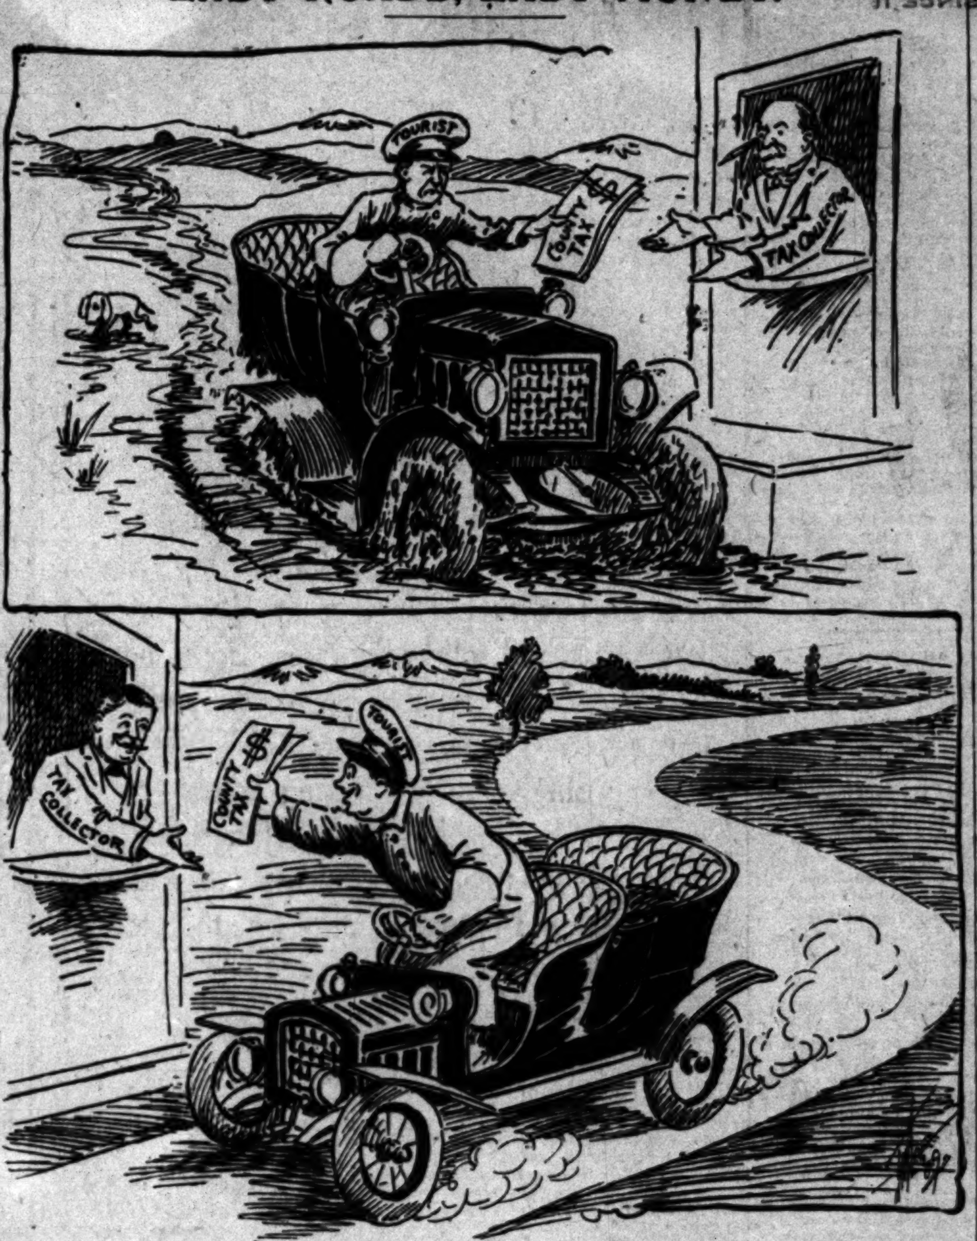
There are few things in the history of nations more pathetic than the maintenance of this Asiatic power in Europe, a canker or plague-spot among the nations, hemming in the Slav population of Russia and the Danubian provinces on the one side and the Teutonic races in Austria and Germany on the other side, from a progress which might have been sensational.

"Young Turkey" may possibly succeed in reforming the government of the Sultan, giving the exotic race a form of government not Asiatic, but occidental, and reëstablishing Turkey in Europe on a basis which will maintain the power in permanence in years to come. But we doubt it very much. It seems to us like an attempt to arrest dissolution in a corpse.

Russia presents another pathetic drama. The Russians are really a great people. They are great intellectually and physically. They are simple of life and manners, wholesome in ideas and exceedingly robust in physique. They are known in all the universities on the continent of Europe as capable of unusually great mental progress. In Germany, Switzerland and France the native-born students are as a rule unable to keep pace with the Russians in their acquisition of learning, whether in languages, literature or natural sciences.

The empire is one of vast extent and of natural resources, comparable only to those of our own country. With a just and liberal government the Russian people might develop into one of the great nations of the earth, far advanced in all the highest forms of civilization, ranking among the richest nations upon the earth. Yet because of the corruption ingrained in the government the Russian people are doomed, apparently, to ultimate failure. Of course, the empire is composed of several widely-divergent races, with difference in languages, religion and views, but not so much so as the dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary. With a stable, liberal, fair government these races might easily be kept together and moulded into a homogeneous mass, contented and entirely friendly.

EASY ROADS, EASY MONEY.



Peter the Great, when he exiled himself to Holland and England to learn the ship-building trade and acquire a smattering of civilization, was a pretty crude savage but a man of far-reaching foresight and of great wisdom. His scope of vision was accurate as to what might be made out of his country, and he set about the development of it in the proper way. Unfortunately there was no outlet by sea, in the face of armed hostility, for Russian commerce to develop. The Baltic was hemmed in between the Scandinavian peninsulas by a narrow strait easily blockaded by a hostile fleet. The same is true of the Black Sea, opening into the Mediterranean through the Bosphorus. English jealousy has for centuries kept both of these gateways practically closed to Russian commerce, and this has been the greatest obstacle in the way of international development in Russia.

So the long centuries have dragged out and the Russian nation has simply grown to a stage of existence comparable to a big overgrown boy. And here through the impossibility of reaching the sea and building up an oversea commerce, through the horrible corruption practiced in the bureaucratic form of government which curses the country, this giant nation seems destined to perish before it reaches anything like a stage to be compared to mature manhood.

Of course, there is a great deal of vital force in Russia and very little in Turkey. The conditions which seem to doom Turkey to failure in attempts at resuscitation are opposed in the case of the Russians by a most vigorous youth, if only it were given an opportunity to assert itself and exercise its powers under a wise and just government. While "Young Turkey" may have undertaken the work of rehabilitation too late, there may still be time for a "Young Russia" to spring into activity and work out the natural destiny of the vast empire.

OUR NEW LIBRARY LAW.

California has, by the library legislation of the late session of the Legislature, fairly entered the very front rank of progressive States. Although the New England States, particularly the State of Massachusetts, have provided nearly all their towns with free public libraries, it must be remembered that the combined area of these States is but two-fifths the area of California. Massachusetts itself is but a trifle larger than the county of Los Angeles.

Two chief difficulties have hitherto prevented the furnishing of library privileges to residents outside of California cities. One has been the adherence to the old style of library administration; this has given place to the use of traveling libraries, the establishment of branch libraries and even of delivery wagons (in the State of Maryland,) for the transportation of books to remote parts of counties.

The other drawback has been the lack of necessary legislation—a deficiency which has just been met by the passage of the county library law, which will apply to all the counties in California. Authority is given under this law to the county Supervisors to contract with city libraries to assume the functions of a county library and freely supply all county residents, wherever located, with books, without charge. Or, the Supervisors may establish a separate county library, to be maintained by taxation of rural property solely, and whose books shall be circulated wholly in regions outside of cities which maintain libraries of their own.

Boards of Supervisors may of their own motion establish and maintain such libraries; failing in this the new law requires such action within a year after the board is so petitioned by 51 per cent. of the legal voters of the county.

Librarians of these county libraries must be technically qualified for their duties and be duly accredited before they can be appointed to their positions.

Another important statute affects the long-established system of school libraries. State Superintendent Hyatt and many of the county school superintendents have long realized that a change should be made in the administration of the district school libraries, so that they should be made more serviceable to the schools. By this new law it is made possible for the school libraries to be virtually merged into and become a part of the county libraries as soon as they are established. In other words, the school libraries will really become branches of the central county library, and thus each school will have access to larger and fresher collections of literature.

Further provision is made for the supervision of the various public libraries, both city and county, by the State librarian. The annual appropriations for the State library are increased to $60,000. Still another enactment removes the restriction in the general library law affecting annual appropriations for library maintenance. Each community may hereafter levy any desired tax rate for its library.

Taken as a whole, it is believed that California now possesses the strongest and most comprehensive library legislation in the Union.

HOROSCOPE.

Thursday, April 15, 1909.

BY COZETTE.

Bright shine the stars on noble enterprise,
And give their influence to the good and wise.

The masculine and airy sign of Aquarius rules the 24 day old Moon on this 105th day of the year. The Sun, Mercury, Venus and Saturn are all in sextile with the Moon in this 24-hour period and are in benefic aspect—a powerful and unusual combination.

Push all business this day and increase effort and vigor with the day. The auspicious influence grows steadily with the hours and reaches its climax in the evening.

Ask favors or counsel. Seek work.

A bright period for courtship, engagements, weddings and wedding journeys.

On this day at high noon according to the ancient herbal astrology, the following herbs should be potent under the Sun: Almond, walnut, saffron, rosemary, rue, bay, camomile, juniper, peony, rice, olive, mustard, trefoil, marigolds and St. John's wort.

The sign is good for hiring men this day.

The power of the Sun is exerted for the fortune of the bold and honorable this day.

Saturn rules beneficially in these twenty-four hours for those who have steady, calm purpose.

Women and men with this birthdate may anticipate a fortunate year according to the signs, but must avoid quarrel and lawsuits.

Children are born under aspects that indicate a temperament desirous of spreading sweetness and light over all created things.

No More Sauce for the Goose.

[From the Montreal Standard.]

You must not say "as silly as a goose" any more, for naturalists have been studying this animal of late years and they have come to the conclusion that she is the wisest old bird going.

She never quarrels without cause; she sees danger before any other fowl; she has more courage than the rooster; she is far braver than the gobbler, and, if given a fair show, she can beat off the fox.

A flock of geese squatted around the barnyard at night is a much greater protection than the watchdog. They are light sleepers, and will give the alarm the instant they see a stranger moving about.

So in future say "as wise as a goose," and give her all credit.

Big Man (with a grouch:) Will you be so kind as to get off my feet?

[From The Argonaut of April 10.]

With contentions between prosecution and d

scoundrels whose services may be had by t

the first doubt. That is the usual way with

We regard it as entirely possible and even in the well-remembered Goldstone case. Again again it has come out in the course of the pa

In the immediate instance we think it a n

Spreckels agents by Calhoun agents is a coo

Mr. Burns, in entire accord with his practice

In the present case most certainly the sca

In other words, the Argonaut thinks it m e partisans and minions of the ing office, individually representatives of its purposes? In what may we characterize adequately ck of legality, propriety, and y in an act so arbitrary and so nt? Fortunately, it is not needful go deeply into this matter, for ublic common sense may be depended upon to see its sinister purpose to apply to it the rebuke it deserves. Its very atrocity gives assurance for no community of civilized ple can regard other than with r a thing so violently in conflict every principle of individual t.

et each citizen take this matter e to himself. Let him bear in mind t under the rule of those who have rped official authority in San Francisco, no privacy is secure. If Rudolph reckels, a man who holds no public thority, a man who is under no mandate, chooses tomorrow through malice or whim to probe the uttermost rners of any house in San Francisco, violate the most confidential records memorials of any man or woman ng us, there is none to say him y. His power is supreme, for he trols the prosecuting office and y use it as a private property, as sonal privilege. He controls certain good-dog judges who bark or lie n at his word. True, the public ys, but it is Rudolph Spreckels who mands. Let those in whom judgment and conscience are not utterly ralyzed reflect upon the legitimacy a power at once so terrible and so esponsible. Let us ask ourselves if are still Americans, if there survives in us the spirit of our fathers, en we consent that this reckless tocrat, upon the basis of a usurped thority, may so trample upon the stitution and the laws and overe rights and liberties guaranteed them.

When the so-called graft prosecution gan its operations, now nearly three ars ago, there were none but the ality who did not give it approval. its selfish motives and purposes re revealed, approval and support asurably fell away. Today not en those who, despite many moral lms, hold themselves its particans, gard it as a moral movement. Whatever its original purposes it has become a private vendetta. There is t, we venture to say, one man of telligence and character in San ancisco who will venture to declare entire approval of the course of prosecution. Its purposes are inly sinister. Its methods are highhanded to the degree of criminality d outrage. Its aims now are plainly se of malice, reprisal, revenge. verybody knows it—even those who moral confusion or in blind partisanship still give support to the prosecution. The movement has become a ench, a nightmare, a hindrance to ery wholesome community interest. The State Attorney, so we are told, s authority whenever any prosecuting movement goes beyond bounds or ecomes derelict to step in and by his uperior discretion and authority to upersede the local officials. Has here not come a condition and a time n San Francisco when the authority f the Attorney-General may properly nd wholesomely be exercised? The Prosecuting Attorney has shamelessly artered away his powers. He permits hem to be exercised without let or hindrance and by irresponsible persons n shameless ways to shameless ends. The facts are open, notorious. What the duty of the Attorney-General? Argonaut will answer its own It believes it to be the duty [illegible] under his superior au put aside Mr. Langdon and are grossly using the powers office and himself to take of the work which they have ngled and corrupted. Let Mr. Webb all to his aid a group of lawyers outside of San Francisco; Judge S. F. Lieb of San Jose, for example, with ther irreproachable and capable men, nd give into their hands the debased nd dishonored powers of prosecution ith instruction to proceed legitimate , wholesomely, by honorable means worthy ends and without fear or avor. This, in the judgment of the rgonaut, is the duty of the Attorney-eneral. That he will meet this duty irly we are not hopeful; but if he ould find the initiative and the courage to do it, where is the citizen of aracter and intelligence who would t in the spirit of profound relief say, ll done?

Spreckels and Car Strike.

Question has arisen with respect to responsibility of Mr. Rudolph reckels and his associates of the aft prosecution for the street-car ike of two years ago. Two officials the old Carmen's Union have made tements to the effect that the prosecution instigated the strike; and un a sense of holy horror at this acation, a member of the prosecution up has charged these men with minal libel and caused their arrest. w the Argonaut has small confidence in these agitators, and no faith atever in the legitimacy of circumances leading up to their statements to denial of them. It suspects that her , of these cheap gentlemen ght be induced by the right kind "encouragement" to make any kind statement that anybody wants, d then, for more "encouragement," make a denial of the whole business. It is, we suspect, a case where ything that anybody wants may be d for a reasonable fee.

As to who instigated the strike, there yet been developed no evidence once positive and reliable. The Arnaut, which claims some character an off-hand guesser, has its ideas the subject, but since they have support in definite evidence we all not venture to set them forth. t leaving aside the question of who tigated the strike, and turning to equally significant matter of who couraged and promoted it, we ickly find ourselves on firm and tain ground. We have not here to pend upon surmise, inference, nor testimony of questionable pers, for there stands in plain view record which cannot be denied or ned away, and which all men may derstand. The matter is very clear in the mind of the Argonaut, for was at this point that it came to prehend the true inwardness of e prosecuting movement—to see, in uth, that it was not a disinterested oral movement, but a scheme of private vengeance under a mask of moral etensions.

At the time the strike was declared, most effective factor of the city vernment—the Board of Supervisors as under the authority of the prosecution. All but two of the eighteen mbers of the board had made con n of criminality, and in consid on of immunity from prosecution, pledged to do whatever the ecuting agents might demand. in office, they were the merest pets of the prosecution—"good s" as Mr. Heney designated them ay of refined pleasantry, bound to s they were told. It was an exrdinary responsibility thus as ed by the prosecution, that of for g the crimes of sixteen felons aining them in authority for purpose of controlling their course. It was a responsibility with full knowledge of its ce, and openly boasted about of the prowess and success prosecuting movement. The the Board of Supervisors while thus under duress were essentially the acts of the graft prosecution, and so understood to be at the time, for, we repeat, it was with the open and avowed purpose of controlling them that the individual Supervisors were forgiven their crimes and retained in office.

There were many things which the Board of Supervisors—Mr. Spreckels's "good dogs"—might have done to discourage the strike if Mr. Spreckels had so wished and commanded, precisely as he wished and commanded in relation to other matters. If Mr. Spreckels had wished to discourage the strike he might have had his "good dogs" call upon the police to protect citizens in their rights and to maintain order. He might, at least, have held them to the line of neutrality. But not so. The Supervisors, creatures who scarcely dared to breathe without Mr. Spreckels's permission, took an active and eager attitude toward the strike from the standpoint of sympathy with it. They coöperated with the then Mayor, Schmitz, in directing the Geary Street Railroad Company, a line operating without a franchise, and therefore under direct municipal authority, to concede the demands of the strikers upon penalty of being forced out of business; and it was due to their action that the Geary-street line was rendered derelict during the period of the strike. But that was not all. The fact that the franchise of the Geary Street Company had lapsed afforded an opportunity to strike a blow at the United Railroads Company. It was an opportunity in direct line with the purposes of Messrs. Spreckels and Phelan, and it was not permitted to pass unimproved. While the strike was still in its virulent stage, the Board of Supervisors——Mr. Spreckels's "good dogs," if you please—appropriated the great sum of $720,000 out o four exhausted city treasury for the inauguration of a municipal street-railway project; and when some flaw was discovered in the original act of appropriation, and in the face of outspoken public disapproval, the scheme was forced through a second time.

There could have been no purpose in this proceeding excepting that of assaulting the United Railroads Company at a time when its back was against the wall, facing embittered enemies. The scheme was in direct line with the avowed plans of Mr. Spreckels, since it called specifically for that particular type of street railroad construction of which he had made himself the special champion. When the circumstances of the case are considered—Mr. Spreckels's control of the Board of Supervisors, his rivalry with the United Railroads Company and his enmity to Patrick Calhoun, the relationship of the act of the Supervisors to the interests in contention—it is idle and absurd for him to attempt to evade responsibility.

But this was not all. While the strike was still in its virulent stage, when men were being shot down in the streets by strikers and their sympathizers for no other crime than that of working legitimately upon their own contract, when public excitement was intense, Mr. Spreckels issued through the Bulletin, then as now the special organ of the prosecution, the following declaration of approval and sympathy with the riotous strikers:

"I think the union men of this city are earnestly endeavoring to preserve the peace, and should be encouraged to continue to do so, instead of being incited by statements intended and calculated to anger them. I believe the citizens should take steps to prevent Patrick Calhoun from issuing the inflammatory statements that he is giving to the press, which tend only to stir up the resentment of the carmen and their sympathizers. Gov. Gillette's statement that if there were no brickbats there would no no shooting may apply to Mr. Calhoun. If he did not incite union men by his statements in the press there would be less cause for acts of violence on the part of the sympathizers of the carmen. The citizens should induce Patrick Calhoun to cease throwing his kind of brickbats."

In the face of this record it is something worse than ridiculous for Mr. Spreckels to declare that he did not assist the Carmen's Union at the time of the strike or at any other time. He may not, indeed, have instigated the strike. We have heard no testimony worthy of absolute credit to that effect, and he is entitled to the benefit of the doubt. But that he did sustain the strike through the action of his "good dogs;" that he did by the public declaration above printed put the moral powers of the graft prosecution—and at that time its moral powers were large—behind the strike, there cannot be the first reasonable doubt. He is now quoted as saying within the week: "I never suggested, advised, nor approved the car strike in May, or any other car strike. And at no time did I assist the Carmen's Union, or any member thereof, directly or indirectly, in time of strike, or at any other time." This is false, cowardly, futile

To Our Friends and Customers in and Around Los Angeles

This is by way of an informal announcement of an informal Merchandise Display which we intend to hold on next Saturday Evening, April 17th, during the hours of seven to ten o'clock, to which we very cordially invite every one of you.

No formal announcements will be issued; we wish to make the invitation as broad as we possibly can; to include everybody who is in the least interested in seeing a large display of thoroughly new, high-grade and fresh merchandise—much of it selected within the last two months: all of it paid for, and for that reason bought at the lowest possible figures.

We shall lay greatest stress upon quality, upon diversity, and upon quantity; we want you to know where in Los Angeles you may select your merchandise to the best advantage; there will be no flowers or music, such as you would expect at a formal opening.

Nothing of the nature of this Merchandise Display has ever been attempted in Los Angeles—you will find it both unique and highly interesting; as well as a revelation in the way of a showing of goods whose sale is confined to this store—of handsome imported articles; and of immense stocks of the staple goods to be found in every good store.

Further details will appear tomorrow.

Again we invite you all; and ask you to extend the invitation as broadly as possible.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

Mother, if your little daughter loves dolls—and what little girl does not—be sure and take her to the doll's department store and give her a glimpse of spring styles, as ordained by the Fairy Fashion, which rules the kingdom of these bisque beauties. Yesterday I spent an hour there and I must say I haven't been more highly entertained at any fashionable function this year than in that establishment where everything that a doll can possibly want is shown.

First, there are the dolls themselves. There is a wonderful blonde bisque, her dainty slippered feet standing on a tiny music box which, when wound up, sets the doll in motion, keeping time to the music by waving her pretty pink parasol and nodding her head, and moving from side to side in the graceful measures of a stately dance.

Then there are marvelous Russian dolls, dressed in the costume of their country and labeled with unpronounceable names. Beside them are cunning dishes and a lot of doll's furniture, carved out of wood by the Russian peasants. There is a wonderful samovar, too, and when you remove the top, there, inside, is the dearest little set of dishes, all carved from wood. These things, by the way, are sold for the benefit of the poor peasants who made them.

There are dolls of all sorts and sizes, from the baby in the bathtub to the solemn little old lady dressed in quaint stiff, brocaded skirts and poke bonnet.

Fascinating Fashions.

But the belongings of the dolls of 1909! Not more complete are the wardrobes of the children themselves than those provided for these darlings of childhood. The up-to-date doll must have her box of hemstitched handkerchiefs besides the half dozen fancy-bordered ones, her gold or silver mesh bag and her shopping bag of leather, her earrings, back combs and hair pins, her fans, which may be spangled or hand-painted or of tiny ostrich feathers, her jewels and jewel case, her watch and her lorgnette and all her toilet accessories, even down to the tiny perfume atomizer. There are some artistic little hand-painted porcelain flasks, about as large as the end of your thumb, for Miss Dolly's smelling salts with a glass cork, which may be pulled out by the tiny gold chain which is attached to it. There is nothing imaginable, from little ribbon-covered coat hangers to garters with clasps, that may not be found for the wardrobe of the doll.

Her clothes may be bought in sets, which comprise a frock and complete set of underclothes, a white pique coat and a lovely straw bonnet. A few days ago a regular Easter millinery opening was held at this shop and dolls galore were brought by their diminutive mothers to select their headgear.

In another department are complete furnishings for the doll's bathroom, kitchen, bedroom, dining and drawing-room, including stoves that will "really and truly" cook, by means of alcohol lamps inside. There is a line of cabs and go-carts for dolls, some of them perfect models of the high English coach cabs. There are trunks and suit cases and traveling bags.

For Little Mother Herself.

For the children themselves there are some delightful coats offered in entirely new models which are semi-fitting and are inclined to be longer than heretofore. They come in serge and broadcloth with smart patch pockets and buttons galore. There are some auto coats for girls from 5 to 14 years of age with the linen collar and cuffs in natural color, that are both handsome and serviceable and are just the thing for the girl who motors much.

Among the new gowns are the dainty dotted swiss in colors—pinks and blues—with lovely lace-like patterns running around the skirts and so delicately done that it looks as if it was put on with a brush, but I am told these gowns launder perfectly. There is a line of new rompers for girls, just as, with little bloomers attached to the belt, which joins the waist and skirt.

"We sell more of these hats than any other," observed the manager of that department, pointing to the broad, drooping brimmed Milan braids with sash ribbons tied around the crown in big loops and ends. "These ribbons, by the way, are lovely—some in floral patterns and some the thick, satin finish, barred with a delicate hint of color.

"These are the most serviceable," remarked Madame, designating the coarse, pliable palm straw hats in the same shape as the Milans and tied with gay plaid scarfs. They are in the natural linen shade and are inexpensive and will simply wear forever. For the babies, the little English pork-pie straw bonnets with rosettes of ribbons and roses over each ear, connected by a soft twist of ribbon across the front, are simply charming. When tied on over a bewitching curly head the effect is fascinating.

I saw a novel baby basket, too, which looks, when closed up, like a tall willow clothes hamper. It is in four sections, which open out, disclosing four good-sized baskets, which afford ample space for baby's belongings.

For the Small Boy.

Busy mothers often bless their stars that their children are boys, says an exchange, because their clothes can be bought ready made and thus a world of worries avoided. So the day that the tiny man gets his first pair of trousers with legs about a finger long, a haircut and a mannish pair of shoes, even though mother realizes with a pang that she has lost her baby there comes a feeling of relief that the small petticoats and dresses discarded will greatly lessen the week's washing, to say nothing of the starching, ironing, sewing, ruffling and tucking. Frequently though, mamma is amazed at the way the little articles count up when she takes the boy to the clothing store for his first outfit, but usually papa is proud to pay the bill for his small son's mannish clothes, which, in miniature quite duplicate his own.

First he must have his union undersuit, his tan shoes and stockings, to say nothing of his patent leather pumps for best. But the most important thing is the "pants"—his first pair. Of course they must have pockets—that goes without saying for the small boy would lose half the joy of trousers could he not strut about with hands in hip pockets. There are stunning little suits this season in soft, beautiful goods, small checks and stripes, which, when worn with the blouse of pongee or other material in white or colors, are most satisfactory, both to the boy himself and to mamma. The English mode of little short Eton jackets is much in evidence this season, but nothing is prettier than the always popular sailor suit with its wide collar which leaves the slender, growing neck free for movement and breathing, and free to be hardened by contact with the fresh air. The Buster Brown style with knickerbocker trousers are in high favor for galatea and other wash goods, beside the military suits with collar and band from neck to shoulder in an epaulette effect which always appeals to the small boy. The Panama hats and the jaunty caps are favorites with the youngsters too because they are duplicates, in material at least, of those worn by father.

There are some extra short suits for the boys who wish to go with bare knees, and, to be worn with these, are the short socks which, at once solve the question of darning the knees which always receive the brunt of scuffling and dragging about on the ground, which is death to stockings, but life to the boy. Sandals for the seashore are a boon to children and are a comfortable compromise between shoes and bare feet.

I know a certain nineteen months' old boy who has never had a pair of shoes on his sturdy feet—except once when the experiment was tried to see how he would take it. "Sunny Jim" promptly kicked off the offending shoe and has never had one on since. He sleeps in the open air all by himself on a balcony off his nurse's room and has never seen a sick day and lacks but three pounds in weight of his little sister, who is twice his age. He is a model Los Angeles boy and a lively demonstration of what California sunshine and fresh air can do for babies.

Salads and Souffles.

A pretty way of serving a salad was that adopted at a recent luncheon just before Easter when the cottage cheese was molded into egg-shaped balls and placed in a nest of lettuce leaves with a golden yolk of mayonnaise dressing quivering beside them.

A correspondent whose occasional breezy notes are a cheerful factor in this department, writes that the French omelet, a recipe for which was printed in this column, is fine and adds anent another recipe for cooking the piquant pie-plant, "to prevent that rampant rhubarb from boiling over, add a small piece of butter, then a bit of spice with requisite sugar and water and you have a souffle more wholesome than pie. Baking improves it."

Alligator pears cut in dice and mixed with grape fruit pulp dressed with mayonnaise and served in grape fruit shells is sure of a welcome among the long list of fruit salads. The sliced Hawaiian pineapple also makes a delicious salad when combined with tart apples, chopped walnuts and candied cherries.

Fashions and Fads.

Violet shades are seen everywhere.

There is a rage for hair ornaments.

The touch of black is made much of.

The coronet braid is again in vogue.

Lapels are shown on nearly everything.

Paris has abandoned the directoire style.

Vivid effects in millinery are discouraged.

Feathers are being more liberally employed.

Irish crochet lace is the favorite for jabots.

Skirts are just a little wider around the feet.

There is a general trend toward fuller garments.

Some of the smart dress trimmings are done in straw.

Some of the new voiles are so lacy as to rival the nets.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

"Taming of the Shrew."

The Shakespeare section of the Wednesday Morning Club held a very interesting meeting yesterday, which was led by Mrs. H. E. Brett. The "Taming of the Shrew" occupied the attention of the members, and a number of clever papers were read.

At the afternoon session Mrs. T. R. Coles told entertainingly of "The Table of Our Grandmothers;" Dr. Lottie Davidson delivered an address on "Modern Dietary Systems," and Vincent Jenkins gave a piano solo.

Officers Nominated.

At Ebell Clubhouse yesterday afternoon, Mrs. R. P. Howell was nominated for president of the Cosmos Club; Mrs. E. B. Root, for vice-president, Mrs. T. W. Murray for second vice-president, Mrs. P. W. EVELYN THAW FOUND.

Papers in Milliner's Suit Served While She Plays With Pet Snake.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who has dropped almost completely from public view since the continued confinement of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, at Matteawan, is living quietly at No. 31 West Thirty-third street, New York. It was there that she was served last night with papers in a supplementary proceeding in the suit of a milliner who got judgment for $233 against her last September.

Soon after the judgment was secured process servers began a search for Mrs. Thaw, but it was not until last night that they were successful. The former chorus girl was found in her apartments playing with a snake, which she calmly caressed as she allowed it to coil around her arm. She accepted the service with the comment that she would be on hand for the examination, which was set for April 19. She declared, however, that she did not owe the money, and that the suit was a farce.

Miss Beattie Brown, who is so impressed with American pie that she is going across the sea to teach the British to make and eat it.

BRAVE GIRL.

FOR BRITISHERS PROPOSES PIE.

LONDON DANCER CONVERTED TO AMERICAN IDEA.

Says She Will Desert Stage Career to Bake Succulent Slabs for King Edward and the Aristocracy of England—Will Lead in Newest Invasion of Island Empire.

To teach the British to make and eat pie; real Yankee pie, from the pie belt of New England—this is the strange ambition of Miss Beattie Brown, and she is going to give up a stage career to do it. She has fallen a victim to the allurements of the American pie herself, and is so charmed with it as a succulent article of every-day diet that she believes her countrymen in the island empire should be taught to share in her joys. Hence, she will take upon herself the task of educating them—and, incidentally, she hopes to make a fortune in doing it.

Beattie Brown is in a girl's act at a local theater. She and her seven sister dancers left London about six months ago, on a year's contract and a day's notice. The contract is more than half over, and she has already mapped out her future, which implies abandonment of the stage for the cookstove. But, unlike Margaret Illington, she is not going into matrimony to secure the culinary part of her ambition.

"Of course we have pies in England," said Miss Brown, in her Orpheum dressing-room, yesterday, "but they are meat pies and game pies and pasties of that sort. For dessert we eat heavy puddings. I have heard of pies all my life, and supposed they were like those we get at home, y'know. But, my word, when we landed in Boston and they gave us apple pie at breakfast, and pumpkin pie at tiffin, and mince pie at dinner, y'know, I told Gussie—she's my roommate, y'know—that it was a treat for the gods.

"'Gussie,' says I, 'here's me chawnce, I'm going to give up the staige, and make pies for the Britishers.'

"Gussie thought I was dippy, y'know, but she has thought more about it lately, and, my word, she wants to go in with me on the plan. We have it jolly well worked out now, too. We finish our tour in June, and then it is me for the other side. I shall get a small shop in Piccadilly, in the fashionable quarter, y'know, and shall have a small bake oven in the rear. I will make crisp and crumbly crusts, and fill them with fresh fruit and pumpkins—say, those pumpkin pies are good!—and offer them for sale with a glawss of milk on the side, y'know, same as you do in these railway luncheon rooms. And, my eye, but I'll work up a custom, you watch me!"

"But won't it be hard to step from the stage to the bakeshop?" she was asked.

"In a way, yess," was the reply. "But staige work is hot, too, y'know. And I cawn't see how standing over a small bake oven will be worse than dressing three or four times, twice a day, as we do now. Anyhow, there is large money in pie-making, I'm sure, and after I get my trade started, I can hire a bakewoman, y'know. Gussie, she thinks it will be fine, and the other girls are all envious of the idea.

"I'm a little worried, y'know, how to make it fashionable, but I think I shall send me first mince pie to the King, God bless him. Y'know, the King is always looking out for something new in the culinary line. Now, I don't believe the King ever had a slab—isn't that what you call it?—of mince or pumpkin pie, and if I hit him just right with one, maybe I can be 'piemaker to H.R.H. King Edward VII,' y'know. Then, watch me trade come!

"Anyhow, it's worth trying, don't you think?"

In her American travels Miss Brown has taken trips to all the best bakeries and pie foundries, and has always, when invited to private houses, asked for hints and recipes for pies. She has collected these, and now has several hundred. These will be tried on the British idea and palate.

CALEXICO CUT-OFF OPEN.

Work Train Reaches Yuma Over New Imperial Valley Route to Be Operated Soon.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

YUMA, April 12.—Today a construction train is expected through to Yuma on the new Calexico cut-off of the Southern Pacific, incorporated as the Inter-Colorado and California Railroad. The grading contract has been fully completed by Harr & Kester, and steel is all in place. The road will now be thoroughly ballasted, with the expectation that local train service will be started very soon and that, on May 5, trains Nos. 7 and 8 of the main line will be sent around by the Imperial Valley. Early in May it is probable that the people of Yuma will join with the residents of the Imperial Valley in a great jollification over the union of the two communities by rail.

Territoial Veterinarian Norton has announced that the national inspection line has been so changed as to leave the Imperial Valley out of the infected district, and that cattle shipments from that region will hereafter be under the same slight restrictions as those from Arizona.

Construction on the main canal from the Laguna dam, through the reservation on the western side of the Colorado, will be begun this week, aided by two large steam shovels. Much of the work will be through rock and it is expected that four months will be needed for the digging of a couple of miles.

The body of Manuel Ventura, drowned last week by the overturning of a boat in the sluiceway at the Laguna dam, has been found near Yuma in the mud of the river bank.

The Yuma postoffice has been moved to new quarters in the Sanguinetti building, where the most modern of equipment has been provided.

Orin Standage of Mesa was married Saturday in Yuma to Miss Nell White of this city. Both are graduates of the Normal School of Arizona at Tempe.

A. B. Ming has been appointed immigration Commissioner of Yuma county with a salary of $50 a month and $1500 a year for expenses.

The District Court is now in session in Yuma. A number of relatively unimportant criminal cases have been disposed of, but the grand jury is still in session. It is probable that the moral conditions of the community will be materially improved by reason of legal investigations already on foot.

Execution and judgment have been renew in the District Court against the Rio del Monte Gold Mines Company, in favor of F. S. Peterson, who has established a claim for $25,871 indebtedness. The mines affected are in northern Yuma county, not far from the new gold strike.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict in Connection With Killing of Mrs. Hoffman.

"Death caused by a fracture of the skull, the injury having been received in an accident on the Pacific Electric crossing at Bairdstown," is the verdict rendered by a Coroner's jury yesterday in the case of Mrs. H. P. Hoffman. She was killed Monday night while riding in her husband's automobile. The machine was wrecked and Mr. Hoffman terribly injured.

By the verdict the motorman is held blameless. Hoffman is at the Crocker Street Hospital, where the attending surgeons state he has a good chance of recovery. He is suffering from fractures of the skull, jaw and two ribs, and probable internal injuries.

A Delicious, Nourishing Meal for 5 Cents

YOU don't believe it, do you? Here it is: Take two SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUITS; heat them in the oven to restore crispness, pour hot milk over them; add a little cream and salt to suit the taste.

Or, if you don't like milk, try it this way: Heat two Biscuits in oven to restore crispness; then dip them quickly in salt water, place a piece of butter on the Biscuit, allowing it to melt into the shreds.

Or, heat the Biscuits in oven, dip them in milk, drain, and fry in butter, after which they may be served with a little cream, if desired.

A little fruit makes the meal even more wholesome and adds little to the cost. Try one of these tomorrow.

Shredded Wheat is made of the choicest selected white wheat, cleaned, steam-cooked and baked. Try it for breakfast to-morrow with milk or cream. The Biscuit is also delicious for any meal in combination with fresh or preserved fruits.

Miss Virgil McGrath, who entertained with a card party yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Mamie Clossman, a popular young visitor from Zanesville, Ohio.

MOURNED TO DEATH.

Brewery Worker Hangs Himself Because of Grief for Loss of His Wife Recently.

Ludwig Fischback, 35 years of age, left four little children to face the struggles of life alone when he committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself to the limb of a tree.

Fischback was an employé of the Maier Brewing Company and lived at Forty-seventh street and Santa Fé avenue. His wife died several weeks ago and he grieved over the loss almost continually. He seemed to take no interest in his work or in his home. He could not bear to see his babies about, because they reminded him of the mother who had departed.

Brooding over his loss, Fischback became despondent. Yesterday morning he arose at daylight and went to the yard in the rear of his home. He tied one end of a rope about the limb of a tree. Then he secured a soap box and stood upon it. He fastened the other end of the rope about his neck and kicked the soap box from under him.

Death resulted from strangulation. Henrietta Goltz, a German woman, discovered the body a short time later. It was still warm and she notified neighbors, who cut it down.

An inquest will be held today.

THIEVES THE LOSERS.

Frightened Away While Trying to Blow Safe of Saloon-keeper and Leave Tools Behind.

L. Halbriter, proprietor of a saloon at Seventh street and Santa Fe avenue, yesterday reported to the police that an attempt had been made to rob his safe on Tuesday night. The thieves entered the saloon by breaking out a panel in the side door. They had set the charge ready for "blowing" when frightened away.

When Halbriter opened his place of business he found all the tools used by the thieves scatteered about the floor, while a small bottle containing the nitro-glycerine had been left near the safe.

Kind Hearts--Good Deeds

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

So little attention is paid to human life by speed-mad automobilists that a story coming from Dayton, O., has a refreshing sound. James L. Dinsmore and F. O. Probasco were driving their car along the top of a levee only eight feet wide, when a child was seen a few feet ahead of them. Probasco, who was driving, said, "Is it the child or the river, Jim?" to which Dinsmore replied, "The river for ours," and the car was turned down the thirty-foot embankment and a plunge made into the cold water of the Miami River. Though the river was at a high stage, and the current swift, the men swam ashore and suffered no injury from their experience. The automobile was lost.

Charles M. Cooke, president of the Bank of Hawaii, and head of numerous business enterprises in Honolulu, made Easter a memorable day for the churches and charitable institutions of his city. A quarter of a million dollars was the amount of his benefactions to commemorate the religious significance of the day.

Never did a mother's love for her child receive a more severe test than when Mrs. Christine Stecker, 22 years old, yielded to the surgeon's knife last week at the Frankford Hospital, Philadelphia, and allowed a piece of skin ten square inches to be taken from her thigh to be grafted on the neck and face of her four-year-old son, Albert, to save him from disfigurement. The child was burned when his clothes caught fire while playing with matches, and when word was brought to her that her boy was on a fair road to recovery her joy knew no bounds. That he should be disfigured for life was her only sorrow. Skin grafting was then suggested as the means of restoration to a semblance of the boy's former self.

In order to have skin enough to cover the affected parts, a piece of ten square inches was required. The mother in her joy at once offered herself for the ordeal. Being in perfect health, the doctor accepted her proffer, and subjected her to the knife, with the result that both patients are reported doing well.

Andrew Carnegie's desire for universal peace has just caused him to give a check for $200,000. This gift was made to Hamilton College, "in recognition of the unique services of Elihu Root as Secretary of State in the interest of international peace through arbitration treaties negotiated by him, and in various other directions." The income from this fund is to be devoted to the salaries of the instructors of the college.

This is Mr. Carnegie's second gift to Hamilton College. Both were in recognition of the distinguished services to his country rendered by Senator Root. The first gift was $100,000, more than half of which went into Carnegie Hall, one of the college dormitories. The rest went to found scholarships to help worthy young men without means to get an education.

The kindly nature of the young Queen of Spain is related by the Spanish papers. Her Majesty was returning from a drive in her motor car, when she noticed an old man by the wayside vainly endeavoring to raise his fallen donkey. The animal was laden with wood and the old man was in despair over his useless efforts, when the Queen ordered the chauffeur to stop, and said:

"Help the poor old man to raise his donkey, but do not beat the little animal."

Miss Elizabeth Phillips of Washington, who is known as the Santa Claus lady because she undertook to answer missives sent to that august personage, gave up her time the week preceding Easter to making the children of Washington happy with Easter bunnies and other toys suggestive of the season. She, no doubt, thinks one Christmas is hardly enough in the lives of some of the poor little ones.

To decide what to do with 100,000 spinsters and widows who cannot hope to marry because men are scarce in Massachusetts, and who are obliged to drag out a weary existence, sixty widely known business and professional women of Greater Boston have organized to win State aid in obtaining small tracts of land near large cities where women may engage in profitable agricultural enterprises.

A wealthy New York woman is going to Massachusetts in June to investigate, and she will spend from $200,000 to $300,000 in the cause if it appeals to her.

CARUSO INDIGNANT.

Tenor Says There Is Nothing Wrong With His Voice, But Will Take Rest.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—Enrico Caruso, the tenor, sailed today for Liverpool. The singer was indignant at the reports that his voice was seriously impaired, and that he was going abroad to submit to an operation on his throat.

"The idea is ridiculous," he said. "It may be that just at this time my voice is not up to the mark, but the lapse is only temporary. I am now in need of rest, and intend to get it. I expect to rehearse at the beginning of the New York opera season."

HOSTILITY.

PPOSITION IS GROWING FAST.

rger Zone Will Be Fought by Liquor Men.

nti-Saloonists and Church Folk Gird Armor On.

itiative Committee Thinks It's "Sawing Wood."

t appears that the initiative ordi-nce for enlarging the liquor zone d regulating transfers will have combined opposition of the Whole-le Dealers' Association, the Royal ch saloon-keepers, the Church Fed-ation and the Anti-Saloon League. the face of such hostility, some of friends concede that, despite the eed with which signatures were se-red early in the week, there is little elihood that the measure will ever ach the Council.

The Royal Arch met yesterday aft-noon, but as the attendance was all another meeting was called for is afternoon. Outsiders interested the liquor business were admitted terday, but nothing was done ex-pt that T. W. Roulo, Valiant Com-ander, was authorized to "get sy."

"I will stop this initiative ordinance," id Roulo. "It is the work of a dozen en, who do not represent the liquor erests, and they are proposing some-ing that we do not want. We want sit still and not rock the boat. The tion was ill advised and the liquor en will be prompt to show their lack sympathy with it."

Much of the time at the meeting was nsumed by Thomas E. Gibbon, a all boss, who lectured the saloon-epers on their business obligations. advised them to live strictly thin the law, keep out of politics, old machines and support popular vic reforms. He said he was unaltera-y against prohibition, and would fight y attempt to bring it about, as the ople had once expressed their will erwhelmingly against it, and are ll of the same mind, he believes.

The members received the address as order from the recall administra-n to "be good and not rock the at," except at the command of the all bosses.

"The Wholesale Dealers' Associa-n is opposed to this action and will all it can to check it," said I. S. een, its president. Other members clared the organization would join reform forces in defeating the or-nance if necessary.

Nathan Newby, chairman of the ic Righteousness Committee of the urch Federation, says the ordi-ce will be fought relentlessly by at body. The Anti-Saloon League is ready for the fray.

MAYOR'S COMMENT DRY.

"It seems that some people never ll have any sense," was the dry mment of Mayor Alexander, when ed what he thought about the ini-tive movement.

City Attorney Hewitt said he had no inion to express, but would give the dinance careful consideration.

Councilman Dromgold declares the uncil will not receive the measure less it has to. Other members re-ed the scheme as a serious technical stake, saying if the ordinance is mitted it will be beaten so badly at the liquor interests can never pe to have influence again.

Petitions were in circulation yester-y, and it was asserted that they re liberally signed. The effort of Royal Arch officials will be to nvince the "bucket brigade" com-ttee that the presentation of these the Council will precipitate a liquor mpaign that can only end with ad-ional restrictions on the traffic.

When approached yesterday, the omoters of the initiative proposition id they began without the advice the others and that they would not ceive any now. They are almost olly men whose business or prop-y was affected by the reduction of wholesale zone two years ago. e extensions asked would make a strict larger than that originally cupied by the family liquor stores.

The close-mouthed policy of the embers of the recall administration taken as an indication that a liquor mpaign is not wished for, in view the municipal campaign in Decem-r.

CUTTING THEIR OWN RYE.

Charles Saddler, chairman of the itiative committee, which is direct-g the petition work, says nothing will op the petitions, and that enough gnatures will be obtained by tomor-w night to obligate the Council to t.

"I have talked with Mr. Roulo and r. Green," he said, "and I feel safe saying that neither the Royal Arch r the wholesalers will oppose this ovement. I think they understand it w, and will not find reason to be stile. We have been working on this r a year, and accomplished nothing ith the aid of these organizations, so e decided to cut our own rye."

Big and Little Brain.

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—[To the ditor of The Times:] In answer to e article of Homer A. King, pub-hed in The Times of last Sunday, as criticism to Mr. Bradshaw's allusion the sixth sense, allow me to say e gentleman, in my opinion, is as far rong as Mr. Bradshaw.

Mr. King alludes to II Kings iii:15 prove his theory. This is a familiar ble story of God's wonderful deal-gs with the children of Israel, and entirely foreign to the subject un-r consideration, and does not, in any nse prove his theory of the "sixth nse," or "little brain," any more than admits the contention of Mr. Brad-aw, but proves the power of God to spend the "Laws of Nature," and roduce something out of the ordinary, supernatural.

The verse refered to says, "But now ing me a minstrel, and it came to ss, when the minstrel played, that e hand of the Lord came upon him." Under this divine influence Elisha id, "Thus saith the Lord, make this lley full of ditches, for thus saith e Lord, ye shall not see wind, neither all ye see rain, yet this valley shall e filled with water, that ye may rink, both ye and your cattle and our beasts. And this is but a light ing in the sight of the Lord."

Where Mr. King makes his mistake in attributing this power to foretell the "little brain" instead of to the ower of God. His statement that the sixth sense" or "little brain," at the ead of the spinal column, is the thing at received the "impressions" in reams, telepathic power, mind reading, mesmeric and hypnotic healings, prescience, foretelling future events by dreams, trance and intuitions, etc., is misleading, and not founded on facts. He apparently overlooks the important thought that Elisha was foretelling something that could not happen in the course of natural events, but required the infinite power of God to bring about.

To my mind that fact shows that the "sixth sense" or "little brain," had nothing to do with the foretelling of the event that did happen, as it was a direct communication from God to Elisha while "The hand of the Lord was upon him." And I contend that God can deal through the "big brain," much easier than through the "little brain," and that He does not require a "sixth sence" in His subjects to be able to reveal to them coming events, or foretell the appearance of a miracle.

The water coming into the ditches, dug by the children of Israel through the command of Elisha, was of miraculous origin, and Elisha's "sixth sense" could not have foretold of something to happen that was so far removed from the realm of natural events, something that required the power of God to bring about.

Future events are frequently foretold by people who have that peculiar power, whether attributed to a "sixth sense" or "little brain" or disembodied spirits of men, but they are events that will happen naturally, and are explained by natural laws, but my contention is that miracles, supernatural events, are only revealed to those who are in touch with the power that works the miracle, and that this power, (God,) can reeval it to His subjects through the natural (five) senses, much easier than through a "sixth sense" or mythical "little brain," that Mr. King and Mr. Bradshaw seem to have knowledge of.

To prove such philosophy they will have to keep out of the word of God, for all the foretelling of future events was attested to by all that received such power as being the "Hand of the Lord upon them," and a "thus saith the Lord."

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

The concluding concert of the Lott-Krauss chamber music organization will be given tonight at Simpson Auditorium.

So much comment has been made in this column on the splendid evangelism of this plucky little coterie of artists that further words seem superfluous, but it may be said, with truth, that this final recital should be well attended, and that the audience should be a representative musical assembly. Chamber music is one of the highest forms of art. It is music in absolute purity, and unless we get music in absolute purity occasionally, we soon lose appreciation of all that which is worth while.

There are few chamber music organizations in this country. The maintainance of them is too expensive.

Mr. Krauss and Mrs. Lott will play the Kreutzer sonata, while the quartette will render the Mendelssohn Opus 12 quartette. With the assistance of Dalhousie Young, the organization will offer that composer's "Five Bagatelles" for string quintette.

Mr. Lott will give a group of songs by Franz, Brahms and Schumann.

Dick Ferris, Florence Stone and members of the company which played with them in "Friends" last week at the Majestic Theater, will go to Oxnard today, to open the new theater of that town tonight, with the same piece.

Miss Edna Sidney, who was a prominent member of the Grand Operahouse company last summer, arrived from New York last night, and will make an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Charles Gyblin of Glendale. Miss Sidney expects to remain through the summer, and may become a member of the musical company to be formed at the Majestic Theater.

George F. Burgess, door-tender at the Burbank, was quietly married last evening to Miss Emma Van Voorhis, formerly employed at that house. Baker P. Lee was the officiating clergyman, and the place, Christ Church. Friends of the couple were not informed of the affair until after the knot was tied.

Mme. Nazimova will present "Hedda Gabler" at the Mason Operahouse tonight. The performance of this work is for this evening only.

Marion Tiffany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Owen, is in the city visiting her parents. Miss Tiffany has been playing with the Valencia stock company in San Francisco, and will rest here for some weeks.

Under Shrine auspices, the Greet players and the Russian Symphony Orchestra of New York, under Modest Altschuler's direction, will hold the Auditorium during all of next week.

The week will open with the Monday night revival of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," with all the Mendelssohn music.

Tuesday evening and Wednesday matinée "Romeo and Juliet" is the bill; the music by Gounod and Tschaikowski. This is Shakespeare's text with the musical accompaniment for background. It opens with the wonderful fantasy of Tschaikowsky.

Wednesday evening, and the only time during the week, "The Tempest," Shakespeare's play—his tribute to the newly-discovered America; in fact, his swan song, with music by Sir Arthur Sullivan, the overture and intermezzo by Tschaikowsky.

On Thursday evening the morality play, "Everyman," which seven years ago was seen in London and New York when Ben Greet brought about its remarkable revival. It was in this play Mr. Greet achieved his earliest and greatest triumph in America. The production on this occasion will be presented with special music, augmented by male chorus.

Friday is the crowning day of the week; it is a celebration, both afternoon and evening of Shakespeare's birthday, April 23. The Shakespeare clubs of Southern California and a large number of dramatic and musical organizations are uniting to make this a most memorable occasion.

The programme for the afternoon is "As You Like It," while at night "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will receive its second presentation. "As You Like It" is undoubtedly the most popular of Shakespeare's comedies, and a novelty is promised in this presentation in that Modest Altschuler and Mr. Greet have arranged to play it to the accompaniment of the Beethoven Sixth Symphony, commonly known as "The Pastoral."

For Saturday matinée "A Midsummed Night's Dream" is scheduled, and the week's series will finish with a special production of "Twelfth Night." Members of the Shrine will act as ushers under the direction of Ben Powell. The seat sale is at Bartlett's; popular prices will prevail.

palmy days when the lights shone red over many transoms along Commercial and east of Alameda street—he was no more communicative as to his movements in the last month than he used to be relative to the opening of his new resorts in the brick houses that were instrumental in bringing about the recall election.

However, with $5000 of Earl's money tucked away in his jeans, and with $5000 more to come in less than six months, to help him in covering the losses he has suffered, he was not unhappy.

One thing that has developed in the progress of the investigation is the fact that District-Attorney Fredericks knew about everything there was to know about the red-light district long before the present agitation started, and that he had taken steps to close up all disorderly resorts in advance of the brass-band contingent that finally succeeded in bringing the matter before the grand jury.

All of the testimony so far presented confirms the statements of the friends of the District Attorney, to the effect that he caused the closing of Oswald's resorts, an action which brought the charge of graft to the surface.

Without the work of the District Attorney in the red-light district it is asserted that Oswald never would have had occasion to complain; that he never would have gone to a man with money and sold out all he knew, or purported to know, for a matter of $10,000.

KERN'S FRIENDS GRIEVED.

Some of the friends of former Chief of Police Kern were particularly grieved yesterday that publicity should have been given to the statement of "Tom" Savage—himself once a Tenderloin boss—to the effect that the sealskin coat of his deceased wife, better known as May Davenport, had been given as a present to Kern, to be worn later by the wife of the former Chief of Police.

Though this is a matter of evidence, it is denied by friends of Kern that there is any foundation for the statement. It is looked upon as a reflection upon Mrs. Kern, and general regret is expressed that her name should have been drawn into the controversy.

Nick Oswald will appear once more today before the grand jury, and several other witnesses are likely to be examined before a report will be ready, or before another indictment will be returned.

It is needless to say that an indictment is not a conviction. Every person indicted, Sam Schenck among the number, will have his day in court. It will be the duty of the prosecution then to furnish evidence necessary to secure a conviction.

OPPOSE CONSULAR SCHOOL.

Too Expensive Thinks Chamber of Commerce—Congress Asked to Appropriate Funds.

The Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday adopted a resolution opposing the establishment of the proposed National Consular School, because of the expense and for other reasons. Copies of the resolution will be sent to the California delegation in Congress.

President Booth was authorized to telegraph the Senators and Congressmen from this State, urging them to introduce and push a bill appropriating a sum sufficient to meet the expenses of the President on his proposed trip to the Pacific Coast this summer.

S. G. Wilson was appointed a member of the Committee on Military Affairs and J. P. Yates on the Committee on Commerce. Delegates will be appointed to attend the National Peace Conference in Chicago next month, and the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration.

The following were admitted to membership: Edward F. Dishman, Curran Printing Company, C. H. Hance, J. H. Byerly, W. H. Lewis, J. R. Lemon, J. E. Martin, Jr., Charles Seyler, Jr., J. A. Dubbs, Ben S. Lemmon and Dr. L. W. Bankroft.

SCHOOLS GO UP IN HANFORD.

HIGHEST MARK YET IN THE ATTENDANCE THERE.

Trustees Decide to Call Special Election on the Question of Imposing of a Special Tax of Five Thousand Dollars for Improvements and Salaries of Additional Teachers.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

HANFORD, April 14.—At a stormy session of the trustees of the Hanford grammar school district Friday evening, the following were selected to manage the schools next term: Miss Margaret Bready and A. M. Ayers, principals; C. W. Baker, supervising principal. It was decided to call a special tax election for May 9, on a $5000 issue for improvements and to pay the salaries the increased attendance this year has necessitated and for which no provision was made. The high water mark in the city schools was reached Thursday, when the attendance was 1000. The results being attained by the appointment of an attendance officer are becoming apparent, and a line is also gained on the growth of this city.

The fire department has already taken up the celebration of the Fourth of July here, and a Finance Committee has been appointed to canvass the situation.

FOR AUTO CLUB.

An official of the California Automobile Club is here for the purpose of organizing a Kings county club and he said today the plan is a go. Hanford has probably more machines for a town of its size than any other city in the State, and the visitor expressed amazement at the fact that no local organization existed. The club to be formed will be affiliated with the State organization. Hanford is also to be on the route mapped in the club's guide book between Los Angeles and San Francisco. The cars have heretofore passed from Tulare through Goshen to Fresno, ignoring Hanford.

Much favorable comment is being heard on the action of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in allotting more time to Hanford than to any other city, excepting Fresno, for stopover in its San Joaquin Valley tour. The southern visitors will be given a hearty reception during their stay of the afternoon and night of April 27, and will be shown about the surrounding country as well as can be in that length of time. The San Francisco body, which will be here Saturday of this week, allotted but a single hour's time to Hanford.

CLEANERS IN ACTION.

Thursday will be "Clean-up Day" in Hanford, and the first movement for "the city beautiful" of the Outdoor Art League will be accomplished. The city has been districted and "cleaning supervisors" appointed. Many citizens are acting in advance, cleaning up their places in advance of the day, so they can watch the others work.

The Supervisors have appropriated by resolution a sum "approximately $200," to pay the salary of an inspector to aid the State and Federal authorities in the work of eradicating sheep scabies in this county. The board has adjourned at call, and will reconvene as soon as the Governor signs the Webber Annexation Bill, as there are many important matters held in abeyance pending his approval of the measure.

A minimum rate on gas and water meters of $1 has been established by the City Trustees. The rates for public utilities have been established for the ensuing year the same as last, with the above exception.

Charles Kendall has been elected fire chief by the department, subject to the approval of the Trustees. The office carries with it a salary of $100 per month. The company is a volunteer organization, but equipped with modern apparatus, and has but little work to do.

An active canvass is being made by the local Raisin Day Committee and the subscriptions now aggregate over $1000. The Kings County Farmers' Union has "unqualifiedly" indorsed the plan.

WHISKY IN SHOES?

Bootmaker Arrested in Tulare Charged With Selling Liquor, Pleads Not Guilty.

TULARE, April 13.—John Stahleker, a German shoemaker, was arrested last night by Marshal Smith, charged with selling liquor. Harry Smith was also arrested, charged with drinking same.

The two men appeared before Judge Davis this morning, pleaded not guilty, and demanded jury trials. Smith's trial was set for Thursday, the 15th inst., and Stahlaker's for Wednesday, the 21st inst. This is Stahlaker's second arrest since Tulare became a dry town.

Mrs. Margaret Newell died this morning, aged 75. Her remains will be shipped to San Francisco for cremation. Mrs. Newell was one of Tulare's oldest residents, having lived here thirty-one years.

READY FOR VISITORS.

At the Board of Trade meeting last night arrangements were made for receiving and entertaining the two business men's excursions, one from Los Angeles and one from San Francisco, soon to come to this valley. The San Francisco excursion will be due in Tulare next Saturday. The board suggests Wednesday, the 21st inst., as "clean-up day," and in all probability the Trustees will ratify this action at its next meeting.

It was unanimously decided that the proposed sewer system bonds should be voted. T. B. Twaddle was appointed Tulare's representative on the committee having in hand the matter of promoting the Tulare-Porterville proposition.

G. A. Starkweather has resigned as Southern Pacific roadmaster, and J. Mills of Sacramento has arrived to take the place.

A cow belonging to Lee Weaver gave birth yesterday to three heifer calves, all fully developed.

SOLD TIPS AND "TIP" CITY.

Charged with violating the anti-tip ordinance, one woman and seven men were fined by Justice Rose in the Police Court yesterday. The woman was fined $5, while the men were fined $15 and $20 each. They all pleaded guilty to selling copies of San Francisco papers containing form charts and tips on the races.

ROYALLY GREET GRAND ARMY.

People of Pasadena Extend a Warm Welcome.

Honored Wearers of the Blue Throng the Streets.

Contest for the Department Commander Is on.

Pasadena capitulated to the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps yesterday, with the stipulation that the invaders enjoy themselves and come again.

The ground floor of the east building of the Hotel Green fairly swarmed with be-ribboned and be-medaled bluecoats from the gray of dawn until midnight. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon patrolmen found difficulty in making way for electric cars, so dense was the crowd waiting to be taken in automobiles about the Crown City.

The presence of John H. Roberts of San Francisco, who was for five years assistant adjutant-general of the G.A.R., has added a zest to the campaign of the four candidates out for the position of department commander.

It was intimated in lobby gossip that William S. Daubenspeck of Los Angeles, the most likely candidate in the field, would appoint Comrade Roberts his assistant adjutant. Last night this was flatly denied by Daubenspeck, who stated that he had approached no one in regard to the matter—that he had made no promises.

ROBERTS OUT.

Roberts was indignant when asked about his position. He said: "Because I happen to be here they say I am again out for the position I held for five years. I am out of it altogether. I think that Comrade Daubenspeck will be elected by an overwhelming majority."

The race lies between Daubenspeck and H. A. Plimpton of Riverside.

Indications are that the next encampment will be held at either Oakland or Sacramento, with the latter as favorite. Commander P. W. Carroll of the Lyon Post, Oakland, has invitations from the Mayor and Supervisors. As there are seventy-four posts north and only twenty-seven south of the Tehachepi, and as the last three encampments have been held at Santa Barbara, Santa Ana and Pasadena, a strong stand will be made by Northern California to win back the department offices at the next encampment. This matter will probably come up Friday.

Thirteen delegates are to be elected by open ballot to attend the national encampment at Salt Lake, to be held the week of August 9.

MEETING OVERFLOWS.

Woodman Hall was packed to the doors at the open session of the encampment last night. So great was the throng that an overflow meeting was held in the dining-room in the [illegible] wing of Hotel Green, which was [illegible] crowded. In the hall, Rev. Frank [illegible]wing delivered the address of [illegible] in place of Mayor Earley, who [illegible] out of the city. He was introduced by Dr. Gideon Chase, Commander Jason H. Shepard of the John F. Godfrey Post, acted as chairman.

At both meetings, short addresses were delivered by department officers of the G.A.R. and W.R.C. All the speakers expressed gratitude for the splendid treatment that has been accorded them by the Pasadena post.

W.R.C. CANDIDATES.

There are four candidates in the field for the position of department commander of the Woman's Relief Corps. "The latest candidate to be suggested for the honor," said Past National President Mrs. Elizabeth D'Arcy Kinne, "is Cora L. Armour of Pomona, and I don't know but I may run myself," she said, laughing.

Others out for the department presidency are Martha Chapin of Los Angeles, Ella Van Horn of Los Angeles and Rilla Henry of Arroyo Grande.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

The encampment will convene for business at 10 o'clock this morning at Woodman Hall. The annual parade of the Grand Army, the Sons of Veterans and Spanish War Veterans acting as escort, will start at 3 o'clock. Two thousand school children, stationed on East Colorado street, will greet the veterans with patriotic songs and waving of flags. In the evening a reunion and camp fire will be held in the assembly-room of the east building of Hotel Green. There will be speeches, good music, and the public is invited.

MORNING SESSIONS.

Both the departments of the G.A.R. and W.R.C. held their opening sessions yesterday morning at Woodmen's Hall and the First Congregational Church, respectively. The session of the G.A.R. was held behind closed doors with sentinels and countersigns very much in evidence, and only G. A.R. men were admitted. Reports were received from State officers, and an address was delivered by Department Commander Merrill. He reported that the posts in the department had grown in numbers during the past year and that expenses had been reduced. He advocated reducing the per capita tax, and made a suggestion that the older members of the post of the department be elected to offices of honor as far as possible.

Other reports were made by Senior Vice-Department Commander Charles H. Blinn, Asst. Adjt.-Gen. J. M. Guinn, Judge Advocate Harvey Potter, Patriotic Instructor L. W. Simmons, Chaplain William N. Van de Mark, Medical Director S. W. Hopkins, J. O. Garman, Edgar W. Clark and O. H. Coulter, the Auditing Committee; Department Inspector O. H. WORKERS MEET FOR BOOSTING.

COMMITTEES OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ASSEMBLE.

Members Report Progress and Discuss Plans Made—Plea for Water Transportation Development—Annexation and National Public Works Board Considered.

One hundred members of various Chamber of Commerce committees gathered at Levy's last night for a dinner and informal speech-making. President Booth stated that other "workers" banquets would be held, and said he was heartily in favor of having the members of the committees meet for the purpose of interchanging views and seeking new methods for boosting the chamber.

John A. Fox, director of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, referred to the fact that nearly all the large cities of the world are situated on waterways, and said: "Every municipality needs water transportation. Compared with expenditures in foreign countries, this nation does not appropriate nearly enough money for the development of her rivers and harbors. There ought to be a change of policy. The people must be educated as to the importance of water transportation.

"We also need a more equable apportionment of the appropriation for rivers and harbors. When we realize that water transportation is only one-sixth as costly as by rail, we can appreciate the importance of the question."

The speaker quoted various reports of the rapidly-increasing production of articles in this country, and showed how inadequate a service is given by the railroads. He said he did not mean to disparage railroads; on the contrary, he praised the heads of big transportation systems for the work accomplished in developing new territory. But he thought the time had come for the development of water transportation. He showed how cheaply freight could be carried on the Great Lakes from Duluth to Buffalo, and declared that the Missisippi and other rivers in the Middle West ought to carry vast fleets of barges during the warm months.

Mr. Fox told how Germany had appreciated the importance of her rivers and had dredged them until they are capable of floating immense cargoes to tidewater. He said one direct result of better waterways was to decrease railroad freight rates.

He made the assertion that more than $200,000,000 could be saved annually by the proper development of waterways. Since coming to the Pacific Coast, he continued, he had investigated local conditions and found much to praise in the natural advantages of San Pedro harbor. He predicted that it will become an important commercial port if the people continue to work for its development.

Henry T. Lee, chairman of the Law Committee, spoke briefly of the plan to institute a National Board of Public Works, to investigate the needs of various sections of the country and advise Congress in regard to appropriations. He stated that the plan had been proposed by the New York Board of Trade and Transportation and that commercial bodies all over the country will be asked to cooperate. The subject will be considered further at the next meeting of the "workers."

Carl E. McStay, chairman of the Membership Committee, said that nearly $8000 more a year is needed for carrying out the plans of the chamber; that a vigorous campaign for new members is under way and that it is expected that at least 500 will be secured before the next annual meeting.

William Mulholland, chief engineer of the aqueduct project, was greeted with hearty applause when he was introduced. He spoke of the debt owed to the Chamber of Commerce for its stand on the Owens River bond issue and showed how the city had constructed difficult sections of the aqueduct at lower figures than those of the lowest bidder under the competitive system. He promised that the completed project will cost about the original estimate—$23,000,000.

Stoddard Jess, chairman of the consolidation Committee, reported that organization had been effected and that plans are under way for overcoming the difficulties in the path of the annexationists. He referred to the corporate and private interests that are hostile to consolidation and predicted that there is a long hard fight ahead for its friends.

Joseph Scott made a hit when called upon. He arose and remarked: "Gentlemen, it is getting late. I know you would prefer to go home rather than listen to me. I therefore move we adjourn."

Among those present were: H. J. Brainerd, A. P. Fleming, W. D. Stephens, Gilbert S. Wright, Frank L. Forrester, G. E. Bittinger, C. E. Loomis, John S. Mitchell, William G. ON THE LIST.

SCHOOL CENSUS BEGINS TODAY.

MARSHALS IN EVERY DISTRICT HUNTING "KIDS."

County Superintendent Estimates an Increase in the Number of Children at Eight Thousand Over Last Year—Issues Instructions to the Counters—List of Appointments.

All the sweet sixteens in Los Angeles county are to be put upon the list, and other children under 17 will also take their places in the columns of the school census, the taking of which will begin today and last for two weeks. Every child between the ages of 5 and 17 years will mean $16 extra to the school district in which its parents or guardian resides.

"Don't hide them," is the advice given by Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, to all parents.

The census, with 148 marshals to handle it, must be completed by April 30, and the reports filed by May 10. Last year the census showed a total of 112,000 children in this county under 17 years of age; this year Superintendent Keppel expects the number will reach approximately 120,000. There were 84,615 youngsters enumerated last year between 5 and 17 years old, but this year the estimate is that they will amount to between 89,000 and 90,000.

Each of the 148 school districts in the county will have a census marshal, while in the large ones the marshals will be assisted by deputies. Yesterday Superintendent Keppel issued his instructions to all marshals regarding the taking of the census, which is an important work and must be accurately conducted.

GOSSIP OF THE FOREIGN STAGE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 17.—Gertie Miller has been giving her impressions of New York, and while they are but surface impressions, they are nevertheless interesting.

"I think that what first struck me most," she says, "was the noise of the overhead trains. I had, after having been in dear old London for quite a few years, almost persuaded myself that certain streets there—the Strand, the leading city thoroughfares, and West End streets, for example—were really horribly noisy. But in comparison to the leading American streets, London's 'bye-ways and lanes' seemed to me, after a short experience of New York traffic, perfect havens of rest, and many a time I started across the road, but jumped back again with my heart in my mouth after I had got only a few yards.

"'Are English people too polite?' is a problem which struck me most forcibly after I had been in New York only a few days. In America, not with any idea of being rude, or with the least desire in the world to offend, 'pleases' and 'thank yous' would seem to be tabooed by some unwritten law and by common consent. For instance, the cabman who takes your fare would as soon think of trying to fly across the Atlantic in an aëroplane as of saying 'thank you;' the waiter to whom you pay your bill probably would have a fit on the spot if he thought that he was expected to say 'thank you;' in fact, 'thank yous' and 'pleases' are practically non-existent across the water.

"The American hotels and restaurants are just too wonderful for words. The hotels, indeed, are simply palatial, and, although I have not been a very extensive traveler, I think I am correct in saying that a first-class American hotel is just about the best possible. You just go into your apartment, close the door, and there you have everything you can possibly wish—bedroom, private sitting-room, bathroom, telephone and all the 'delicacies of the season' are yours. In fact, you can sit in your suite and try and rack your brains to find anything you haven't got for a month without success."

Another Londoner returned from an American trip is much in the public eye. Last Sunday Harry Lauder was entertained at dinner by a big company, headed by Sir Thomas Dewar, of whisky fame. Although Lauder has been back only a fortnight, he is already talking of returning to the United States next autumn if he can rearrange his English dates without losing too much money.

And, speaking of English dates, Lauder filled one engagement since his return to England at a price that will astonish his American friends. It is a yearly affair, and the contract was signed years ago before Lauder made his reputation. In a little theater attached to a saloon in Birkenhead, Lauder sings and dances a whole week for $20! No wonder he prefers the United States.

Chales Frohman took a sly little rap at the Millionaires' Theater in New York last week. Referring to a surprise which he has prepared for London, the details of which, however, he refuses to give at the present time, the American manager said:

"It is so far ahead of the plans for the Millionaires' Theater, with all their millions, that it makes me laugh. I understand, by the way, that the representative of the Millionaires' Theater, where they proposed that the only new plays to be produced were to be written by American authors, is to arrive here with a large bank account, to buy original plays by English authors for production at the Millionaires' Theater in New York. I hope to sell him a few. I believe that after he has searched this market, he goes to France and Germany. It's a fine thing to give the American a chance, and it's only the millionaire who knows how to give it to him good. That's how he gets his millions."

Henry Bernstein has delivered to the same manager the MSS. of "Israel," which is to be produced in England as well as in the United States. Frohman has Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Henry Ainley in mind for the leading parts in the English production, while Constance Collier and Holbrook Blinn will fill the same roles in America. It is very possible that the best part of the rehearsals for the American production will be held in England during the coming summer under Frohman's immediate supervision.

Seymour Hicks, who can always be depended upon for surprises, has hit upon a novel scheme for the amusement of London play-goers. It seems that his wife, Ellaline Terriss, according to her press agent, cannot stand the strain of the matinée performances of "The Dashing Little Duke," in which she is appearing at the Hicks Theater. Although Hicks is appearing at the Coliseum in a twenty-minute sketch with Zena Dare, is rehearsing for a musical version of "The Dictator" called "Captain Kidd," and is engaged in writing another new piece for himself and Ellaline Terriss, he has enough surplus time and energy to come to the rescue of his tired wife and play her part in "The Dashing Little Duke" at future matinées.

The "Great Unacted" in England have united for mutual protection and admiration. They call themselves "The Unacted Authors' Association," and the purposes of the organization are to insure the reading of their plays and to produce the best of them as matinée performances. At all the productions, seats will be thoughtfully reserved for managers. It is the hope and aim of this newly-formed association that the time may come when all managers will refuse to read any plays by unknown authors which have not been passed by the society and its readers as possessing merit.

SOUR FOOD AND GASSY STOMACH.

TAKE SOME DIAPEPSIN AND RID YOURSELF OF STOMACH TROUBLE FOREVER.

Eat your favorite foods without dread of indigestion or other upset feelings—Five minutes after taking Diapepsin you feel relieved and your stomach becomes regular again.

Some people think they have Indigestion, others Catarrh of the Stomach, others Nervousness, Cancer or Dyspepesia, etc. Call it this if you will, but the real name for your trouble is Food Fermentation, with only partial digestion. Everything you eat turns to either Acid, Stomach gas, or Stomach poison, which weaken the digestive organs, causing a lack of gastric juice. Your food sours, is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, burning sensation, a feeling of vomiting, heartburn, water brash, and tenderness in the pit of the stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, nausea, belching of gas, dizziness, sick headaches, mental depression, and many other common symptoms.

You can cure all this by not eating, by not putting any food in your stomach to ferment; but how about the nourishment needed to sustain your bodily strength? If you are a stomach sufferer, either man or woman, young or old, whether you call it indigestion or any other name, go now to your druggist and give 50 cents for a case of Pape's Diapepsin.

Every possible kind of Stomach trouble is readily cured by Diapepsin, which takes right hold of the food in your stomach and digests it alone, without the help of the stomach, just as if your stomach wasn't there.

After a few days' use of Diapepsin your Stomach will again be in good working order, your meals will thoroughly digest, and your intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will have no use for laxatives or liver regulators.

Cawston Ostrich Feathers

When you are the possessor of a Cawston Plume or Boa, you have something that with average care will last for many years.

Unlike the cheaper grades of feathers, which are not priced any lower than Cawston's, but made of the feathers of the female birds, which inferiority only appears after some weeks of wear, Cawston's are made of the finest selected stock of the male birds, which all experts know can only be used in the finest Plumes.

The Cawston trade-mark is attached to all the Cawston goods, and that means a guarantee that what you have paid for is the best that can be produced by bird and man.

The most skillful workers in the world are employed in preparing the Cawston feathers in our factory (the largest west of New York) in the farm at South Pasadena.

Your Old Ostrich Feathers

are handled by these same skilled hands and made to look like new Plumes.

They can be remodeled and redyed to match any hat or costume.

Have your old Plume made into the fashionable Willow effect at comparatively small cost.

NEAR DEATH IN MILK VAT.

Unexpected Plunge in Tank of Lacteal Fluid Almost Fatal at Artesia.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ARTESIA, April 14.—D. C. Ewing, milk collector for the Los Angeles Creamery Association, came close to losing his life yesterday morning. He was nearly drowned in a tank of skimmed milk. Mr. Ewing collects a wagonload of milk about Artesia every morning and hauls it to the Southern Pacific station north of town. There the milk that he brings is combined with that from other neighborhoods and put through a separator. The skimmed milk is run into a large tank, holding about 150,000 gallons.

In walking along the edge of this tank yesterday morning, while his milk was going through the separator, Mr. Ewing lost his footing and fell into the vat, which was nearly full of milk. As he could not swim he called for help, but as he was somewhat of a joker those in the building thought he was playing a prank on them, and paid no attention to the call until he had become almost exhausted.

Then they came to his relief and succeeded in getting him out of the milk. He was taken home, and is now nearly recovered from the accident.

NUT CROP PUT AT QUARTER LESS.

ESTIMATE MADE ON YIELD ABOUT EL MONTE.

It Is Possible That Output Will Exceed Present Figures as Trees Are in Fine Shape and Weather Conditions Have Been Perfect—Orchardists Have Prosperous Year.

EL MONTE, April 14.—As a basis for the purchase of hemp sacks, which are contracted for this season in the Calcutta, India, market, members of the Mountain View Walnut Growers' Association have completed a tentative estimate of this season's crop of nuts. It is placed at fifty cars of ten tons each, or about 23 per cent. less than last year.

It is possible that the crop will exceed the estimate. Trees are in prime condition, and weather conditions have been perfect. So far there has been no dropping, and the blight is not progressing. The lighter crop is due to the trees' habit of bearing heavier in alternate years. Only a small acreage of young trees come into bearing this season, but the output of the district will be increased by the crop of about 1000 acres of bearing trees next year.

The past season was the most prosperous in the experience of the local association. More than $125,000 was paid orchardists for their crop, the last three cars of which are now being loaded for shipment. The association has increased its facilities, and now has $8000 invested in buildings and equipment.

Ten new members have joined the association. At the annual election of officers, M. R. Williams was elected president and E. B. Jones, secretary and manager, for their eighth consecutive term.

Twelve thousand sacks will be required for the crop now on the trees. The average price paid by the association in past years is 15 cents each. By contracting for them in the spring a saving of 20 per cent. is effected.

INCREASE TRAIN SERVICE.

Santa Fe Gasoline Motors to Tap South Pasadena—Trustees Are Considering a New Plan.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 14.—This place is to have additional train service. It is the intention of the Santa Fé as soon as the new gasoline motors are put into operation to run one of these cars between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, and the schedules are now being arranged. The train will reach here about the middle of the afternoon.

The fourth and last attraction of the lecture and musical course arranged by the Ladies' Aid Society and the J.O.C.'s of the Methodist Church will be given tomorrow evening in the church auditorium. A concert, for which some of the best musical talent in this part of the State has been engaged, will be given. This will close what has been one of the best courses of its kind ever given in this city.

Mrs. Anna West, who recently sold her eight-room bungalow on Montrose avenue to Mrs. Alice J. Parsons of Los Angeles, for $3000, will leave tomorrow for New York City, her former home.

There is a plan on foot to hold the Trustees meetings every other Monday night, instead of every Monday evening, the alternate Monday nights to be devoted to committee meetings. The public will be given an opportunity to attend the latter meetings. It is believed this plan would expedite business greatly, and the chances are that it will be given a trial.

P. J. Dolan began the erection yesterday of a modern six-room bungalow at the corner of Marengo and Oxley streets, the interior to be arranged as nearly like his old home in Cleveland as possible.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE VIOLENT AT LONG BEACH.

Boy of Seventeen Breaks Down Mentally Under Strain of Overwork and Is Locked Up in Padded Cell at Seashore—He May Recover.

LONG BEACH, April 14.—John Lane, aged 17, is now in a padded cell at police headquarters, his mind gone as the result of overstudy in his senior year at High School in Mississippi. He graduahed with high honors only a few weeks ago, but immediately after showed signs of dementia.

His mother brought him to the Coast, hoping the change would benefit him, and has been stopping in Los Angeles. Monday she came to Long Beach with the boy and a nurse, and rented a small cottage near Ocean and Atlantic avenue. Last night the boy exhibited a violent form of dementia, and the neighbors called the police.

When the officers arrived young Lane was standing on his bed, glowering at the nurse, whom he had hurled into a corner. When he saw the officers he jumped from the bed and ran around the room on all fours like an animal. He was placed under restraint and taken to headquarters, but on the way kicked nearly the entire bed of the buggy to pieces.

Placed in the cell, he tore his mattress to pieces and this morning was squatted on a pile of excelsior like a squirrel, picking at his fingers. Today the mother secured a male guard and will take the boy to the mountains or to Catalina. Physicians say that with care the lad may recover his reason.

After being twice continued, the case of Roy N. Carr, charged with uttering a check without funds to meet it, was called before Justice Brayton this morning. The defendant failed to appear, and his bail bonds of $1000 was forfeited. A bench warrant will be issued for Carr's apprehension.

MAY END DISPUTE.

The appealed quo warranto case of Scholler versus the city of Long Beach will come up in the Supreme Court tomorrow morning, and perhaps settle the long-mooted question between San Pedro and this city as to which has jurisdiction over East San Pedro and Terminal. Long Beach has two Superior Court decisions and one Supreme Court decision in her favor, besides exercising jurisdiction for nearly five years. San Pedro has one Superior Court decision, on which the appeal has been taken.

W. T. Julian, who passed a forged check on a local firm, was captured in Los Angeles last night, and was today held in $1500 bail for preliminary hearing. Julian confesses the crime, and says there are about fifteen other forged checks in various cities of the county on which he secured money.

TAKE SCHOOL CENSUS.

Tomorrow morning Census Marshal Enloe and a corps of assistants will begin a canvass of the Long Beach school district, tabulating all children of school age. The census last year was not satisfactory, showing a falling off, when by all existing circumstances there should have been an increase.

Glenn Thorpe, a boy, was arrested this morning on a charge of rape, and held in $1000 bail for preliminary hearing. Young Thorpe is one of the boys accused of mistreating Mabel Rickey, a 14-year-old girl.

PRESBYTERY MEETS.

The annual spring meeting of the Los Angeles Presbytery began here last night, with 125 ministers from Southern California in attendance. Rev. S. P. Jordan of San Diego was elected moderator. Today the session was devoted to routine business, and reports from the various churches. At a meeting of the Presbytery Brotherhood tonight, Revs. Hugh K. Walker and W. B. Cantz made addresses.

REDUCTION PLEASES.

Local property owners seem to be pleased with reductions made in county valuations of taxable property. Last year the claim was made before the Supervisors that the county assessment was from 25 to 50 per cent. higher than other municipalities. A promise was made that an adjustment would be made this year, and the Assessor is carrying out that promise.

A party of local men leave tomorrow to secure the carcass of an eighty-foot whale, which died three weeks ago, and was cast up at a point on the beach.

TO RAISE MONEY.

A meeting of the stockholders of the defunct Citizens' Savings Bank will be held at the Council chamber tomorrow night to carry out their part of the agreement with the depositors by levying an assessment of $63,000, which will enable the bank to resume business.

The Home Telephone Company is installing pulpit telephones in all the local churches. The service will be free to all subscribers of the local exchange.

POMONA BUILDING BOOMING.

Street Improvement Work Is Also Being Pushed as Fast as Is Possible.

POMONA, April 14.—Street improvement work has taken a spurt in all parts of the city. Huntington boulevard is being graded in the Ganesha Park tract from Holt avenue to Orange Grove avenue. Cement sidewalks and curbing are being built in the tract west of Hamilton avenue, from Holt to Laurel avenues.

Sidewalks and curbing are also being laid on Francis and Wisconsin streets, and Orange Grove avenue. Work will soon commence on West Third and Fifth streets, and Hamilton avenue, and on Alvarado street from Towne to Garey avenues.

The foundation of the new $45,000 Christian Church is being rapidly built. Work is being rushed on the foundation for the $20,000 block of the Pomona Implement Company, and the first story of the $25,000 Masonic Temple is completed.

COVINA.

COVINA, April 14.—Mrs. Henry, an aged woman of Azusa, who caused her relatives much anxiety by wandering away from her home last evening, was found early this morning by Messrs. OCEAN PARK MEETING STRONG FOR CONSOLIDATION.

Petitions for Union of Municipalities to Be Circulated as Soon as the New Law Goes Into Effect Next Month—Speakers Discuss Various Phases of the Question.

OCEAN PARK, April 14.—The fourth of the beach city consolidation meetings in the Santa Monica Bay Chamber of Commerce's campaign of education was held in the Casino tonight. The affair was largely attended, and was enthusiastic from start to finish. President A. F. Webster turned the reins over to Judge George H. Hutton, who presided, and briefly introduced the speakers, the first of whom was Robert Dollard, a resident of Santa Monica.

Mr. Dollard said there is but one side to the consolidation question—that one city should be created out of Ocean Park and Santa Monica. He said he had studied the city charter of Santa Monica, and found the document a carefully drawn and able one. The beach would be better off with one government, and the charter is broad enough to cover a population ten times as large as the beach now contains. The cheapest government that will give the best results is the government for the people. The annexation of Ocean Park will add $5,000,000 to the city's assessable property. He said the discussion of the question is difficult, as the arguments against consolidation are not worthy of consideration. The people should stand for the principles of consolidation, and leave the details to be worked out later, should it be expected to ever build here a city of 50,000 or more.

Chairman Hutton said the consolidation question, as it is proposed to be worked out, would eventually include the city of Sawtelle. President A. J. Stoner of the Sawtelle Commercial Club was introduced, and said consolidation along broad lines meant success, but he was not in position to speak the sentiment of the Sawtelle people. He said Sawtelle is peculiarly situated, and that a campaign of education would be required, and that perhaps his neighbors might favor the annexation of Santa Monica and Ocean Park to Sawtelle.

Councilman Dromgold of Los Angeles was present and spoke briefly on the topic of the consolidation of the beach cities as it looks to an outsider. He said Los Angeles found a harbor necessary to her greatness, and it is for that reason that efforts are being made to annex San Pedro. The San Pedro annexation is a business proposition; San Pedro has the harbor and Los Angeles has the money to improve it.

"The only way in which we are able to do things in Los Angeles," he said, "is by pulling together. Everything is to be gained by being in accord. Along general lines, getting together is the thing to be done."

The speaker essayed the role of prophet—and said it will be but a few years before this will be the most prosperous section of the globe. Mr. Webster said this beach stands as much chance at this time to annex to Los Angeles as a dog with tallow legs has to successfully chase an asbestos cat through hades. He said this beach had not received an invitation to join Los Angeles.

Joseph H. Call of Los Angeles was to have been one of the speakers, but was detained at his home by illness and sent a letter of regret. In this he urged the benefits to follow consolidation and outlined the plan whereby tide water from the bay can be taken to within eight miles of the business center of Los Angeles, thus making an immense annual reduction in freights. But this plan of public docks, etc., he said, would continue to be opposed by the transportation interests.

Lee C. Gates of Los Angeles reviewed the seven years' battle for Congressional aid for a California harbor. San Pedro won; but although he took no interest in that fight, the speaker said his sympathies were with Santa Monica. He said if the bay district ever expects to develop its harbor, consolidation is necessary. The future must be cared for by far-sighted policy. The bay communities are tonight facing the future. Los Angeles is interested in what is done along the shores. Mr. Gates said he was not ready to discuss the borough system, but the time is coming when there will be a consolidation of city and county government. One of the benefits of consolidation is to cheapen government and make it more efficient. The speaker said he knew nothing of the local quarrels or petty jealousies of the beach, but he said the larger advantages of a greater municipality were apparent to all. He spoke of Santa Monica Bay as the most favored spot on the globe, and said that consolidation is manifest destiny, and that that destiny will one day force the consolidation into one great city of the several municipalities. It is not a question of petty questions. This matter of the consolidation of the beach villages is of broad scope and is a question of the future growth and prosperity of the beach district.

Following the speeches by those who appeared as "top liners," the meeting was thrown open to volunteers and a number of short talks were made by residents and property owners living at different points along the bay. The sentiment as expressed in favor of the consolidation of the cities of Ocean Park and Santa Monica was conclusive that the movement is gaining friends as the days pass. Mr. Webster said the new consolidation law will go into effect May 11. On that date the petition will be circulated and the City Trustees will be asked to call the election. "If consolidation fails this time," said Mr. Webster, "we will keep at it until we do win."

TONNAGE GROWS.

Notable Increase in Maritime Traffic at the Port of San Pedro Is Reported.

SAN PEDRO, April 14.—An increase of 11 per cent. is shown in the net tonnage of vessels that called at San Pedro in the first quarter of 1909 compared with the same three months in 1908. The total tonnage for the entire year of 1908 was 969,952 tons, while the tonnage for the first three months of this year was 310,000 tons. For the same three months last year the tonnage was 143,972 tons. The net tonnage has been steadily increasing ever since the first of the year.

John M. Peterson, for many years a resident of San Pedro, was found dead in his cabin on Fourth street this afternoon. He had taken carbolic acid. He was a native of Sweden, and lived alone. He was about 45 years old.

Charles Nicolai, cashier of the First National Bank, today received an autograph letter from the secretary of the King of Italy, acknowledging the receipt of a contribution of $181.50 from the Italians and other citizens of San Pedro for the sufferers in the Messina disaster.

ASK LOWER RATE.

Hollywood Property Owners Unanimously Adopt Resolution for Water Schedule.

HOLLYWOOD, April 14.—At a meeting of property owners held tonight in the City Hall to discuss with the City Trustees the question of water rates, a resolution was unanimously adopted asking that the rate be placed where it was two years ago, a minimum of $1.50 and ten cents per thousand gallons for the excess over 6000 gallons. The rate at present is $1.60 for the minimum and 15 cents per thousand gallons in excess of 6000 gallons.

The Union Hollywood Water Company which supplies this city has asked for an increase of 15 cents on the minimum and 5 cents on the excess. A committee of nine, including the five members of the Board of City Trustees, has been examining into the affairs of the company for the past two months in an endeavor to ascertain what would be a fair rate.

It is expected that this committee will make public its report within the next two weeks, after which it will be for the Trustees to fix the rate. Before this is done, however, the Trustees have agreed that a public meeting shall be called in order that the property owners may be heard in the matter.

EXONERATES CREW.

Carmen Declared by Coroner's Jury Not Responsible for Death on Trolley Track.

MONROVIA, April 14.—Accidental death was the verdict returned by the Coroner's jury today in the case of Charles Bridenbecker, the unfortunate painter who was struck early Monday morning by a Pacific Electric car on the bridge which spans the Santa Anita Wash and instantly killed.

Pictures of the approach to the bridge and the bridge itself were exhibited to the jury. The crew of the car, E. W. Knight, conductor, and Charles Chasey, motorman, testified that a curve in the track just at the approach to the bridge prevented the headlight illuminating the track for any considerable distance and that they were almost upon the man before the rays of the light struck him.

The jury was not entirely satisfied with the pictures and was taken in an auto out to view the bridge. The verdict exonerated the crew of all blame. It was also shown by witnesses who were with Bridenbecker at a late hour Sunday night in an Arcadia resort that he was at that time very much under the influence of liquor. It is supposed that he slipped and fell in crossing the bridge and was too stupefied to get up and continue his journey homeward. He was a member of the Woodman of the World and carried a small life insurance.

Chris Donovan, proprietor of "The White City," in Arcadia, which was recently destroyed by fire, has announced that he will immediately rebuild and re-open that resort.

REVOLVER VICTIM.

James Ditton, residing at the Melbourne rooming-house, No. 717 Fourth street, occupies a cot at the Agnew sanatorium as the result of careless handling of a loaded revolver. The weapon fell off a table and Ditton reached over to catch it before it reached the floor. The cartridge exploded and the bullet passed through his body. Dr. B. Northrup, who attended Ditton says he will probably recover.

BUYS SCHOOL SITE.

Rt. Rev. Bishop J. H. Johnson of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, yesterday purchased block 250, Horton's Addition, bounded by First, Quince, Redwood and Spruce streets. The property was purchased as the site of the new Bishop's school for girls, on the Scripps foundation. The price was [illegible].

Bishop Johnson announced that a group of mission style buildings will be erected for the school at an outlay of between $75,000 and $100,000. It is his aim to make the institution on a par with Smith or Wellesley or Bryn Mawr. The school itself has already been established in the Ada Smith residence on Kalmia street, and is in charge of Mrs. Charles Bentham, formerly of the Marlborough School, Los Angeles. It is Bishop Johnson's intention to convert the Smith residence into a boys' school as soon as the new girls' school is completed.

ARMY WEDDING.

A wedding of much interest in army and society circles took place at Christ Memorial Church, Coronado, this evening, when Miss Jessie Merrick Kneedler became the bride of Lieut. Richard [illegible] of the Fourteenth United States Cavalry. The Rev. Charles [illegible], rector of the church, performed the ceremony. A wedding reception was held at Hotel del Coronado. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary North and Miss Josephine Ellicott. Lieut. J. Burns of the Coast Artillery was the best man.

PROBES GRAFT.

The Finance Committee of the Common Council met in special session this afternoon to investigate the charge of graft alleged to exist among the street department employés. It is alleged the foremen of the ditch gangs have levied tribute from the men on threats of dismissal.

ISSUES BANK CHARTER.

The Comptroller of Currency at Washington has just issued a charter for the establishment of the Marine National Bank here. Lyman J. Gage, former Secretary of the Treasury, is the head of the new institution.

TREES FOR REDLANDS.

Report of Progress in Their Planting Is Presented to the Board of Trade.

REDLANDS, April 14.—At yesterday's meeting of the Board of Trade [illegible] Fisher, chairman of the Committee on Parks, Roads and Improvements, reported the work of planting trees had actually been begun, a line of trees having been set from the Santa Fé depot to the western city limits, pipes have been laid for watering the trees and they have been staked. The tree-planting enterprise was begun more than a year ago and now that the work has been begun it is supposed that the next few months will show a large number of shade and ornamental trees planted along public thoroughfares. The trees just planted are eucalyptus.

The road between Redlands and Highland in the wash section will probably be planted to trees after it has been widened and improved so as to make it more of a pleasure drive. Supervisors Horton and Glover propose taking up the matter of this improvement at once.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, April 14.—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Burton of Grand avenue entertained the Elsinore Valley Whist Club very pleasantly recently. The honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. Sibley Brown. Mrs. Lynn Boyd won the booby prize, and C. D. Pool the consolation. The guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lillie, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Sibley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Burton, Mrs. S. J. Powell and N. L. Dickson.

The young Grand avenue friends of Harry Tuel gave him a farewell surprise party last evening. About fifteen young people were present.

W. W. Montague, formerly of Elsinore, arrived here from Colton Monday. Mr. Montague's parents reside at Murietta.

Arrivals at the Elsinore Hotel are P. Gravalez, Riverside; J. E. Robinson, M. A. McCarroll, St. Louis; J. W. [illegible]vey, J. L. Passons, San Bernardino; Ethel Grenstell, Long Beach.

ELECT COMMISSIONERS.

United Presbyterian Presbytery Choose Representatives to General Assembly at Knoxville, Next Month.

SANTA ANA, April 14.—The Los Angeles United Presbyterian presbytery, including all the United Presbyterian churches in Southern California, in session here today, elected commissioners to attend the general assembly of the church to be held at Knoxville, Tenn., the latter part of May. The commissioners chosen are: Rev. John M. Ross, Huntington Park; Rev. P. L. Welsh, Redlands, and Rev. W. L. C. Samson, San Diego; alternates, Rev. J. F. Ross, Harvard Heights; Rev. S. J. Shaw, San Diego; Rev. E. S. McKitcrick, Pasadena. Dr. J. M. Ross was elected to sit with the Committee on Missions. Rev. J. S. Cole of Riverside presided as moderator at the conference here.

Twenty-five delegates were present at the conference. This afternoon they were taken on an automobile ride through the groves and orchards of Tustin, Hewes Hill and Orange. The conference closed tonight.

The delegation of Orange county men who yesterday appeared in the office of Capt. Amos Fries, United States engineer at Los Angeles, were much encouraged by his statement that he would recommend to the War Department that the application of the Newport Land Company to fill in portions of Newport Bay be denied. The company fill would narrow the channel to 600 feet. Capt. Fries said he would recommend that the channel be kept 1500 feet wide, at the point where the fill is proposed.

The Board of Education has called a school bond election for May 12 to consider $25,000 for High School purposes and $50,000 for grammar school purposes. The bonds will bear 4½ per cent. The polls are to be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until sundown.

HAPPY ENDING.

BLUE MOON MAID WEDS DESIGNER.

MARRIAGE WINDS UP VISIT TO SAN BERNARDINO.

Theatrical Contract Which Stood in Her Way Expires and St. Louis Sweetheart Persuades Her to Sign to Play in His Company for Life. Big Water Suit.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 14.—Miss Ida Caroline Ferngren of Chicago, ended her four weeks' residence in Southern California by becoming the wife of Clarence Warren Brown, a well-known art decorator and designer of St. Louis. The wedding took place at the Congregational parsonage here today.

Miss Ferngren has been with the "Blue Moon" company for four years, joining the troupe at New York. Her romance with Brown commenced in Chicago, where Brown was engaged in decorating the theater.

He followed her to New York, but their paths separated when he was called to St. Louis to take a large contract at a theater there. Miss Ferngren's contract prevented marriage. But a week after it expired Brown started west.

BIG WATER SUIT.

After four years of litigation the big suit of the Cucamonga Vineyard Company against the San Antonio Water Company will probably end the taking of testimony this week. The suit has at stake property valued in the millions, and is the biggest water suit ever tried in the State. The cost of the litigation will reach $50,000.

The plaintiffs sue to enjoin the water company from operating its wells in the vicinity of Cucamonga Springs, claiming that the springs have been dried up by the wells. From these springs irrigation water has been obtained to place under cultivation hundreds of acres of orange and other fruit land. The plaintiffs claim that this large area will become practically valueless in case the suit goes against them. On the other hand the water company from its wells, supplies Ontario and Upland.

MILLIONS OF LADYBUGS.

Coachella Valley has now an additional population of 5,000,000—ladybugs. This big colony was brought in to the valley under the State Board of Horticultural Commission's authority, and will aid the farmers in reducing the insect pests which have given cause for worry in the past.

BRAVE WOMAN PASSES.

Mrs. John Hansen, wife of the caretaker at Skyland, a resort in the San Bernardino Mountains, died yesterday morning of pneumonia, after a brief illness. She was widely known throughout the southern portion of the State. On several occasions she displayed unusual pluck, at one time routing two highwaymen who had attempted to wrest a sack of coin from her.

MURDER SUSPECTS HELD.

Six Mexicans Present at Drunken Row in Fullerton Sentenced for Disturbing the Peace.

FULLERTON, April 14.—The six Mexicans who were arrested on suspicion, following the drunken row at Placentia last Wednesday night, in which Manuel Clivas and Sotero Miranda were killed, were today sentenced to ninety days apiece in the County Jail. As yet the officers have been unable to get anything definite concerning the murder of the two men. They are satisfied that one or more of the six shot the men now dead, but all were drunk. All pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace. The District Attorney will investigate the matter, and if he finds sufficient evidence will file complaints of murder.

Mr. Zimmer of Long Beach has purchased the Gibbs place in Placentia, formerly owned by the late James East. Mr. Gibbs and family will probably locate in Honolulu.

D. V. Bangle of La Habra, has sold his ten acre improved place and will build on the property, recently purchased from G. H. Parker.

COLTON.

COLTON, April 14.—Solomon E. Stark has bought of H. C. Johnson through the Garrett and Lister Agency a modern five-room house and lot, 75x150 feet on Colton avenue, east of Mt. Vernon avenue for $1050.

Pablo Reyes and Louis Juarez were fined $5 each this morning in Justice Hanna's court on a charge of petit larceny.

Edward Fouch of Santa Monica arrived in Colton for a visit today.

Miss Marguerite Metcalf of Highlands, is a guest at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. E. Castle, in Eighth street.

DISAGREED.

PHOENIX AND TEMPE RIVALS.

SECTIONAL DISPUTE OVER SALT RIVER BRIDGE.

Two Routes for Highway Have Opposing Recommendations—Independent Telephone System Progressing — Democrats at Phoenix Letting Election Go by Default.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 13.—A sectional fight that is developing bitterness has begun between Tempe and Phoenix over the question of the location of a bridge across Salt River, a matter to be settled by vote at a county election soon to be held. The direct route between the two towns, on the turnpike now traveled, would include a bridge at Tempe, about where the Southern Pacific and Santa Fé railroad companies placed their bridges, at the narrowest point of the river channel. But the business men of Phoenix have contributed about $50,000 toward the cost of a bridge just south of their city, in order that a large farming district to the south may be reached in time of high water and that provision be made for the crossing of a trolley line that yet will connect Phoenix with Tempe and Mesa. In all of this the people of Tempe see an attack upon their commerce and industries, and deep resentment is shown. Thus far no bonus has been offered in Tempe for the construction of a bridge at that point, though it is urged that the Center-street bridge, below Phoenix, would be on a route a couple of miles longer than the one now used and that its construction would involve also the expenditure of many thousands of dollars in the building of a new macadamized road. Saturday the people of Tempe met in a sort of picnic mass meeting, under the auspices of the Tempe Board of Trade, and determined to stand together in favor of the local bridge site.

At Mesa, work in earnest has been started on the new independent telephone system, which is to cover the town and surrounding farming district in the most thorough manner. This opposition to the regular Sunset system has been carefully planned and is designed to cover the entire Salt River Valley including Phoenix, Tempe, Mesa, Scottsdale, Glendale and Peoria. Installation of the competing line in Phoenix will be dependent upon the result of a franchise election to be held soon in the city.

George U. Young, lately appointed Secretary of Arizona, has returned to his home near Prescott from Washington. Advices from Prescott indicate that he will appoint as his assistant secretary R. A. Kirk of Cochise county, late secretary of the Territorial Fair Commission. It is also told that J. C. Adams had not been an applicant for the Marshalship of Arizona and that a strong movement had been started in the North looking toward the appointment of John Mason Ross of Prescott as successor to Judge Sloan on the Northern district bench.

Walter C. Kellogg, for years a newspaper writer on the Coast, yesterday was committed to the Territorial Asylum for the Insane. He is a cocaine fiend. Another commitment was of Frank Hanson, who suddenly became insane at Maricopa, while on his way from Georgia to Phoenix.

A large part of the Democratic city ticket appears to be allowing the election to go by default. There is no candidate for recorder and the candidates for Mayor and Assessor have refused to recognize their nominations.

Charles A. Stauffer, Republican nominee for Councilman from the First Ward, has closed up one campaign before entering upon another. He was quietly married Saturday night to Miss Edith Louise Bennett, daughter of ex-Mayor Walter Bennett, a part of the lack of ostentation being due to a desire to escape the attentions of the Bachelors' Club, from which Mr. Stauffer thus summarily separated himself. The best man was James McB. Irvine, who came from Los Angeles to be in attendance. The bridesmaid was Miss Ruth Jessop. Mr. Stauffer is manager of the Valley Realty Company, but for years was connected with the Phoenix Republican. The bride is a graduate of the Girls' Collegiate Institute of Los Angeles.

Ethan Allen Chase, a prominent Riverside, Cal., orange grower, was a late visitor to the Salt River Valley, closely investigating the capability of the district for citrus culture. He was much pleased with what he saw, but urged upon the growers the necessity for guarding against the introduction of insect pests.

The new Board of Embalmers, provided for by the last Legislature, has been organized in Phoenix by the election of O. C. Parker of Prescott as Chairman and H. M. Maus of Prescott as secretary.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trade, held this afternoon, a cordial invitation was adopted, by resolution, to be sent the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, whose directors are understood to be preparing for a special excursion to this city in the near future. A similar invitation has been voted by the Arizona Club.

The Indian Bureau is preparing to send a large number of Indian boys from reservation and industrial schools into the Salt River Valley for harvest work this summer.

THE FAIRBANKS ITINERARY.

According to the itinerary made for former Vice-President Fairbanks, who has been visiting his son at Pasadena, by the German-American Savings Bank, his journey around the world, on which he will sail from San Francisco tomorrow on the Chiyo Maru, will not end until he reaches New York May 6, 1910. His final decision was to not visit the South Pacific and he will sail direct for Japan after visiting Honolulu. The party, which includes Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and their daughter, Mrs. John W. Timmons, will reach Vienna March 7, next, and spend from that date until April 30 touring continental Europe and the British Isles.

W. W. Modellius and wife and Miss Modellius, wealthy residents of Vancouver, B. C., are guests at the Lankershim.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good and I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without this medicine in the house."—Mrs. SAM'L LEE, 3528 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Operation Avoided.

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—LENA V. HENRY, R. F. D. 3.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

SURPRISE.

PASADENA GETS SILVER TROPHY.

COMPANY I, FIRST BATTALION, WINS IT AT DRILL.

"Crown City" Spectators Cheer When Result Is Announced—Companies A and C Defeated by Narrow Margins—Colonel of Seventh Regiment Given Portrait.

The competitive drill of the First Battalion, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., for the silver cup presented by Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski, was won last night by Company I of Pasadena. It defeated by only a narrow margin Companies A and C of this city, each of which have won the cup twice.

The contest was of greater interest than usual, as the cup becomes the permanent property of the company winning it three times. It was expected that either Company A or Company C would take it, but Capt. C. F. Hutchins, of Company I, had been drilling his men every night for the past month, and the result surprised the others.

Lieut.-Col. S. M. Saltmarsh, Maj. L. Collins of Pasadena, and Maj. L. L. Vestal, all officers of the Seventh Regiment, acted as judges.

Company A, under command of Capt. A. J. Copp, Jr., was the first to appear on the floor. The drill was governed by orders prepared in advance but not issued until last night.

Capt. Copp's men were well disciplined and carried out the orders in less time than any of the other companies. Company I next took the floor and drilled with the greatest precision. Company F under Capt. F. B. Braiden, was handicapped by several new men but made a very creditable showing.

Company C, commanded by Capt. A. C. F. Dee, had as fine a first sergeant as ever appeared in the armory. He was formerly a member of the Twenty-eighth Infantry, U.S.A.

After the drill, Col. William G. Schreiber assembled the battalion, which is under the command of Maj. Truman Cole, in a hollow square, and Lieut.-Col. Saltmarsh announced that Co. I had won the cup. The Pasadena spectators in the gallery cheered wildly.

Brig.-Gen. Wankowski presented the trophy and said:

"I take this occasion to publicly thank the members of the Legislature and the Governor for their acts in behalf of the National Guard. The Legislature passed a bill appropriating $100,000 for an armory in this city, and the Governor signed it. This is the first move toward providing permanent homes for the militia in this State.

"I want to especially thank the members of the Finance, War and Appropriation Committees for their work for the bill, and I hope that similar bills for armories in other cities will be passed by the next Legislature."

After the cheering had subsided the general praised the work of Col. Schreiber during the fifteen years he has been connected with the National Guard, and presented that officer with a framed portrait of himself in fatigue uniform. It was a present from the non-commissioned officers of the First Battalion.

POWER BOAT SUCCESS.

PORT CLINTON (O.) April 14.—The new government power boat Lieutenant W. C. Neary, built by the War Department, was given its trial trip on Lake Erie today. The test was successful. The boat will be used by the Quartermaster's Department of the United States army. Three other such boats will be constructed here. Each is sixty feet in length with a displacement of twenty-five tons.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Orange county shipped in the first blackberries of the season. They sold at 20 cents a basket on the local market yesterday morning. The crop outlook on blackberries is good and the first berries are of good quality. Strawberries broke again, and sold from 3 to 5 cents, a cent lower on the best grades than the day previous. The demand was not large enough to move all the arrivals. In order to relieve the market, a car of berries was shipped to Seattle, the first car to go beyond San Francisco and the third entire car to be shipped out of Los Angeles. Loquats also broke sharply in quotations. They sold from 5 to 8 cents a pound, a decline from 2 to 3 cents in a day. The crop is good but is later by several weeks than it was last year.

Egg prices were unaltered. The sales were not very heavy, and receipts only 443 cases. Eastern arrivals were large, and up to the present time about thirty cars have been placed in storage.

Butter was one of the more active commodities, and sales of creamery extras and firsts were heavy. The market was steady on these grades. Cooking butter was weaker as shown by several sales and the price on it was lowered to 20 cents a pound. Receipts of butter were 13,908 pounds.

Northern fresh cheese advanced ½ cent on the demand, and the fact that there is not much of it on the market. There was little movement of cheese. The market on eastern varieties is firm. No arrivals were reported.

Potatoes moved slowly and the market was very firm. Arrivals have been very light in the past two weeks and yesterday, they only numbered a car from the central part of the State.

Onions are going slowly with the higher prices on Australian Browns. Arrivals are still small. Bean receipts were not reported and the market was firm on all kinds. Pinks advanced 25 cents, making the present selling price $3.50 a hundred.

Mexican tomatoes were scarce for the first time in the season. A car which was expected to arrive yesterday morning, went through to San Francisco where the market is cleaned up on tomatoes. It was expected that this car would be sidetracked here, until notice of the through billing was given. The tomatoes as a result, sold as high as $1.50 a crate. Cucumbers were a trifle scarce while lettuce was in actual glut and a great amount of it was thrown away.

Asparagus was weak on the white variety and firm on green. The latter advanced to 8 cents a pound while the former sold as low as 2 cents. Bunch goods, without exception were plentiful. The prices of all of them was steady. Chives sold at $1 a dozen and are still arriving exclusively from the north.

Walnuts are moving better again and there are less than 250 tons of the nuts left in the State according to the report of one of the large brokerage companies. Prices are firming up and a rise may be looked for.

MARKET FALLS AS BEARS POUND.

PRACTICALLY THE ENTIRE LIST CLOSES LOWER.

Last Day of Trading in Union Oil Rights Sees Slight Advance Made in Price, Evidently Effort of Shorts to Cover—New Company's Shares Listed.

Bearish influences seemed to be at work in the investment market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Practically the entire list of active issues closed with fractionally lower quotations.

Union rights were the center of attraction on both calls. On the morning session there was a tendency to sell off, but some short covering set in and the rights closed one point higher than on Tuesday. As today will be the last on which these rights may be used, there will be no more trading in them. The close was 8.00 bid, evidently the effort of shorts to cover.

Union Oil was weaker again as on Tuesday, with the close a ¼ point below that day's asked price at 103.25. No bid was posted. Sales amounted to one share at 102.25 on the morning session, and to thirty shares at 103.00 on the afternoon. Union Provident was quoted at 101.00 bid, off 1½ points, and United Petroleum closed at 102.50@105.00, off 1½ and 2 points, respectively. None sold.

Associated Oil slipped off to a close at 36.00@36.50, showing declines of ⅜ and ⅛ respectively, compared with Tuesday's prices. Trading amounted to ten shares only, at 36.25.

Olinda Land sold at 22½ on the morning session, and closed at 22½@22¾, off ½ and up ¼, respectively. Globe Oil closed at 22@24, off 1¼, and unchanged compared with the previous close. None sold.

Home Telephone preferred was also lower than on the previous session, closing without a sale, at 61.00@64.00, off 1¾ and up 1 point in the asked price. The common was quoted at 15.00@18.00, off ½ point in each figure. Fifty shares of Los Angeles Investment stock were sold at 2.60, closing issue at 2.60 bid, up 5 points. Pasadena Home closed at 35.00 asked, off 5 points. The same slump is noted in the asking price on Riverside Home. Both these stocks closed without a bid.

One Union Transportation bond sold at 93¼. Sales of mining stocks were light, and included only 3000 shares of Searchlight Parallel at 3¼@3¾, and 500 Johnnie Mining and Milling at 19¾.

The stock of the Wellman Oil Company has been listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The company is incorporated under the laws of California, with a capital of $500,000, par value at $100 each. About 1700 shares are issued, and 3300 are still in the treasury. The company has paid $50,000 on account for a quarter section in the Sunset oil district. The company will begin drilling at once, and is placing its stock at $80 a share.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

BUYING ORDERS MUCH MISSED.

AND CHEAPER STOCKS AFFECTED PARTICULARLY.

Wingfield Fails to Give Support and Market Suffers from Depression. Reaction Not, However, of Great Importance—Evidence That Northern Camps Are "Making Good."

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 524 Citizens' National Bank Bldg.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Wingfield did not appear at the exchange today, and the market eased off in consequence. The absence of supporting orders was felt particularly in the cheaper stocks, and some of the courageous bears took advantage of the opportunity to put out a limited line of shorts. The reaction was not of great importance, however.

There was continued demand for the Tonopahs, with few offerings. Buyers are finding out that they will have to bid considerably higher before they will be able to increase their holdings.

Goldfield Consolidated closed 15 points off from last night, and 7½ points below the opening; Florence closed the same as yesterday; Daisy lost 2 points; Great Bend was up a point; Jumbo Extension was unchanged; Fraction lost 5 points from last night, while Sandstorm, Columbia Mountain and Kendall were unchanged.

There was some action in Booth, which was up 2 points from last night. Silver Pick opened at 35 bid, and closed at 30 bid, 4 points off from last night. This stock has had a rise of 30 cents in the past few days, and it is quite natural that profit takers should be in evidence.

Coalition opened at 32 bid, and closed at 34 bid, up 5 points from yesterday. There was no change in Rawhide Queen, Nevada Hills or Round Mountain.

It is understood that the Combination Fraction meeting will be again postponed, as it will be impossible for Wingfield to reach Goldfield tomorrow.

The Round Mountain clean up for March amounted to $40,000, and the total output for last year, to $350,000.

That the northern camps are making good is evidenced by the fact that the Nevada-California Power Company is to extend its electric power lines to Manhattan and Round Mountain, and that the construction is already under way.

Shipments were resumed today from the Hampton Stope of Combination No. 1. A strike is reported on the 300 level on the Great Bend property, running $108 ton. A very important uncovering of high-grade ore in new ground has just been made on the 300-foot level of the Lucky Boy claim on the Jumbo property. The ore is directly south of the Red Top. This extends the proven boundaries of the rich-ore zone.

Following are the closing bid and asked prices, with sales on the formal call:

STOCK MARKET IN QUIET MOOD.

NOTABLE LACK OF ANIMATION IN WALL STREET.

In View of Admittedly Impaired Condition of Winter Wheat Extra Interest Centers in Spring Crop; Sensitive Situation Is Reflected on Floor of Exchange.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—There was a notable lack of animation in the stock market today. In view of the admittedly impaired condition of the winter wheat crop, extra interest centers in the preparations for the spring wheat crop.

The advices from the spring wheat region today were of unpropitious conditions for seeding owing to the inclement weather. The sensitive condition of the wheat market in its highly speculative state emphasizes the effect of new of the crop in that market and by reflection in the stock market. Some of the selling of stocks today was accompanied by professions of growing anxiety over the year's crop out turn, upon which much admittedly depends for the continuance of the restoration of prosperity.

The extension of the long interest in stocks in the course of the prolonged rise adds to the vulnerability of the market and the professionals are watchful for opportunities to attack the bull position and the attempts to force speculative liquidation by depressing prices and exhausting margins. These attempts were but partially successful, in view of the vantagepoint of the lower price level already established in yesterday's trading.

Some slight unsettlement in the opening dealings was due to fears of the effect of the Turkish troubles. This selling appeared to come from local sources in anticipation of foreign selling, but when it appeared that London was buying stocks in this market, the early depression was overcome.

The New York money rate on call loans touched 2¼ per cent.

The market closed with a sensational demonstration in the coalers, but the tone of the general list was irregular up to the last.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $4,160,000. United States 2's coupon and the 3's advanced 1-4 per cent. on call.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 112 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, April 14.—The market made a full response to Liverpool today, which came better than was due, and prices advanced rapidly to new high records for the season. Liquidation, while in evidence, was in smaller volume and sales were quickly absorbed by commission houses, which seemed to have plenty of buying orders to be executed on any moderate decline. There were no rains of consequence in the belt. The more conservative traders are inclined to be cautious about further commitments on the long side after so extensive and so rapid advance.

Logan & Bryan's cotton letter follows: "Higher cables, poor weather, and shorts covering carried cotton to new high levels and during the entire day immense liquidation of long cotton was noted. The cotton market has no bull leader, and no intensified long interest in any one man's hands. Its progress toward higher prices has been an unaided one. In fact the resistance offered in the early part of this recent advance was very pronounced and the course of the market from 10 cents to 11 cents will encounter very much less resistance than it did between 9.25 and 9.75. The situation in Texas is a gloomy one, and if the recent rains were adequate, which is possibly the case in but a few sections, the crop of that State would be certainly three weeks late, and probably greatly curtailed in size, as compared with the previous crop. Unless it does rain in Texas within the next fortnight every option of cotton will sell above 11 cents."

Greene, of Hutton, says: "Early cables are down about as due. The feeling here is still bullish. Reports from Texas show a great improvement in crop outlook. I would sell the market on every ten points advance. Ports were 21,000 bales against 18,000 last week, and 12,000 last year."

Hill says: "On this 7 point break, I tell you to get in. What difference does a few points make? This is too cheap for such an article. If you will raise the selling prices on your cotton ten points or cancel your selling orders you will see cotton commence climbing again.

"The entire western portion of the cotton map looks clear and fine with no rain in sight. The Northwest weather is mostly clear and cool."

The forecast for North Carolina and South Carolina is cooler and fair, Georgia, Florida, fair and cooler; Alabama and Mississippi fair, warmer.

Cotton weather: Ardmore, San Antonio, Gainesville, Dallas, Marshall, Paris, Fort Worth, Little Rock, Helena, Sherman, Waco, Texarkana, Houston, Galveston, clear and fine. Shawnee cloudy. Shreveport, Vicksburg, Natchez, Greenville, clear, fine. New Orleans, Monroe, Memphis, clear and cool.

NERVOUSNESS IN WHEAT PIT.

PRICES MOVE OVER WIDE RANGE IN DAY'S TRADING.

Leading Longs in May Belt Sell Freely Causing Considerable Buying by Shorts—Demand for July Based Largely on Unfavorable Crop Reports from Missouri.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 14.—Extreme nervousness marked trading in the wheat pit and prices moved over a wide range. There was no indication early in the session that the market would continue its record-breaking performance of the last two weeks, but on the contrary the climax to the sensational upturn in prices seemed to have been reached, at least for a time. Owing to a decline of ⅜ to 1¼d at Liverpool, the market here opened weak, with prices unchanged to ⅝ below yesterday's closing. Initial quotations on May were at 1.27 to 1.27¼ and on July at 1.15⅝ to 1.16.

Several of the leading longs in the May wheat belt sold freely early in the session, which caused considerable buying by shorts. This resulted in May advancing to 1.28 and July to 1.17. Much of the demand for July was based on unfavorable crop reports from Missouri. Continued urgent demand for the cash grain at advancing prices was responsible to some extent for the fresh bulge in May. During the greater part of the day a very nervous feeling was manifested, with the May delivery showing the greatest buoyancy. This was partly accounted for by a falling off in primary receipts and by statistics which showed a marked decrease in exports from the United States during March.

Sentiment in the pit became exceedingly bullish in the final hour and shortly before the close, May rose to 1.29, while July advanced to 1.18⅛. There was some reaction from the top on profit-taking, but the close was excited and strong, with May at 1.28⅝ and July at 1.17⅝@1.17¾.

Advances of from 1 to 2 marked proceedings in the corn market. During the day May sold between 65½ and 66¾. The market closed at the top, with May showing a net gain of 2, at 66¾.

Oats shared in the strength of wheat and corn and prices at the close were up ½ to 1, compared with the previous close. Shorts were active bidders all day. The range on May was between 53⅞@53½ and 55, and the close at 54⅞@55.

Provisions were rather weak at the start, but rallied early and continued firm the balance of the session. At the close, prices were a shade lower to 7½@10 higher.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour, easy; No. 2 rye, 79@80; feed or mixing barley, 62@63; fair to choice malting, 63½@65; flax seed, No. 1 southwestern, 1.56 3-4; No. 1 northwestern, 1.66 3-4; timothy seed, 3.70@3.80; clover, 9.60; mess pork, per bbl., 18.10@18.15; lard, per 100 lbs., 10.32½; short ribs, sides (loose) 9.30; short clear sides, (boxed) 9.62½@9.75.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building.]

BOSTON, April 14.—North Butte was the center of interest. In this Lawson manipulation, short selling and catching of stop-orders caused a weak market. There was not much genuine liquidation, however, and we believe when the shorts attempt to cover, they will find the stock rather scarce, and we think it can be safely bought at the opening tomorrow for a turn. The remainder of the market was unaffected by the action of North Butte, and closed without much change. Would not favor purchases except on good reactions. MYSTERY.

MEXICAN GONE; PALS ARRESTED.

RAZORS AND WINE FIGURE IN BLOODY AFFRAY.

Ventura County Officers Find Clothes of Missing Man, Hideously Cut With Knives, But No Trace of Body—Companions Say He Walked Away After Stabbing.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, April 14.—Four Mexican wood cutters, a couple of razors and a five-gallon jug of red wine entered into a bloody combination in a shanty at the west end of town last night. Today three of the men are in the County Jail awaiting a serious charge, and the town marshal has the razors and a suit of bloody clothing. The fourth man is not to be found. Whether he is alive or dead is not known. If he is dead, the three arrested must face a charge of murder.

The four men gathered at the shanty last night, with the jug of wine. Tiburcio, Torres, Zacetcas C. Castro, Juan Marcos and P. Alvarez proceeded to celebrate. The fight in which the cutting took place is said to have occurred at about 9 o'clock. Torres is the missing man.

The wounded man's clothing shows a deep cut through the back of the coat, shirt and undershirt on the right side, from which blood flowed in a stream. According to the stories told the officers, the man lay down on a lounge in the shanty after he was cut; and then, early in the night, got up, changed his clothes and started on foot for the Canet ranch, seven miles from town, where he was employed. He had no medical attendance.

He had not reached the ranch this afternoon, nor could the officers find any trace of him on the road. A man cut as he must have been, judging from the slashes in the clothes and the blood spilled, could not have walked the distance Torres is alleged to have gone. Without medical aid he would have bled to death on the road, it is likely.

It is thought, therefore, either that the man has been made away with, or that friends of the men arrested have him in hiding somewhere. Castro, Marcos and Alvarez will be held, pending his discovery—or the finding of his body.

NOTES.

The Supervisors have elected Dr. T. E. Cunnane to succeed Dr. F. H. Huning as county physician, and L. Cagnacci to succeed Lee Wilson as superintendent of the County Hospital.

The Sunset Telephone line between Ventura and Nordhoff is to be rebuilt.

Miss Barbara Chrisman, a well-known Ventura society girl, is visiting Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. A. Edwards, a pioneer resident of Ventura, now resident of Los Angeles, is visiting the family of G. W. Chrisman.

Edwin Ginn of Boston, brother of the millionaire publisher, who died at Nordhoff lately, has qualified in the Superior Court to serve as executor of his late brother's estate.

TOWN'S EARLY ONES ORGANIZE.

SANTA MONICA PIONEERS GET TOGETHER.

Arrange for Their Annual Meeting to Be Held on the Anniversary of the First Lot Sale There—Handsome Home and Clubhouse in Prospect.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA MONICA, April 14.—The Society of Pioneers of Santa Monica has completed its organization by the adoption of a constitution and the election of permanent officers thus: E. J. Vawter, president; T. H. Elliott and S. F. Carpenter, vice-presidents; J. J. Carrillo, secretary; C. S. Dales, treasurer, and W. S. Vawter, J. C. Steele, H. X. Goetz and Mrs. M. W. Gardner, directors.

All persons who have resided in this city since 1888 may become members. The association starts with an enrollment of about one hundred. The annual meeting is to be held on July 15, which is the date of the first lot sale held here. Mrs. Arcadia M. de Baker and former United States Senator John P. Jones have been elected honorary members. There is every encouragement to hope that at an early date the society will have a handsome permanent home and clubhouse, the gift of some of the founders of the city. This memorial is under consideration and with such a collection of relics of the early days as might be gathered would prove interesting also as a museum and treasure house of history.

BAILIE-HOWELL.

The handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hamburger, at the corner of Ocean and Montana avenues, in the Palisades, was the scene this evening of a brilliant wedding party, when Miss Florence M. Howell became the bride of Hubert C. Bailie of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Vaughan of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the presence of relatives and near friends, and in the midst of a profusion of floral decorations.

Immediately following the celebration of the nuptials a wedding supper was served, and a little later the honeymoon party departed for a visit to Coronado. After a few weeks spent at the southern resorts, the couple will return to this city for the summer season, and in the fall will go to Los Angeles, where they will reside permanently. The bride is a sister of Mrs. D. A. Hamburger and the groom is a professional man of Los Angeles.

PREPARING CANYON.

Under direction of Frank Lawton, the work of placing the Santa Monica Cañon resort in condition for the accommodation of the summer picnics and near-to-nature visitors, has been begun. The Los Angeles-Pacific trolley line is coöperating in this work and the roads and trails will be permanently improved. Large crowds are expected during the visit of the Elks and while the automobile road races are in progress, and attractive bids will be made for the several secret and fraternal society picnics that are an annual event with numerous of the Los Angeles organizations.

The work of installing an independent wireless telegraph station on the highest mountain peak back of Coal Cañon on the Malibu coast is to be commenced in a few days. Inventor Zimmerlee of Hill street has been experimenting for several months with devices of his own invention along these lines and has an experimental station in operation at the beach. On the Malibu mountain peak at an elevation of 1800 feet a mast will be raised. This is expected to catch any messages that may be drifting over the sea from the west, north or south. From the mountain station the word is to be flashed to the station on the strand, with which the instruments will be in tune.

BIG FEES CUT DOWN.

Texas Attorney Given $80,000 Instead of $390,000 for Prosecuting Oil Case.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Supreme Court today reversed and remanded the case of the State of Texas against John W. Brady, prosecuting attorney of this county, in which is involved the fees collected by Mr. Brady in anti-trust suits. The court holds that Mr. Brady is entitled only to fees collected under the anti-trust law of 1903 and not the law of 1899. Mr. Brady's fees, had the court upheld his contention in the case, would have amounted to $390,000 in the suits against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, in which penalties aggregating $1,623,000 and interest, amounting to about $70,000, has been received under the decision today.

He will receive only $80,000 of the fees in this case. Of this sum he is under contract to give J. P. Gruett of St. Louis, former secretary of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, one-third, or $26,666, for testimony which he furnished in the case. Mr. Gruett would have received $130,000 had the court today decided in favor of Mr. Brady.
